PEACHES OF FINE FLAVOR

J. D. Palmer of Mosby Creek Shows Good Results.

GROWN FROM SEED

Grafted Trees Produce Finer Fruit That Would Be For Shipping Purposes-Celery Growers.

J. D. Palmer, whose farm is 18 miles from Cottage Grove...

"Red peaches on top row are some of our seedlings; on bottom row grafted fruit..."

Large fruit varieties reject anything under two inches as a rule. These fine peaches were grown without cultivation or irrigation...

As between the seedlings and the grafted fruit a noticeable point is the firmness of the fruit from grafted trees.

Half-Acre of Strawberries. H. S. Webber, whose Cedar Creek farm is receiving constant attention, tells of a half acre of strawberries he planted in May.

However, Mr. Webber put the plants in the soil and are now the hardiest growth that could be expected, averaging six and eight inches in height.

The general tenor of advice in Eastern farm publications is to not allow the young plants to set on the first year.

set by Mr. Webber are luxuriant and a splendid growth.

These vines were set with the assurance that the entire crop produced would be taken by one firm in Cottage Grove...

Having proved that a fine growth can be made and that we have strawberry ground here...

The point to be emphasized is that the plants made a sturdy growth and furthermore sent out the young plants, strong and vigorous...

C. E. Stewart, who recently purchased acreage near Cottage Grove, spoke Monday before he left for a visit to Medford...

I. H. Veatch has purchased the interest of George McQueen in the Fashion Stables. The firm will now be Lewis & Veatch.

C. W. Lewis, who has been in charge of the stables during the past four months is thoroughly familiar with the requirements of the public and is popular and successful in the business he knows well.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Jones returned Sunday from a visit of one week at Orseco. Mr. Jones is the possessor of a railroad speeder...

The first annual conference of the M. E. church was held at Eugene this week. From Cottage Grove, J. I. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Arne, J. M. Isham and several others were in attendance.

F. S. Landess, a young giant, 19 years old, standing six feet six, was killed in a gravel pit at East Second and Madison streets shortly before 6 o'clock Tuesday.

The men were filling a wagon from the bank and had cut several feet beneath the clay bank.

The young giant laughed at his fears and drove his pick deep into the gravel close beneath the clay.

From papers on the body of Landess it was found that his parents live at Methow, near Wenatchee, Wash., and that he belonged to the lodge of the Woodmen of the World at that place.

FALL TERM OF SCHOOL

Begins Auspiciously With Twelve Teachers

HIGH SCHOOL COURSE

Enrollment Twenty Per Cent Larger Than at Beginning of Previous Term

Bright, happy faced youngsters rumped to school again on Monday after their long vacation.

In all cases their in-door experience was brief for they were set at liberty before noon to flood Main street in demand of text books, pads, pencils paper and other school necessities.

Cottage Grove certainly has her quota of ruddy faced, fresh looking healthy little folks.

Enrollment this week has shown an attendance twenty percent larger than the first week of October of last year.

The total enrollment for the first week last year was 200, and exactly 100 over the enrollment of the corresponding week last year when 290 were enrolled.

It was found necessary almost at the first to employ a twelfth teacher, who has been found in the person of Miss Bertie Bailey.

One of the noteworthy points in connection with the new school building is that it was turned over to the directors of the school district practically on time, despite serious delays experienced in the work of construction.

The contractors were compelled to proceed and allow room for later installment of flues. This rendered their work more trying.

On Tuesday June 7th, ten men began work on the second modern school building for Cottage Grove.

On Tuesday, September 20th, the completed building was turned over to the directors and is satisfactory in every way.

The heating plant was supplied by the Wynne Hardware Company. Two furnaces are installed to supply heat.

The same firm supplied the heating plant currently installed in the building on the east side now to be known as the high school.

The new building is 61 by 80 feet and has six rooms 25 by 32 feet.

In appearance the new building is remarkable for the difference in depth of the windows. Long windows in sets of five are in each room.

the street line to the main entrance. It is sixteen feet wide and is large enough to allow for the formation of marching lines in wet weather...

Directors are considering the advisability of purchasing a bell for the ornamental cupola that surmounts the building over the main entrance and may decide to place one there.

"HUGE MULLIGAN."

And What Became of the Eggs?—Held to Answer.

Tom Parker, the popular baker and confectioner, is an enthusiastic hunter.

