Mrs. E. E. Boswell of the Boswell Springs was a visitor to her many friends in Cottage Grove Thursday. The afternoon train was three hours late and the lady's stay was fortunately extended for that period. Capt. B. D. Boswell is busy with orders for the famous Boswell Mineral Water, which is now being bottled in large quantities at the springs and the annual winter visit of this popular couple to San Francisco, where they have many friends in the army and other walks of life, will be deferred until December and possibly January.

Black Butte Quick Silver Mine.

The following concerning The Black Butte Quick Silver Mines that are located about sixteen miles south of Cottage Grove is taken from an article which appeared in the Portland Daily Journal on last Sunday.

Mammoth Ore Bodies.

"The magnitude of the ore bodies cannot be appreciated until they are seen. The crest of a ridge rising 1,750 feet above the level of the creek, has, massive croppings continuously for a distance of 7,500 feet. These croppings are all impregnated with cinnabar. They appear as cliffs at times and great jutting rocks, but careful analysis along the line of the lode, which follows the ridge crest, shows them to be cinnabar ore. A vertical depth of more than 1,600 feet may be had by driving an adit from the level of the present furnace. Above this adit would be backs of 2,000 feet as the lode dips at about 57 degrees from the horizontal. Assume that the croppings of 7,500 feet define a low-grade ore body; take the general width of the lode, 400 feet as a fair average; reckon from the adit level indicated upward, where there will be no pumping, hoisting or shaft work and the result is bewildering, and may be divided many times and yet leave a tonnage available that would cause a Treadwell manager to pause.

MANAGEMENT IS RETICENT.

Mr. Dennis makes no statement as to how much of the lode that has been opened by his several thousand feet of development will be commercial ore by present process or the more improved furnaces he is working on. In fact he makes no assertions relative to the mine. He has been busy six years developing the group, and acquiring territory. The company now has more than 2,000 acres of land in a compact mass, covering all of the cinnabar deposits of the Black Butte district save that owned by a neighboring Portland company. The mine manager merely says he is satisfied with his mine, and is taking his own time to bring it to the producing stage. In a general way he says that if he can perfect mechanical devices and a furnace capable of handling profitably an ore carrying 2 per cent cinnabar, he will have immense reserves ready for the smelter when it is completed.

DEVELOPMENT ON LODE.

No development has been prosecuted from the site of the present furnace. The lowest adit yet driven will give a vertical depth of 850 feet when under the apex of the mountain. This tunnel was a cross-cut for 480 feet. Where it cut the lode there was 120 feet of ore in width regarding a low-grade product. A drift of 500 feet has been made on the vein from this crosscut and three minor crosscuts made between the point of intersection and the fact. The first of these crosscuts is 57 feet long, the second 67 feet and the third 47 feet, all being in cinnabar ore.

Tunnel No. 4, driven on a level 200 feet vertically above the lower adit, has been carried about 1,000 feet on the lode, and has numerous crosscuts along this drift, proving a large body of cinnabar. No. 2 tunnel, 200 feet higher, also has a length of about 1,000 feet, all on the vein, and has numerous crosscuts. On the apex open cuts and shallow tunnels have been made along the course of the great ore body. On the other side of the divide a considerable amount of work has been done opening the lode from that direction.

Andrew Brund of the firm of Metcalf and Brund returned from Portland Tuesday. He reports Mrs. Brund, who is at the North Pacific Sanitarium, as improving but it is expected it will be six weeks before she will be able to return home.

W. H. Watson, of Glendale, was recently convicted of arson and Judge Hamilton gave him 15 years at the penitentiary.

GEMS IN VERSE

Convalescent.

Once more the rapture of the wind and rain
And rich scent of the warm, damp, broken mold,
And I, who never thought to see again
The white snow leave the fallow and the fold
Or the dark rock wheel onward to her brow,
Am out before the first white lily flower
And long before the summer and the bee,
While, like a dim far distant dream to me,
Behind the curtain shadow of my bed
Death calls his hounds to leash, discomfited.

—WILL H. OGDEN.

The Country Store.

Far out beyond the city's lights,
Away from din and roar,
The cricket chirps of summer nights
Beneath the country store,
The dry goods boxes rickety around
Afford a welcome seat
For weary tigers of the ground
Who here of evenings meet.

A swinging sign of ancient make
And one above the door
Proclaim that William Henry Blake
Is owner of the store.
Here everything, from jeans to tweed,
From slits to gingham bright,
Is spread before the folk who need
From early morn till night.

Tea, sugar, coffee (brown and green),
Molasses, griddle cakes, tar,
Suspenders, pegs, navy beans
And home made vinegar;
Fine combs, wash wringers, rakes, false hair,
Painks, rice and looking glasses,
Sidesaddles, hominy, crockery ware
And seeds for garden grasses.

Lawn mowers, candles, books to read,
Corn planter, household goods,
Tobacco, seed, salt, clover seed,
Horsewhips and knitted hoods,
Canned goods, shoeblacking, lime and nails,
Straw hats and carpet slippers,
Prunes, buttons, codfish, bird's nests,
Cranberries, clocks and clippers.

Umbrellas, candles, scythes and bats,
Caps, boots and shoes and bacon,
Cups, brooms, pins and rough on rats
Thread, nutmegs, pine and rough on rats
For cash or produce taken.
Bird seed, face powder, matches, flies,
Tobacco, onion sets and more,
Are found in heaps and stacks and piles
Within the country store.

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat? When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship. And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, give you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success. The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles, to be given to the ten persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these Automobiles is $13,700. There are also eight cash prizes of $100 each, making the total value of the prizes $14,500. For every dollar you pay on an order for Royal tailoring you can make one guess; on a $15 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $20 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—a guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woollens—something sure to please everybody: suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.

But the thing to do is to see the goods and get the prices. You can do that by calling on
