COTTAGE GROVE, OREGON, JUNE 24, 1904

No. 10

Literary Entertainment.

The elocutionary entertainment given by Mrs. Grace V. Mellinger under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Christain Church, at the opera house on last Saturday evening was a rare treat to those who were fortunate enough to attend. Although the audience was not large, the speaker gave a very interesting programme, which was interspersed with music by local talent. The citizens of Cottage Grove should encourage those who take an interest in securing classic entertainment for this place, by their presence and patronage. High grade entertainments are not as common here as they should be; helping as they do to educate the moral and mental standing of our people. Such should receive our hearty co-operation and encouragement.

Epworth League Social.

The Epworth League held its annual business meeting for the election of officers in the new brick lodge room Monday evening, the meeting resolving itself into a very pleasant social session at the conclusion of the business routine. A large number of friends of the League members were present as guests and a brief literary and musical programme was rendered in a very creditable manner as follows: Song, Choir; Cornet solo, Chas. Cochran, with piano accompaniment by Miss Neva Perkins; Reading, Miss Allie Phillips; Musical pantomime exercise, The Ten Virgins. Word guessing game was then introduced, Mrs. Jas Benson awarded the prize, a beautiful bouquet of roses. Refreshments were then served consisting of ice cream and cake and a most enjoyable evening's social gathering closed.

Will Issue Proclamation.

The governor's office is preparing the annual proclamation relating to forest fires, and it will be issued on July 1st. The proclamation declaring the local option and direct primary laws a part of the Oregon code will be issued as soon as the official vote is canvassed by the board. This will probably occur within a few days, as soon as the returns from all the counties are received at the office of the secretary of state.—Daily Capital Journal.

School Officials Named.

On Monday the annual meeting of school district No. 45, including Cottage Grove, was held at the school building. One school director and a clerk were chosen, C. H. Vandenburg was named director to succeed J. W. Gowdy. D. T. Awbrey was elected clerk to succeed J. K. Barrett. The hold over members of the board are L. F. Wooley and O. O. Veatch.

The district fair will be held at Eugene, September 20—23, inclusive. Lane county will make the fair attractive in a greater degree than formerly. Active work for its success is now being carried on at the county seat.
