Fred. Withrow, an old army comrade of Frank Woodruff, came in from Oakland, California, Tuesday.

Leslie Phelps has just taken the contract for the erection of a $2000 dwelling for Mr. Horn, of Saginaw.

Darwin Bristow and wife, of Eugene, visited at the home of Mrs. Bristow's brother, Judge J. S. Medley, Memorial day.

Miss Lola Wilson attended the Eugene district cabinet meeting of the Epworth League at Albany Saturday and returned Monday.

Roy Baker has returned home from a trip to British Columbia and the middle western states. He reports little activity in the mining and timber camps which he visited.

Marion Veatch and family motored up from Eugene Saturday in their new Overland auto and spent the day with Mrs. Veatch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Ostrander.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Matthews motored up from Portland Saturday to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Matthews, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Beals, of Cottage Grove.

Every one of the 52 pupils in the 7th grade of the Cottage Grove schools made a passing grade in the final examinations. The teachers are Mrs. Beager and Mr. Godard.

Charles Matthews, the flour mill man, is the latest victim of the auto salesmen, Mr. Woodson having convinced him of the superior merits of the Ford, and sold him a five passenger model Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Harrington and children left Monday for Oklahoma, where they will visit relatives and friends for two months. Mrs. Minnie Price has charge of their premises while they are away.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Champlin returned to their home in Salem Monday after a visit with their daughter, Mrs. H. N. Aldrich. Edmond Aldrich accompanied them, and will visit in Salem until after the Cherry Fair.

Elder L. A. Gibson, of Royal, spoke at the S. D. A. church in this city Sunday evening. He is spending the week with the church here, and will meet with them on Wednesday and Friday evenings, and will preach again Sunday at 8 p. m. The public is welcomed at all times.

J. I. Jones has a fine crop of cherries and peaches this season. His Governor Wood cherries are ripe now, and the cannery not yet being in operation he hardly knows what to do with them. He has had a force of boys and girls at work thinning out the peaches on the trees the past week, his young orchard being overburdened with fruit.

Rev. Robert Sutcliffe came up from Lebanon last week, accompanied by his wife, and spent a few days looking over his 8-acre apple and peach orchard in the Jones addition. He says his trees look fine and that he will have at least 400 boxes of peaches from his young trees this season. Rev. Sutcliffe was formerly pastor of the M. E. church here. They returned to Lebanon Monday after having been the guests of J. I. Jones and family.

Society Notes

Mrs. C. J. Kem and Mrs. K. K. Mills charmingly entertained the Panama Club at the home of the former on Friday afternoon. The time was pleasantly spent in playing the popular game of 500, and the hostess served daintily. The club is planning a picnic for the near future.

The Rebecca Needlework Club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Tompkins. Needlework and conversation were the chief diversions and the hostess served dainty refreshments. About thirty were present.

The Philathea Class will meet Monday afternoons through the month of June at the home of Mrs. J. H. Chambers, the first meeting for the month taking place last Monday.

The Constellation Club will meet Thursday afternoon at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. J. W. Gowdy entertains the Presbyterian Missionary Society Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. C. Conner and Mrs. L. F. Orpud entertained the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church and a few additional friends at the home of the former last Wednesday afternoon. Fancy work occupied a portion of the time and an interesting contest, "Suggestions from a watch" was enjoyed by the guests. Mrs. H. C. Hart receiving first honors. Refreshments consisting of Sandwiches, pickles, strawberries and cream, cake and punch were served by Miss Lillian Lewis and Master Clare Conner.

Death of LeRoy Barrett

LeRoy Barrett died very suddenly at his home in Cottage Grove Sunday morning, May 31, of apoplexy.

The funeral was held Monday at the chapel, the funeral sermon being preached by Rev. H. N. Aldrich.

LeRoy Barrett was born in Erie County, New York, Jan. 23, 1836. He left there when twenty-one years of age, going to Lynn Co. Iowa near Marion, where he lived twenty-five years and came to Lane Co. Oregon forty years ago.

Mr. Barrett was never married. He leaves two brothers, J. K. and W. A. Barrett of this city, and one sister, Mrs. F. A. Chase of Cedar, Kansas.

