System Complete and Buildings Fully Up to Requirements---Personnel of Faculty in High and Grammar Grades---Notes.

Students at the Cottage Grove schools have reason to be glad that their homes are here and that advantages are theirs which are not to be had in many towns of much larger population. Cottage Grove has two fine school buildings provided with all necessities for thorough and complete education in primary, grammar and high school courses. The buildings are fully up to requirements. Views of the buildings shown here will give friends and relatives in other places a good idea of the advantages of the city in the educational way. The new school house on the west side of the Willamette was built at a cost of $6400 and is modern in every way. The department now has fifteen school rooms at its command. Trustees of the district are L. F. Wooley, O. O. Veatch, Chas. Van Denburg, and D. T. Awbery, clerk. A brief sketch of each member of the corps of teachers is furnished this week by the Leader:

Superintendent G. H. Dunn is a native of Ohio. He is a graduate of Avery High School, C. C. K. State Normal, Cook's Institute and the Western University of Chicago. He began teaching in 1879. Later he spent a year in Europe, studying educational systems especially those of Germany, France and the British Isles. Returning to the United States he took a post graduate course and received the degree of Master of Arts and later the degree of Doctor of Laws and was appointed Asland Normal, 1904. He took great interest in the literary work of the school and was a member of the Normal Glee Club. He comes of a family of educators. His uncle J. W. Strange was School Superintendent of Douglas county some years ago. Another uncle A. C. Strange is principal at Prineville. H. S. Strange an uncle, was Superintendent of Union county, principal of the Union city schools, and later City Superintendent at Oregon City and Superintendent of Clackamas county, being one of the most noted educators of the state.

Miss Maude Gallogly of the High School graduated from Eugene High School, studied at the University of Oregon, and is an accomplished linguist. She speaks French and German fluently and is well versed in Latin. Two sisters of Miss Gallogly are successful teachers and a brother is at West Point. Young Gallogly was chosen toastmaster while a freshman on the occasion of the visit of Sir Thomas Lipton to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, because of his bright mind and pleasing personality.

Miss Nan Shively of the High School received diplomas from the Astoria High School and State Normal at Monmouth. She has taught six years in the schools of Washington. Miss Shively has two sisters who are successful in educational work. Her father was Superintendent of Schools for Clatsop county for three terms.

Mrs. Jane Powell, teacher of the Sixth and Seventh grades (east side) was educated at Atlantic City, Iowa. She has taught seventeen years, ten of which were in Nebraska and the last seven years in Oregon.

Miss Bertie Bailey, Fifth and Sixth grades (east side), is a graduate of Mountain Grove High School, Missouri. She attended Harrison Academy in Arkansas and the Conservatory at Mexico, Mo. She shows great adaptability for school work. Miss Bailey and Miss Gertrude Palmer were classmates.

Mrs. Gertrude Palmer also graduated from Mountain Grove High School. Later she graduated from the Central Oregon Normal School at Drain, where she received her practice training. Miss Palmer is in charge of the Fourth and Fifth grades on the west side.

Mrs. Tillie Taylor is a graduate of the Drain Normal under Prof. Benson. She has taught twenty years, two being as vice-principal at Grants Pass. This is her fifth year as teacher in Cottage Grove schools. Mrs. Taylor has the Third and Fourth Grades on the east side.

Miss Ethel Taylor (Second and Third grades, east side) graduated at the Drain Normal under President Hawley. She attended U. of O. at Eugene and has taught twelve years in Oregon schools. For three years she has taught in Cottage Grove.

A Convenience

A checking account with a bank is a great convenience; not only does the business and professional man appreciate his checking account, but the progressive farmer as well, and too, the wide awake woman. Those who do not keep such an account miss many of its advantages. We Open Check Accounts for corporations, firms and individuals, and supply them with check-books, so that they can draw against their deposits in favor of other persons. We are always glad to explain the many advantages of a checking account to those who are not familiar with them.

METHODISTS' NEW PASTOR

Conference Names Rev.
Frank H. Moore.

THREE DISTRICTS

Oregon Conference Reduces Number of Presiding Elders---Rev. Feese
Goes to Corvallis.

