LOCAL NOTES

Hop picking comes next. Ho, for the Grange Fair.

Miss Mary Bartels is a guest of Portland friends.

Fred Lizer has returned home from the seaside.

Mac Johnson, of Drain, was a business visitor in Cottage Grove Thursday.

Mrs. Fannie Borchart of Grants Pass, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Groff.

Wanted—A riding pony or riding horse. Address F. C. Fuhrer, Cottage Grove.

Good set heavy double Buggy Harness for sale cheap. See Hemenway & Lockwood.

The little daughter of Supervisor and Mrs. Stahlman has been quite ill the past week.

A few choice pure bred Rhode Island Red cockerels for sale. Inquire at Benson's Drug Store.

Oscar Woodson returned home last Thursday from a several days business visit to Elkton and Scottsburg.

Quite a number of Cottage Grove citizens had to "take the children to see the circus" at Eugene Friday.

Jas. Redford and family went to Polk county last Wednesday in their auto to spend a week visiting with relatives and friends.

Mrs. M. J. Harding, of Salem, is a guest of her brother, Will Keen, who is conducting her large farm a few miles northeast of this city.

E. R. Spencer and his guest, Wilson Henry of Nebraska, tutored to Springfield today to attend the Booth-Kelly mill celebration and inspect the new mill plant.

C. E. Umphrey and family and Prof. Ernest Purvance and family returned home the middle of last week from their summer vacation, which was spent in the Bohemia mines.

While picking peaches in his orchard a few days ago the ladder upon which Warren McFarland was standing, fell, resulting in Mr. McFarland cracking one of the bones in his left forearm.

W. E. Lundy and wife went to Eugene in their auto Thursday to visit over Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cochran and attend the big circus Friday. They will leave Sunday for their home at Myrtle Point.

W. A. Hemenway has moved one of the residences on his farm up on the northwest corner of his place, near Curtis Veatch's farm residence, and will put it and the five acre tract on which it stands, on the market.

Evidently imbued with the spirit of patriotism which is sweeping over the country today, J. M. Comer, the local carpet and rug weaver, turned out a fine, large, rag rug recently which is a good design of the stars and stripes. It is a very clever piece of weaving.

A Portland auto truck firm is advertising that it will accept horses in exchange for auto trucks. This doesn't look like the big benzine truck would entirely supercede the horse, unless the auto people propose to "can" the noble brute to supply the foreign meat trade.

Ex-United States Senator C. W. Fulton of Astoria, accompanied by his wife and son, and the latter's wife, who was formerly Miss Bessie Eakin, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Eakin in this city Thursday while on their return home from a tour of Eastern and Southern Oregon in their automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Romain and the former's sister, Mrs. May Penny, returned to their Portland homes Monday after an enjoyable visit with Mrs. Romain's parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Kime. Mr. Romain secured Dr. Kimes Studebaker automobile and drove it to Portland, the doctor having recently purchased a new Ford.

Alfred G. Matthews and wife, who have been visiting here with relatives and friends, returned Friday on their Excelsior motorcycle to their home at Portland. Alfred wears badge No. 5, in the big Ford automobile assembling plant at Portland, which indicates that there are but four men above him in that big busy institution. They made the run from Portland to this city in 8 hours.

ADVOCATES FARMERS FOR STATE LAW MAKERS

Eugene, Oregon, Rt. 3, Aug. 26, 1914.

Editor Leader,

Dear Sir: Kindly allow me space to draw the attention of your farmer readers to the meeting that is to be held in the circuit court room in Eugene on Sept 5th at 1:30 for the purpose of placing in nomination four farmers to represent Lane county in the next legislature.

The farmers of the state are in a large majority, but they have always been in a beautiful minority in the legislature.

Let anything come up like a trespass law or anything to benefit the farmer, and the committee promptly pigeonholes it. If the farmers of Lane county unite this year and vote as one man for their own candidates, the state will follow suit next election and we will have enough farmers on the committees to take care of our interests.

We shall choose our men or women by an eliminating ballot. There will be no candidates running after office and no time wasted in speeches till we have selected the men or women we wish to represent us.

We hope to have many ladies present, for no one has a better right to be heard than the farmer's wife.

There will be a meeting of the Farmers' Protective Association in the Commercial Club rooms at 10:00 a. m. the same day, to consider means to obtain more direct methods of disposing of our produce, so we can get better prices—something on the order of our Fruit Growers' Association. We shall also take up the matter of protecting our stock and fences against trespassers in pursuit of game. The moral effect of our Association did a great deal in this direction last year and a more united effort will accomplish more this season.

Farmers and their wives all welcome.

JAMES FULLERTON,
Secretary and Treasurer Farmers' Protective Association.

PURITY OF THE AIR.

An English Scientist Attacks Our Theories of Ventilation.

Crowther, the English scientist, attacks one of the most cherished of our hygienic notions with a logic that commands respectful attention. His contention is that efficient ventilation does not depend upon the chemical purity of the air. The attempt should be to secure motion, coolness and dryness rather than to displace one body of air by another.

He denies that there is a toxic organic substance in the atmosphere as the result of human exhalations and challenges those who disagree with him to their proofs, as the existence of such poisons has never been scientifically demonstrated.

The lungs, according to him, are never filled with air some of which has not been exhaled. Inhalation follows so closely upon exhalation in normal breathing that a portion of the air that has just left the lungs is invariably drawn back into them.

Exhaustive experiments show that the amount of air thus returned is from 1 to 2 per cent in persons remaining quietly indoors. It is from 4 to 10 per cent in those asleep in bed. There are certain sections of the respiratory apparatus, moreover, the nose and the larger bronchi, in which exhaled air always lingers. It thus appears that the air in the lungs is always heavily contaminated with their own excreting gases, even in outdoor life, and the dead spaces make it certain that this contamination will not decrease.

It is not worth while, so the doctor argues, to pay much attention to the small amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere, therefore, and if the air is kept in motion and not permitted to become too moist or warm the necessary ends of ventilation will be subserved.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

ATMOSPHERIC PRESSURE.

Changes That Come When the Barometer Falls an Inch.

Few persons have any idea what tremendous changes in the atmosphere are indicated by such a rise or fall of an inch in the barometer.

A cubic inch of mercury weighs a half pound. When the mercury falls an inch a weight of one ton is removed from every 4,000 square inches of surface. This is a ton for every area five and one-quarter feet square if your house, for instance, is 25 by 40 feet, with an area of 1,000 square feet, a load of about thirty-six tons is lifted from the roof every time the barometer shows an inch fall—that is, a thirty-six ton load would be lifted if the house were air tight. But as air presses in every direction there is as much of a push upward against the roof from below as there is of a push downward from above. So the roof actually feels no effect from the removal of this heavy load.

In the same way a man of average size would be relieved of a weight of about a ton and a half if there were no air chambers in the human body.

It has been figured that a fall of an inch in the barometer over a territory 400 miles square removes a weight from the surface of the earth of 100,000,000,000 tons. If this were loaded on freight cars, twenty tons to the car and thirty cars to the train, more than 200,000,000 trains would be required to move it. If each train were 500 feet long they would stretch out in a line more than 25,000,000 miles long.

The only noise that accompanies this great transportation feat is made by the wind, which does considerable roaring in the course of such violent atmospheric changes.—Kansas City Star.

A friend was telling me that the telephone is used more in Italy than it is in this country. Is this correct?

In 1913 there were in the United States 7,200,000 telephone stations, with 18,000,000 miles of wire. For Italy the figures are 100,000 stations, with about 120,000 miles of wire. This alone will enable you to answer the question.
