The Weekly Paper From the Old Home Town

When the evening shade is falling at the closing of the day, An' a feller rests from labor, smokin' at his pipe of clay, There's nothing does him so much good, be fortune up or down, As the little country paper from his Old Home Town.

It ain't a thing of beauty and its print's not always clean, But it straightens out his temper when a feller's feelin' mean; It takes the wrinkles off his face an' brushes of the frown, That little country paper from his Old Home Town.

It tells of all the parties and the balls of Pumpkin Row, 'Bout who spent Sunday with who's girl, and how the crops'll grow, An' how it keeps a feller posted who's up and who is down, That little country paper from his Old Home Town.

Now, I like to read the dailies and the story papers too, And at times the yaller novels and some other trash—don't you? But when I want some other readin' that'll brush away a frown, I want that little paper from my Old Home Town.

Secretary of War Daniels has invited the navies of the world to join in the formal opening of the Panama canal next March and participate in the naval parade through the canal headed by the historic battleship Oregon carrying President Wilson. Imagine the fireworks which would probably follow such a naval parade after the representative battleships of several of the unfriendly nations got out beyond the 3 mile neutral zone.

Every business man in Cottage Grove should have his name and business, if no more, in an advertisement in one or the other of the local papers. Do not let Sears & Roebuck do all of the advertising here.

Prosperity has returned—at Salem. Many strangers are observed in that city and the hotels and boarding houses are all filled with guests.

Instead of invading anybody's territory, Turkey will be kept awfully busy from this time on defending her own.

The European war will cause us less anxiety now—the Oregon legislature is in session.

And for the next four years it will be Gov. Withycombe and Ex-Gov. West.

Let us all pull together and make 1915 the best year of them all.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

Occasionally the preacher's aim is inaccurate and his sermon hits you.

Carelessness in handling weapons has always been a defect in Mexican armies.

A good many New Year resolutions have been badly bent in the past several days.

Mighty few men have sprained their wrists in their eagerness to turn over a new leaf.

If the navies of the future are to be aircraft, the ambitious submarine will feel a bit foolish.

A valley exchange is so strongly neutral that it declares it don't care which of the allied powers licks Germany.

Somebody has revived the question, "Should women propose?" As long as there are bashful men, they should.

The happy days when father's socks were darned, buttons sewed on, his chair placed at the table, and his general conduct commended, wont come again until next December.

Franklin D. Wood of New York accuses his father of eloping to Chicago with his bride on the night of the wedding and the mother testified in the divorce proceeding that she found her husband and son's wife occupying the same apartments in Chicago. Some fathers are very unreasonable in meting out punishment to their children.

Five large canvas mail bags filled to overflowing with Sears-Roebuck catalogues arrived at the Cottage Grove postoffice last Wednesday for the people of this community. What are the local merchants doing in the way of advertising to offset the attractive bargains offered by this big catalogue house?

Can't Be Helped

Hard to Pronounce.

One of the hard names to pronounce is that of the central Russian government called Nijn Novogrod. The first "i" has the sound of "e;" the second is short. The "o" in the penultimate syllable is long, as in the English word "go." The "o" in the syllables "nov" and "rod" has the sound of "o" in the English word "rod." "J" has the soft French sound. The accents are on the first and last syllables, "Neezh-ni Nov-go-rod."

SPRAY'S COLUMN Telephone No. 3.

Cows should be fed at regular times. By a little extra study you can find out the needs of each cow. One cow will eat lots of feed and give milk accordingly. I believe there is more money lost by not feeding enough than any other way. I have tried it out very often and find it takes good feed and lots of it to make money with cows. Don't be afraid to feed in the advice of all successful dairymen. The first half of the feed keeps the cow—the last half pays you your profit. The average cow should have at least 5 lbs. of grain feed twice a day. I feed 2 lbs. ground barley and 3 lbs. bran, or have been feeding that, but since I heard Prof. Fitts talk, I feed 1 lb. oil meal and 3 lbs. bran, about 20 lbs. ensilage and all the good hay they will clean up. Salt freely. Here is a point which should be looked after. Salt regularly. Now as to water, it will pay big to see that your cows have good, pure water. If you havn't good spring water it will pay you well to pump water for your cows. If your cow has to drink cold water in winter, and stagnant warm water in the summer, you are losing money on her. That is you would make more if you would provide better water for her.

One more word for the silo. If you have a silo you can fill it rain or shine. Generally about the time to cut early hay it begins to rain. Then you can fill the silo and have good feed out of what would be lost or damaged.

Revival Meetings

Interest seems to be growing in the special meetings at the M. E. church. This week Rev. Aldrich is assisted by Rev. A. C. Brackenbury of Brownsville, who is said to be a very able and convincing speaker. He will speak each evening this week.
