Rev. J. A. McVeigh will speak to men only at 3 p. m. Sunday May 22, in the C. P. church. Subject: "A leaf from my own life." Evangelist Hart will sing. The Sunday services will likely conclude the work of Evangelist J. A. McVeigh and Rev. Hart at this place. They are doing good work.

G. G. Warner, the well known mining man, who has been spending some time in the Southern Oregon mines, has returned to this city and will soon go into the Bohemia mining district to look after his interests there during the season. He has much faith in the future of the Bohemia mining district.

J. E. Dunn, of Portland, Master of Sunset Lodge No. 130 B. of R. T. was in town Wednesday advertising the railroad excursion to be given to Salem on Sunday June 5, 1904. An effort is being made to have the C. M. A. Band accompany the excursion which starts from this city and the matter will be decided at the meeting this evening.

Miss Benetta Whipple was so unfortunate as to sustain a severe injury Saturday by kneeling down on aneedle which was broken off in her knee. She was taken to Roseburg by her step-father, Dr. Geo. Wall, for an X-ray examination of the injury, the needle point being located, but owing to its position it was thought best not to attempt to remove it at the present time.

H. S. Rowe, of the Norris & Rowe c'rens, in speaking to a Guard reporter Tuesday said that the people of Eugene had really surprised him very much. There were nearly 4000 paid admission tickets sold at the afternoon performance netting a sum of $2200 for the management. The people had little or no regard for the mud. Men, women and children waded through mud ankle deep to get into the big tents, a heavy rain falling on that day.

An attachment was filed on the Long & Bingham Lumber Co. Wednesday by Portland creditors. However, this action bears little significance as it appears that an amicable settlement will be the speedy outcome of a slight disagreement on the part of the firm and its Portland creditors, which resulted in this legal action. That the mill will be put in active operation again in a day or two is the opinion of those in a position to know.

J. Tummins, late of Idaho, located two claims on Windy Creek, near by the Riverside Mine last fall. He has now built a commodious cabin on his property, procured supplies and commenced development work on the group. Mr. Tummins is an experienced mining man and prospector, who has followed the work for many years in Montana and Idaho. He is very much pleased with his showing here so far, and thinks that the future has more in store for Bohemia than any camp he ever visited.

Imperial Hotel Sold.

Sullivan & Everett, late of Chehalis, Washington, but formerly of Wisconsin, purchased the Imperial hotel furnishings and business this week, from W. R. Courts and assumed the management of this popular hostelry at once. Mr. Courts has proven himself one of the most up-to-date and practical hotel men that has ever conducted the business in this city and is a genial and highly esteemed gentleman. Messrs. Sullivan & Everett come well recommended and promise to keep the Imperial up to its present standard and maintain its popularity. Mr. Courts is undecided as to his future from a business standpoint. We hope he will find another profitable in vestment here.

New Painting and Decorating Firm

Wednesday of last week arrangements were completed in the establishment of a new painting and decorating firm in this city, which will put out the rather unique sign reading, "Tom, Dick, and Harry, Paint Shop." This firm is composed of three of the best painters, paper hangers and decorators in the city. —Tom W. Jenkins, H. Dick Berry and J. Harry Peck. This firm has leased the harness shop building on the West side in which they will install their paints and other material and supplies, and where members of the firm may be found. They are first class workmen reasonable in their charges, and satisfaction is guaranteed in every job. House, sign and carriage painting, and paper hanging and decorating will be made a specialty by this new firm.

Burglars at Buoy's.

A telephone message to the LEADER Thursday over the new rural exchange of the Walker neighborhood, conveyed the intelligence that during the temporary absence of Mr. Buoy and family Tuesday night, their home was burglarized, about $15 in cash and a few small articles being missing. The burglary has been reported to the officers but no clue to the burglars has been obtained. It was probably the work of tramps.
