SATURDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1904

Judging from the way the Cottage Grove Leader is booming the Lewis and Clark Exposition one would naturally suppose it was going to be held at Cottage Grove instead of at Portland. Between every article long or short the Leader prints, "1905—Oregon—1905."

It should be noted by numerous friends of the Leader in other cities that the words "1905—Oregon—1905" do not mean only the Lewis and Clark Exposition. That is only to be an incident in the future years of Oregon. Next year it may be well for all the newspapers of the state to work for "1906—Oregon—1906."

Cedar timber for telephone poles is being shipped from Cottage Grove to California points. It is of the red variety, straight and clear. Such timber would make beautiful furniture and would carry a very high polish. Some of the twenty-five foot sticks, fresh from the ax of the woodman, are as straight as if sawed by machinery. One of the coming industries of Oregon will be the manufacture of furniture. Ash grows here in abundance. It only requires men who realize the opportunity to make Oregon not only a state of resources, but of manufacturing importance.

Contest Will Close Oct. 20th.

Less than a week remains in which to vote in the contest for the works of Shakespeare offered by the Leader to the young person who secures the most votes on subscription by October 20th. A vote for every cent paid on subscription, new or old. Miss Harlow maintains the lead in the contest and is more than likely to receive the eight volumes of the splendid edition of Shakespeare offered. The vote stands as follows:

Lulu Harlow, Star, Ore.....6725
Lindley Welch.....1900
Katie Knowlton.....1050
Leta Sanford.....575
Anna Oglesby.....300
Allen B. Baker.....150

Wedded Quietly.

Miss Ethel Knowlton was married Sunday evening to G. M. Morse, a popular young man who has been in the employ of T. W. MacBeath's Market. Miss Knowlton has been employed by Mrs. Pet Sanford for some time. The young couple surprised their friends by the unannounced marriage. Only relatives were present. They will make their home in Cottage Grove.

A World of Little Things.

A little trill of laughter, a chord in nature's song;
A little deed of righteousness to stand against the wrong;
A little duty heeded, a little honor won;
A little hill surmounted and a little kindness done;
A little labor day, a little prayer and praise;
A little act of kindness to gladden weary days;
And so the whole creation to its ceaseless heaven swings.
For little man is living in a world of little things.

A little hope to cheer us, although it waits till;
A little fire for comfort when winter nights are chill;
A little dream, God given, to bless us on the way;
A little welcome waiting us at ending of the day;
A little purpose shining through every deed we do;
A little bunch of roses to overspread the rue;
A little peace surpassing to which the spirit clings.
For little man is living in a world of little things.
A little hope, a little love, a little toil and rest;
A little glimpse beyond the veil, a little problem guessed;
A little faith, a little doubt, a little blind trust;
A little halting journey and a little of its fruit;
A little knowledge merely of little ways we wend;
A little dream of heaven awaiting at the end;
A little struggling upward, although on broken wings.
For little man is living in a world of little things.
—Alfred J. Waterhouse in New York Times.

FACTS ABOUT ALFALFA

Fred Achilles of Salem, Ore., Says It Will Pay $50 an Acre.

There is no doubt in my mind that alfalfa can be grown as a profitable and successful crop in western Oregon, and even on the tide lands. I have alfalfa four feet high at present that was sown eight years ago and has never died out. In all I have between 25 and 30 acres in alfalfa. I turn off 110 hogs each year, fattening them on green alfalfa and dry meal, and the butchers to whom I sell my pork all say that it has a flavor that they cannot find in other pork. My first experience was with California seed, but I have since used imported seed and find it better. The California seed costs 17½¢ a pound, while the imported costs 20 cents. Land sown last year in June was cut for hay May 30, and produced three tons to the acre. Since then I have let the stock eat it down three times. Cows turned on green alfalfa give five to six quarts more milk per day. Dairy men at Portland say they prefer alfalfa hay to any other for dry feed, and I have no trouble to sell at good prices. Some of my best alfalfa stands on land that is overflooded in winter six to eight feet. It does not pay to be stingy with seed in sowing alfalfa. I put 20 lbs. on the acre. On old land I put $5 manure to the acre. Plow land twice, once 15 inches deep with four horses, drag it well five or six times before sowing. To make a perfect crop the alfalfa field should be separately fenced or have movable fences to feed down with hogs or cows when ready. After sown, before it gets into bloom it should be cut. The first year of growth it must be cut as often as it gets ready to bloom. If you let it go to seed the first year, you spoil the stand and check all future growth. As often as you mow it down the first year, you send the roots down and cause it to stool out. The roots will finally go to water or moist earth, and then you have the foundation for a fine stand and can feed or cut as often as it comes up after the first year. The crop is at least five tons to the acre. The season of 1904 has been very dry, but my alfalfa fields are green. I have several patches on new bottom land that has just been cleared of trees and it does very well there. The main thing is the first year. Do not let it get into bloom and keep stock off. After you get your stand you can feed it down to the ground, and it will come up thicker than ever.—Drain Nonpareil.

