Will Be Probated.

The will of Mrs. Eliza Howe, who died at Creswell, Dec. 3, 1913, was probated Friday. The stipulated value of the property of the estate is $4900. Her grandson, Louis H. Johnson, of Eugene, was named by the court as executor, according to the provisions of the will, and W. T. Gordon, Darwin Bristow and Ray Goodrich named to appraise the property. The children, Mrs. Louise Johnson, Eugene L. Howe and Chas. S. Howe and two grandchildren, Lillian Rhineheart and Eugene Rhineheart, are given the property.

Beachy Loops Seven Times.

San Francisco, Jan. 8.—Turning seven summersaults in a biplane during one flight today, Lincoln Beachy, of San Francisco, established a new aviation record. One of the loops was executed directly above a crowd of more than 20,000. In another loop Beachy did what is known as the corkscrew twist while his aeroplane was in a perpendicular position.

A feature of the exhibition was a somersault performed in a hydroaeroplane. Since he turned his somersault in the air five weeks ago Beachy has done the trick 43 times.

BETTER MARKETS FOR PACIFIC COAST FRUIT

Trade reports at the close of the year from London say our English cousins have been importing smaller quantities of fresh fruits from America. "But the fruit firms at Covent Garden predict a great improvement with the opening of the Panama canal." This is equivalent to saying that with proper service, including ample refrigerator space, there are good reasons to believe once the Panama canal is in operation, enormous quantities of our splendid fruits from California, Oregon and Washington may be loaded into vessels and shipped by cheap ocean freight via that short route direct to London. This will save the 3000 miles of rail travel and expensive refrigerator car service between the Pacific coast and New York or Boston. Horticultural interests of the Pacific west should be making their plans this winter to capture this business.

Local Firm Issues Catalogue.

The Rees-Wallace Co. has issued a neat 16-page illustrated catalogue, giving prices of all the staples carried in stock, and in comparing their prices with those in the catalogues of the Portland mail order houses, we find the local firm's quotations on scores of staples are below the prices quoted by the city firms, and none of the prices quoted by the local firm are above the city catalogue prices, with freight added. Anyone may secure one of the Rees-Wallace Co. catalogues for the asking.

Jefferson said "Those people are governed best who are governed the least." In Oregon we are trying to do everything for the people but let them make a living.

The Difference in Icebergs.

No two icebergs appear to be exactly alike in size and shape. Some look for all the world like Arabs' tents as they glide along and others like cliffs, castles, cathedrals, yachts, and occasionally they resemble some well known animal. Some of the pinnacles of a large berg rise nearly a thousand feet above the water, while the base may occupy an area of ten or twelve acres. Seen through a powerful glass, one may detect waterfalls upon these islands of ice and all kinds of arctic birds and perhaps a few seals. Then the colors are almost beyond description. The stately pinnacles glisten in the sun like powdered glass. At times the berg is pure white; at others it looks greenish.—Harold J. Shepstone in St. Nicholas.

Great Tonic.

Drug Clerk—Say, you remember that bottle of the new tonic you sold Bill Martin? The Proprietor—Yes. What about it? The Clerk—Why, Bill drank the whole bottle and went home and whipped his wife. And she wants to know what we are going to do about it. The Proprietor—Going to do about it. I have it! Sell her two bottles and tell her to go home and get even.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Just Suited Him.

Landlady (warningly to impecunious student applying for board)—I had my last tenant thrown out for failing to pay his rent for four months. Student (cheerfully)—That's all right. I will take the room under the conditions.—Meggendorfer Blatter.

Emphatic.

"Speaking of etiquette, did you send the dollar for those advertised instructions on 'What to do at table?'"

"Yes."
"And what did you get?"
"A slip with one word printed on it: 'Eat!'"—Boston Transcript.

The German explorer eaten by cannibals while searching for radium in New Guinea at least managed to penetrate the unknown interior.

A London burglar broke into a house to take a bath. And yet iconoclasts have tried to shake public belief in the Englishman's devotion to his tub.

The Prince of Monaco avers that he has hooked a Primaldichthys profundissimus at a depth of 20,000 feet. It takes a prince to tell a real fish story.

A Boston social worker is disturbed because poodles bring $1,000 and babies only $10. Would it not be better if the babies were not for sale at any price?

Free Lecture at High School.

M. S. Pitman, head of the extension department of the Oregon State Normal at Monmouth, will deliver his lecture, "The Macedonian Cry" at the high school Wednesday evening. Mr. Pitman is a very pleasing and forceful speaker and all should hear him. The lecture is free.

Supervisor Stahlman is greatly pleased over the securing of Mr. Pitman for this occasion, and hopes he will have a large audience to listen to this talk as it will be a rare treat. Supervisor A. I. O'Reilly of Dist. No. 2 will accompany him.
