

Glasses

An Optician of professional standing is bound to refrain from self praise. I do not claim to be the "best on earth" but I do insist that I am a good optician, that I know my business and that you can safely intrust your eyesight to my care. I shall be pleased to fit glasses for you and guarantee satisfaction.

Society Notes

By Mrs. W. C. Conner.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. DeSpain at high noon on Christmas day, Dec. 25, 1913, the contracting parties being their youngest daughter Miss Myrtle and Mr. Henry T. Jorgensen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jorgensen, of this city. At the bride's request no flowers were used in the decorations, which were of green and white, myrtle being used in the color scheme quite profusely, this being the bride's name and also bearing the significant meaning "together forever." The bride looked charming in a pretty wedding gown of white embroidered net over white messaline. The couple was unattended as they took their place under a beautiful green and white arch, where the impressive wedding ceremony was conducted by Rev. M. Howard Fagan in the presence of only members of the immediate families of the bride and groom and two intimate friends of the bride, Misses Maude Lamson and Verna Hawkins. A splendid Christmas dinner followed the ceremony after hearty congratulations had been extended to the happy couple. The bride was the recipient of many useful and beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Jorgensen are well and favorably known in this community, the bride having been engaged in school teaching and only recently closed a term of school at Dorena.

At the home of the bride's sister in Springfield, Wednesday evening, December 24, 1913, Alfred J. Wooley and Miss Nettie M. Wyant. The bridegroom is a son of L. F. Wooley, and was born and raised in Cottage Grove. Mr. Wooley and bride were Cottage Grove visitors Christmas, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Chandler. Mr. and Mrs. Wooley will reside at Co-burg, where Mr. Wooley is in the employ of the Booth-Kelly Co.

Mrs. C. E. Humphrey royally entertained her Sunday School class of girls at her home Wednesday afternoon with a Christmas party. Games were enjoyed and each guest received a gift from a beautifully decorated tree. Refreshments of jello and cookies were served. Those present were: Ruth VanBoskirk, Gladys Hayes, Gertrude Aldrich, Lenora Hubble, Susie Witherwox, Anna Jensen, Mary Ellen Benson, Myrtle Teeters, Audrey Fowler and Velma Hart.

Mrs. Joe Baker is entertaining the Royal Neighbors club at her home in this city this afternoon.

Married.

BISBY-HENDRY—On Wednesday, December 24, 1913, at the parsonage of the First Christian church, Eugene, Miss Edith Hendry to Lloyd S. Bisby, both of Cottage Grove, Rev. J. S. McCallum performing the ceremony.

Mr. Bisby is a well known and highly esteemed young man of this city, while the bride is a very estimable young lady who came here with her parents from Coos county last summer. Mr. and Mrs. Bisby will reside in Cottage Grove.

WE wish our Friends and Customers a Happy and Prosperous New Year. Our Business for 1913 shows a gratifying increase over 1912. Considering the condition of the lumber market, and we are especially pleased to report an increase. It proves to us the financial solidity of the Cottage Grove country and the appreciation of its people for a merchandise establishment conducted in a regular honest business way. With strong hope for the future and a disposition to make this a still better business house and a pledge for good dependable merchandise.