Will Issue Phone List.

For convenience of local users of the telephone the Leader will issue a condensed list of subscribers for free distribution. On it will be found the cards of many business firms, whom you may call by number at a glance. These cards will be issued in about one week and all who desire them may have them free. Call next week and get a list and one of the maps of Cottage Grove that are being given away by the Leader.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between H. K. Metcalf and L. Morse and known as Metcalf & Morse, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. L. Morse retiring. Mr. A. Brund having purchased the interest of Mr. Morse, the firm will hereafter be known as Metcalf & Brund.
All persons indebted to Metcalf & Morse must settle their accounts by November 1, or they will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection.

A Question of Tacks.

Any reader of this paper, sending 25 cents in silver, by postal note or in one and two cent stamps, will be sent The Daily Journal one month; or The Sunday Journal two months; or the semi-weekly Journal three months or the Weekly Journal four months, and in addition a match safe filled with tacks, postage prepaid. Address The Journal, Portland, Oregon.

M. F. Babcock has grown this year some very excellent quinces of large size and good form. He has sold some of this fruit for $1 per bushel. Another proof that fruit growing will pay. It may be noted in this connection that the dealers of Cottage Grove should arrange seed for sale at the Cottage Grove Flour Mills.

CHURCH CONVENTION

Three Day Session This Week at Christian Church.

The "Churches of Christ" in Lane county are now holding their annual meeting at the Christian church in this city. A good representation is present from the various churches and every one present is enjoying a most profitable time.

A pleasant feature of this convention is the presence of the Divinity School male quartette and Mrs. Lobdell instructor in vocal music in the Eugene Divinity school. Their songs are inspiring and well rendered.

Among the speakers of the convention are Rev. J. J. Evans, State secretary, D. E. Olson, county secretary, Mrs. E. C. Wigmore and D. C. Kellems of Eugene.

Prof. Wigmore will speak this afternoon on "The Church's Peace and Power" and Prof. Kellems will occupy the pulpit tonight at 8 o'clock.

The convention will include in its deliberations all departments of the church work in the county and will close Saturday forenoon with a C. E. Rally and a sermon at 11 a. m. by Rev. M. F. Horn of Eugene.

The following is the program of the Lane County missionary convention of the Christian church, held at Cottage Grove this week, Oct. 12 to 15 inclusive:

WEDNESDAY.

7:30—Song service, Worship in the Master's Service.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes.

We desire to place in the hands of those afflicted with Bright's Disease and Diabetes a 30-page pamphlet that is saving human lives. It is not an ordinary pamphlet, such as is commonly used to advertise medicines, but is principally made up of reports of scientifically conducted tests in a large variety of cases, showing 87 per cent of recoveries in these hitherto incurable diseases.
The specifics employed in these tests are known as the Fulton Compounds and the results obtained prove conclusively that these dreaded diseases so long feared by the death from Bright's Disease alone are appalling, over 100,000 a year, starting as kidney troubles, have at last yielded to medical science. The pamphlet is free. Write to the John J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal.
When to suspect Bright's Disease:—Puffy ankles or hands; weakness without apparent cause; kidney trouble after third month; frequent urination; may show sediment or cloudy on standing; falling vision; day drowsiness; one or more of these.
