

Be Fair To All OREGON

NOT ONE OF SOUTHERN OREGON'S COUNTIES HAS AN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION TO WHICH THE STATE CONTRIBUTES A DOLLAR OF SUPPORT

The heavy lines divide the state into three natural, geographic subdivisions. Our one normal school is indicated by dot. It is doing excellent work, but—its sphere of service is LIMITED to its OWN SECTION; a fact that is equally true in every other state.

Every school in Oregon above a high school is indicated on this map. Does not simple fairness dictate that the normal school in Southern Oregon should be maintained that the common schools may have efficient teachers?

A COMPARISON

California has eight Normal Schools and eighty five percent of the teachers now employed in that state have had normal school training. Oregon has one Normal School. Eighty percent of last year's applicants for teachers' certificates had no training above the eighth grade.

ARE YOU RAISING CHILDREN FOR EXPERIMENTAL PURPOSES?

A noted oculist was once complimented on his wonderful skill. "Yes," he answered, "but I spoiled a hatful of eyes learning."

Rather hard on the people who furnished the eyes! Yes, but how about the children all over Oregon that we furnish for untrained teachers to practice on?

Moral: Let Oregon's schools have trained teachers by furnishing the normal schools wherein such training can be obtained.

The Southern Oregon Normal School has a plant, owned by the state, sufficient to meet all requirements for many years.

"It is a fact well supported by experience that the majority of the students in any educational institution come from a territory included within a circle with the institution as the center and a radius of fifty miles. It is therefore imperative that each important division of the state should have a strong normal school."—William M. Proctor, Department of Education, Pacific University, Forest Grove, Ore.

"There could be no greater extravagance than that of spending large sums of money on public schools which are 'kept' by incompetent teachers. Not only is money wasted, but the injury done to the raw material is incalculable."—P. L. Campbell, Pres. U. of O.

To the man with property assessed at $4,000 this school means the price of one cigar a year

WHY HOPS DROPPED

Prohibition Agitation Responsible, Shown by Big Oregon Hop Grower

Business Generally Stagnated by Reason of Fanatical Campaign—Orders Are Few Pending Election Results

The following letter has been received from Mr. C. A. McLaughlin, one of the largest hop growers of the State of Oregon, and who has suffered with others through the present condition of the hop market.

His letter is most instructive at this time and we herewith submit it to you for your consideration.

Yours very truly,

HOP GROWERS' & DEALERS' ASSOCIATION OF OREGON.
PUBLICITY BUREAU.

Independence, Oregon, Oct. 10, 1914.

Hop Growers' & Dealers' Association,
Portland, Oregon.

Gentlemen:—

I have been greatly interested in the view held by a few of my neighbor hop farmers on the present price of hops. I have heard a number of them blaming dealers, short sellers, and manufacturers, giving reasons entirely wild and far from the real cause.

I think the Hop Growers' & Dealers' Association should send out a letter to the hop growers showing them the facts in contradiction to the malicious misrepresentations of those directing the campaign for the prohibitionists. They would have us believe that conniving dealers and manufacturers or the war are responsible, thereby hoping to cause discontent among the members of the organization.

As in every other case, the prohibitionists are holding up the "effect" instead of the "cause." I hope you will see the truth after reasoning out present market conditions and resultant prices.

At present, prohibition agitation is being spread in California, Washington, Oregon, Colorado, Idaho, Arizona, Texas, Virginia, Ohio and several other states. In other words the manufacturers in those states cannot be expected to place orders for hops until the prohibition question is settled after elections are held. Manufacturers who also ship into these states cannot be expected to buy hops until the same question is settled, for these states represent 20 to 25 per cent of their market.

From these statements of logical facts, the hop farmer should be able to place the blame where it belongs, on the everlasting agitating prohibition "reformer" whose record has always reflected unrest and a general cheapening of everything everywhere.

The prohibition agitators are responsible for the low price of hops. They agitate in other states, shutting down industrial progress until they have been rejected at the polls. Business in general comes to a standstill before elections. Normal conditions are rendered abnormal. Yet they say prohibition in Oregon will not injure the future of the hop industry.

Misrepresentation, playing upon known sympathies and fanaticism will continue to cause discontent, business unrest, galloping taxes and a ruined Oregon industry, unless the voters arise in their might and crush these "reformers" by voting 333 X No on November 3rd.

Very sincerely, I am,

C. A. McLAUGHLIN

GEORGE SELFISH, IS CHARGE

Old-Time Democrats Are Lukewarm Toward Chamberlain This Year.

It is an open secret in Democratic circles that in this campaign the party is lukewarm toward George E. Chamberlain's candidacy, whereas for the first time in years the Republican party is united on a candidate for United States Senator. Old-time Democrats, who have for years worked enthusiastically for Chamberlain each time he has been a candidate now regard him with apathy.

The Democrats who have been devoting time and money for years to the cause are letting it be known that they regard Chamberlain as selfish. They recall how he failed to reciprocate. When he was a candidate, all other nominees on the Democratic ticket had to be ignored for fear Chamberlain's chances might be injured. So far as the public was aware Chamberlain was the only man running on the Democratic ticket.

Finally when Chamberlain was in position to reward the old friends by giving them Federal appointments, which he was in position to do as the senior Senator, he turned a deaf ear to their applications and permitted his junior colleague, Senator Harry Lane, to fill the Federal pie counter with Lane's personal friends, who were not the Democrats who had devoted years to electing Chamberlain to office. In this manner Chamberlain lost supporters in every county in the state, and these supporters were mainly the men who have been responsible for his past victories.

Thus Chamberlain is entering the largest campaign of his career with dissatisfaction in the Democratic ranks, brought on, declare the old-timers, by his own selfishness, and confronted by a united Republican party behind Booth, Republican candidate for United States Senator. And as if these things were not sufficiently serious, there is a feeling of dissatisfaction with business conditions, the depression of the times, little work and low wages, and a feeling that the way to bring prosperity back is to vote the Republican ticket straight, starting with Booth and ending with the last name.

Mulkey and Bourne For Booth.

Colonel Roosevelt's manager in Oregon in the last Presidential campaign, Frederick W. Mulkey, has announced his support of R. A. Booth, Republican candidate for United States Senator. Mulkey decided the Progressive party was dead in Oregon, and, anyway, the candidate on the Progressive ticket for Senator is an ex-Democrat, an ex-Republican and bitterly opposed Roosevelt in the Presidential campaign when the Colonel was the head of the Progressive party. Before turning Progressive, Mulkey was one of the leading Republicans of Oregon. Equally interesting is the fact that Jonathan Bourne, another ardent admirer of Roosevelt, and who has been at outs with Oregon Republican leaders for years, is backing the entire ticket, has contributed $500 to the Republican state campaign fund and is personally supporting Booth. Chamberlain's friends had confidently expected Bourne to help their candidate, but Bourne has written a letter laying the blame for dull times at the