Another Car of Fruit Wanted

The Cannery Association has received another order for a car of fruit. This order comes from Texas and is for a car of sweet cherries, to be delivered at once.

Manager Wallace does not think the order can be filled, as the Royal Ann, Bings and Lamberts will not ripen before the last of the month.

J. I. Jones and others have a large quantity of ripe Governor Wood cherries, but not a sufficient quantity to make up a carload. The order may be filled later, if it can be held.

The car of gooseberries ordered from Denver will go forward Saturday if the weather clears so that picking is made possible.

Sunday School at Latham

A Sunday school was organized at Latham, with a large attendance last Sunday, and excellent results are predicted. The school will meet every Sunday at 8 p. m.

The officers elected are—S. Leslie Godard, superintendent; Hue Trunell, secretary-treasurer; Miss Huston, organist and Miss Esther Anderson, assistant superintendent.

Willamette valley industries will be a feature of the Oregon exhibit at the Panama exposition.

MODEL HOMES OF ESSEN WORKMEN

Germany a Leader In Solving Problems of Housing.

GUNMAKER AS A PIONEER.

Foresight of Germans Provided Comfortable and Adequate Housing Facilities For Workers—Krupp First to Put Idea Into Effect.

The foresight of the Germans was responsible for the provision of comfortable and adequate housing facilities for the workers, says Wilhelm Wiegand in Town Development. Over fifty years ago it was realized that an investment for efficiency was the most profitable investment possible, and this realization was followed up by the conclusion that such efficiency can be secured only when the workingman is so housed and cared for that his health and happiness are assured. The truth of this hypothesis is now so generally acknowledged that its statement appears trite. But fifty years ago the theory had never been tried and proved true, and it must have been difficult to squander good marks and pennings for the consummation of a visionary ideal.

The founder of the great Krupp gun works at Essen, however, with more than native German sagacity, was perhaps the first to comprehend the concrete value of the vision. So in the year 1800 twelve houses that were to rent at a most modest figure were built for the convenience of the Krupp employees. After that the advance was rapid. Within seven years 318 more houses had been added to the colony, and as the plant grew year by year the number of houses increased until there are now over 6,000. Even this number of dwellings, however, provides for but one-third of the employees of the great shops, for the Krupp interests furnish labor for about 40,000.

Unlike other colonies that have been founded to provide a home for the workman at the least possible cost, the colony of Essen has not been forced to sacrifice beauty and comfort to mere utility. Built primarily to serve the purpose of utility, compactly arranged for the strictest economy of space as the houses are, they maintain an atmosphere of charm and individuality that goes far toward making them real homes for their tenants. Indeed, a glance at the ivy covered walls, shaded windows, patches of shrubbery and flowers, gives one the impression of a small agricultural village rather than of a thundering industrial center. The buildings have been arranged so that every family may have its bountiful share of light and open air. Each dwelling has a small lawn and a garden space for vegetables and flower gardens. The interior of the cottage is as attractive as the exterior. Every house contains at least two rooms, and the great majority have from four to six rooms and often a basement. In accordance with the prevailing custom the main room serves the double function of kitchen and living room. This room, always immaculately clean, is always comfortably warm from the heat of the stove. The whitewashed walls are covered with the shining kitchen utensils that are used throughout the country as wall decorations.

For comfortable habitations in Essen the workmen pay from 100 to 300 marks a year, the higher figure providing a five room cottage in the most favorable environment. Imagine any house in America renting for from $23.80 to $71.40 a year! At this price, of course, the proprietors can make no money, and, although they calculate their gain at 1 per cent per annum, the expense of deterioration must be estimated at 3 per cent, so that the Krupp company stands a yearly loss of 2 per cent on every house. To offset this loss, however, the company has discovered through the experience of the fifty years that the efficiency of their workmen has been tripled and that the loss from strikes and labor difficulties in general has been reduced to a negligible fraction. That the company has never questioned the wisdom of sacrificing a small amount of money to a great gain in service is most conclusively demonstrated by the continuance of the policy of home building.
