This is their first trip to Oregon and they are very favorably impressed with this part of the state and may decide to locate here.

N. H. Russell, who for some time past has held the position of clerk in Long & Bingham's store in this city, died at a Portland hospital Monday where he was receiving treatment for cancer of the liver. His remains were interred at Portland. He was a very exemplary gentleman and his death is deplored by a host of friends at this place.

Joe Miller and wife went to Alea Thursday, to take charge of the Pacific Timber Company's boarding house at that place, it being the company's intention to start up its mill and logging camp at that place early next week. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have placed their cozy new home in this city in safe hands and may be absent during the season. The LEADER will make them weekly visits.

An Up-to-Date Hotel.

While at Eugene recently the LEADER editor made the new Hotel Gross his "headquarters." This new popular and well regulated hotel is located on Willamette Street only one block from the depot, being both convenient to trains and Eugene's business center. It is modernly equipped and finely furnished throughout with new furniture, new carpets and general furnishings. It is conducted on both the American and European plan and is rapidly growing in favor with the traveling public, including commercial and mining men. It is a three story building with 38 well furnished rooms and has a first class restaurant and convenient sample room in connection. Special rates are given to families and theatrical companies, and its $1 a day accommodations are the best to be found in the city. Attractive features of the place are its well kept lawn and its artistic illuminated sign composed of numerous small electric lights. Manager T. D. Condon will be found genial and obliging and ever on the alert in providing for the comfort and accommodation of his guests. The people of this city and vicinity will find Hotel Gross a good place to stop when transacting business at the county seat.

LEADERS IN MERCHANDISING

Millinery Openings.

The millinery openings were held in this city Tuesday and Wednesday and many a poor man was brought face to face with the stern reality of a spring bonnet bill. The local milliners seemed to vie with each in making attractive window and counter displays and so pretty were the new spring styles that a man could hardly restrain from investing in some of the flowery bedecked creations for some of the feminine members of his household. Miss Ada Hanson had a very attractive window display while her sales room was handsomely decorated with Oregon Grape, streamers running from the ceiling in the center of the room to each of the four corners about half way down to the floor. Miss Mary Berger, of Eugene, assisted Miss Hanson on this opening occasion.

The Newland sisters had a very attractive and well selected stock of millinery, artistically displayed on this grand opening occasion, which attracted much attention on the part of the gentler sex.

The Cottage Grove Merchandise Co., also had a fine line of 1904 millinery on display which received a full share of public notice and patronage on the part of the ladies.

The nice stock of millinery in the rear of the new bank building in charge of Mrs. Frederickson was displayed to advantage, and opening day brought many customers.

Mozart Symphony Musical Company

The High School lecture course closed with the engagement of Eli Perkins and the committee finds a deficit of $31.20. In order to meet this deficit the High School has perfected arrangements for the appearance of the celebrated Mozart Symphony Musical Company of New York, in one of their grand concerts in the opera hall at this place Saturday evening, April 2, a liberal per cent of the door receipts going into the High School fund. It is hoped the citizens of Cottage Grove will literally patronize this grand musical concert, and assist the High School to meet its indebtedness. Tickets on sale at the New Era drug store.

P & B Roofing

for hot weather

There is no way you can roof a building to withstand hot weather so practically, economically or easily as to cover it with P. & B. Ready Roofing.

P. & B. Ready Roofing never cracks nor runs—heat does not bother it any more than it hurts asbestos. P. & B. Ready Roofing won't warp, cringe or curl, heat cannot go through it and warm up the interior, for P. & B. Ready Roofing is a non-conductor.

Anyone can lay P. & B. Ready Roofing, as it is very simple and quickly done, and it lasts longer than the building it covers. Send for booklet.