The Oregon District Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church closed its session at Eugene Monday evening at a late hour.

This was one of the most notable meetings of the Conference. Important interests of the church and the despatch with which business was attended to, prominent men present, and the quality of their addresses all contributed to make the conference remembered.

Bishop Henry Spellmeyer of New York presided in a manner satisfactory to all. His addresses were listened to with great interest and elicited many favorable comments.

His sermon on Sunday morning was especially good and was listened to by a thousand people.

Bishop Thoburn, the Saint Paul of today, was present during four days of the conference. Though still showing the effects of the severe accident which befell him on his way from India to this country, he gave abundant evidence of an unwearied spirit. His recital of experiences was an unbroken chain, showing the faith of the missionary and the faithfulness of his God. His sermon on Sunday morning was only begun; that thousands were flocking to 'The Christ, and that millions more were waiting to hear the message which would bring them hope.

Dr. Johnson who was missionary to Japan for seventeen years gave an address upon Japan and Japanese education, which while it did not dwell upon war conditions, yet gave all to see a reason for Japanese power.

Dr. Jennings of the Book Concern gave a report which was an evidence of careful and successful business management. While other publishing houses have been retrenching or failing, the Book Concern has been steadily growing until it is now the greatest in the United States.

Presiding Elder Ford presented the claims of the Church Extension Society in a masterful address.

Near the close of the address the lights failed and complete darkness prevailed but this did not seem to disturb the speaker in the least as he continued to the end without a break.

The spiritual life of all present was greatly revived by addresses morning and afternoon of each day by Evangelist Smith.

His exposition of scripture was often new, always refreshing and never questioned. Saint and sinner were alike edified.

Willamette University was one of the most prominent subjects.

Dr. Coleman came to present her interests but was taken sick and did not recover sufficiently to attend any of the sessions.

Dr. D. L. Rader, editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, was called on and in a very pleasing manner pleaded for education in general and Willamette University in particular.

Provision was made to place the school upon a firm basis financially and to secure its success.

Three presiding elders having served their time limit closed their labors and were appointed to the pastorate.

Dr. Watters of Salem district was given a loving cup by his brethren as a token of their love and esteem.

D. T. Somerville of Grants Pass district, was remembered by the present of a Standard Dictionary

G. H. Dunn, A. M., LL.D., Superintendent of Schools and our own Dr. Ford was given a massive gold cane.

Many kind words and expressions of love were heard during the presenting and receiving of these tokens.

By decision of the Bishop the four districts were abolished and Portland, East Portland, and Eugene were established.

Dr. Rockwell was given East Portland, Dr. Hollingshead the Portland district, and Dr. Wire the Eugene district, and they entered at once upon their labors by calling their ministers together and holding an informal meeting for council and instruction.

Rev. G. H. Feese of this place was appointed to Corvallis and Rev. be the Pastor here.

With many expressions of hope and good will the ministers departed to their several fields of labor to meet in Albany for their next annual conference, one year hence. Rev. Moore will assume his pastorate here on October 16th.

Will Give Concert.

Prof. Chas. S. Cochran has taken charge of the Cottage Grove Band. The boys have begun rehearsing for their first fall concert to be given soon. Under the instructions of Mr. Cochran they expect to be able to render some first class music. The band has become well drilled already and their music has proved very enjoyable to the people of Cottage Grove. Keep it up, boys.

CHESTNUTS GROWN

Money in Apples if Properly Cared For---How Oregon Farmers May Increase Bank Accounts.

Last Monday morning Felix Currin brought to Cottage Grove, walnuts grown on his farm on Row river. The nuts are meaty and large--such as sell in the market for 12 1/2 to 15 cents per pound.

These particular nuts are of the English variety and were grown without care or cultivation. Mr. Currin will plant more trees this fall. He states that chestnuts grow well here. There is along the Willamette, the Leader is informed, a chestnut orchard that is producing good sized nuts. Mr. Currin reports that chestnuts on his trees will average the size of a half dollar. The trees, he states, are bending with their weight of nuts.

On the Currin place at the confluence of Mosby Creek and Row river may be seen one of the greatest object lessons that could be shown Oregon farmers. Surrounding the homestead is an old