Last week he went into the tall timber in search of the elusive and fleet-footed, gazelle-eyed and extremely edible deer.

The baker baffled with the milk of human kindness and hospitality. The wayfarers were bid late to enter the bread works, where a cheerful fire warmed their shins and he cockles of their hearts.

Hungry, they unanimously agreed upon a mulligan stew. Ingredients (proper) of the especial quality and bra d of stew known as "mulligan" have always been a subject for division and debate.

(according to surroundings and accessibility of ingredients) beef, onions, tomatoes, chili peppers, beans and salt pork; and has been made of boot straps, shoe pegs and suspender buckles.

Eggs were served in all styles. Eggs "up", eggs "over", poached, boiled, scrambled, fried, omelette, soufflé, egg-nog, flip, silver and golden—and raw.

The culprits were discovered and locked up in Officer Underwood's seven by pine jail over Sunday.

On Monday they were haled before Mr. Justice Vaughn. The man who stole the bowl and eggs was held to answer before the county court and was taken to Eugene.

There was a party at Mr. Vaughn's Saturday, attended by quite a number of Miss Mollie's and Nora's friends.

Jim Spahr went to California this week.

RICH STRIKE IN BOHEMIA

LeRoy Mine Is Fast Coming to The Front.

BEST SHOWING YET

Ore Shows in Large Ledges and is Partly Free Milling-Samples on Display

In the LeRoy properties in Bohemia mining district there has been encountered a ledge 33 feet in width which is probably as rich a body as any in the district.

The LeRoy mine is fast coming into prominence because of the vast rich ore bodies that are being encountered.

The best showing made this season was the recent strike made at the LeRoy properties.

A D. LeRoy has just returned from a stay of two weeks at the LeRoy mines and reports as follows:

"At the bottom of the shaft, which is now down thirty-six feet, seven feet wide and ten feet long,

A. D. LE ROY.

we have only one wall. The seven feet is all ore, and five feet of the seven is solid galena and copper.

"No assay has been made on this last strike. We will probably be compelled to abandon that work on account of water and will be able to do but little more work until next season."

Samples of the ore at the Leader office, now on display, show much higher grade than has ever come out before.

"Some very fine grade free milling ore, continued Mr. LeRoy was taken from No. 2 level, where the ledge is thirty-three feet wide, seven feet of this ledge being of that distinctive and peculiar pink and blue stain which proved so rich in the old Helena ledge.

"No. 3 level shows nine feet of free ore in the thirty-three-foot ledge, and only one wall.

The ore in No. 4 level is a heavy concentrate body.

"No. 5 level shows up thirty-six feet of ledged three, feet of which is running ten-per cent copper.

"An assay of the whole makes a total value of $37.44 to the ton and Mr. LeRoy states that there is ore enough in sight to run a large plant for years to come.

"Our intention," he continued "is to place machinery as fast as possible. There is no reason why the LeRoy mine should not be one of the heaviest producers in the Bohemia camp.

The ores on display in the office of the Leader have attracted a great deal of attention during the week.

Killed a Big Black "Bear." Curtis Veatch who lives near the head of Silk Creek, some miles west of the city, has the honor of killing the largest black bear which has been seen in this locality for many years.

For some six years his bearship has been seen and many attempts have been made to bring him down but until Saturday he had succeeded in eluding both dogs and hunters.

Saturday evening when it grew time to bring in the stock, Mr. Veatch took his gun called his dogs and mounted his horse, started to bring them in.

While traveling through the woods the dogs caught the first scent of the bear which evidently had just crossed the road and at once gave chase.

Veatch followed for a short distance and then rode along a trail in a general direction taken by the bear and dogs.

From the baying of the hounds it was evident the bear was swinging back to the starting point and soon Veatch discovered him climbing a tree, the dogs having overtaken him.

When the bear was about sixty-feet from the ground a ball was sent between its shoulders. Mr. Veatch says the bear seemed to spring backward some 15 or 20 feet from the tree and then fell, striking on a fallen tree; breaking it into several pieces.

Although probably unnecessary another shot was added, when the bear ceased to move. Naturally Mr. Veatch was pleased to add this, the largest one to his already long list of bears killed.

The bear was purchased by the Commercial Club and will be mounted and placed on exhibition in the Club rooms.

From now on and during the winter the Woodmen of the world will meet at 7:30 o'clock.
