Some people are queer. We met a neighbor the other day and he says, "Hello! What is the weather going to be? Is it going to rain?" Now, that makes us hot. Andrew Nelson, the electrician, finished wiring the new Arcade theater last week. The stage is a veritable net work of wires heavily insulated, every joint soldered and wrapped with tape and all switches and other connections are carefully mounted on asbestos, which renders the danger of fire from this source very slight, in fact, practically impossible. Society Notes

By Mrs. W. C. Conner.

Mrs. Roy Short and sister, Miss Mabel Veatch were joint hostesses to about 20 friends at a Kensington and apron shower at the home of Mrs. Short last Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Jennie Smith an early December bride. The parlors were decorated with cut bouquets of chrysanthemums and a two course luncheon was served, consisting of sandwiches, salad, olives, marshmallow pudding with whipped cream, cake and coffee. The tables were beautifully draped with white chiffon suspended from the ceiling and one table was adorned with a large brides cake, which Miss Smith was requested to cut. The place cards bore miniature pictures of the bride elect. The aprons were produced after the luncheon and presented to Miss Smith who put them all on, 20 in number.

Mrs. B. R. Jobb entertains this afternoon with a tea in honor of Miss Smith.

In spite of the inclement weather of last Wednesday, the experience social held by the Ladies Aid of the Christian church in the church parlors was an unqualified success, both socially and financially. A goodly number were present and many varied and amusing ways were related by the ladies in acquiring their "dollar." A prize was offered for the most unique experience, and was carried off by Mrs. Laura McFarland. At the close of the social hour dainty refreshments were served, which all enjoyed greatly, after which all wended their way to their several homes, feeling that a pleasant oasis had been reached in the desert of life.

The boys' class of the Presbyterian Sunday school will meet at the manse Thursday evening for a good time.

The Boston Restaurant served an oyster supper to twenty-five members of the local military company last Friday evening at the expense of W. B. Cooper who lost out in the big rifle shoot of that day. The Boston restaurant is always equal to such occasions, and is enjoying a full share of business.
