AFTER FAILURE,—WHAT?

"I wish," said President Roosevelt, in a recent address in Washington, "to see in the average American citizen the determination not to shrink back when temporarily beaten in life, as each one will be now and then, but to come up again and wrest triumph from defeat."

"To come up again and wrest triumph from defeat." That is the secret of the success of every noble life that ever was lived.

Perhaps the past year has been a bitter disappointment to you. In looking it over you may feel that you have been a failure, or at best have been plodding along in mediocrity. You may not have succeeded in the particular thing you expected to do; you may have lost money when you expected to make it; or you may have lost friends and relatives who were very dear to you. You may have lost your business, and even your home may have been wrenched from you because you could not pay the mortgage on it, or because of sickness and consequent inability to work. A serious accident may have apparently robbed you of power. The New Year may present a very discouraging outlook to you. Yet in spite of any or all of these misfortunes, if you refuse to be conquered, victory is waiting you further on the road.

He is a pretty poor sort of a man who loses courage and fears to face the world just because he has made a mistake or a slip somewhere, because his business has failed, because his property has been swept away by some general disaster, or because of other trouble impossible to avert.

This is the test of your manhood: how much is there left in you after you have lost everything outside of your self? If you lie down now, throw up your hands, and acknowledge yourself worsted, there is not much in you. But if, with a heart undaunted and face turned forward, you refuse to give up or to lose faith in yourself, if you scorn to beat a retreat, you will show that the man left in you is bigger than your loss, greater than your cross, and larger than any defeat.

You may say that you have failed too often, that there is no use in trying, that it is impossible for you to succeed, and that you have fallen too often in an attempt to get on your feet again. Nonsense! There is no failure for a man whose spirit is unconquered. No matter how late the hour, or how many and repeated his failures, success is still possible. Time and again, in the history of our daily lives, chronicled in our newspapers, recorded in biographies, or exhibited before our eyes, we see men and women redeeming past failures, rising up out of the stupor of discouragement, and boldly turning face forward once more.

There can be no failure to a man who has not lost his courage, his character, his self-respect, or his self-confidence. He is still a king.—Success Magazine.

GOOD UNDERTONE.

There is among the business interests of this section a strong undertone for an increase in the near future. Several deals of property of considerable importance have been made in the past few weeks and following upon this comes the announcement that several new brick business houses will be built in Cottage Grove as soon as weather conditions will permit.

The lumber market is improving and a raise of price has already gone into effect. This industry is one of vital importance to business in this section and every improvement in the markets, however slight, cannot but be an advantage.

The Bohemia Mining District is in a better condition for great operations than ever before, and conservative men are emphatic in their statements that the opening of the spring season will see developments on a larger scale.

The late fall and early winter has been an ideal one for farming in all branches and with a normal spring season 1905 ought to be a year for banner agricultural crops.

The railroad companies are advertising settler rates that cannot fail to bring to Oregon an influx of home buyers, and this favored region will certainly attract its share of the new comers.

A thoughtful consideration of all branches of industry that tend to make an improvement in business shows nothing but improvement in each and every line, and that Cottage Grove will forge ahead in 1905 is an assured fact.

THE MAIL ORDER HOUSE.

An Exchange talks in the right manner as follows:

When the catalogue comes from your mail order house, draw an easy chair to the table where the light will shine full on the page and put on your glasses that no bargain may escape your eye. What a wonderful book it is, to be sure—wonderful in what it does not contain as well as what it does. We miss some things we would be glad to see. Where is their offer to pay cash or exchange goods for your wheat, oats, corn, beans, butter, eggs and hay? How much do they pay for cattle, sheep and hogs, f. o. b. at your depot? How much tax will they pay to support your schools and educate your children? For improving roads and bridges; for the support of the poor of the county; for the expenses of running the business of the township, county and state? On what page is their offer to contribute money to the support of the church? What line of credit will they extend to you when your crops are poor and money gone; when through illness and misfortune you are not able to send "cash with order" for your groceries, clothing, farm tools and crockery? Where is their offer to contribute to your entertainment next Fourth of July? What did they do last Fourth? In short will they do anything to provide a market for what you have to sell and thereby keep up the value of your real estate? Will they do anything for social, church, school or government support, or do they take your dollars out of the community with no returns except the goods you buy?

Junction Wants Electric Lights.

Councilmen G. S. Keck and E. Van Vrauken of Junction were in Cottage Grove Thursday. They were delegated to this city by the council of Junction as a committee to investigate the cost and power of lights, with a view to installing in that city a system of street lights. A large excelsior factory is being established at Junction and its promoters are fitting up a plant for the purpose of lighting for their own interests, and they have made a proposition to the city to furnish them lights at a nominal cost. The Junction people knew that Cottage Grove was a good town to copy after so sent their councilmen here to take notes.

Pleasant Card Party.

Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Campbell entertained a few friends Wednesday evening at High Five. A pleasant evening was spent by those present and during the progress of the games it was plainly seen that Mr. Campbell was the champion of the evening. Light refreshments were served at the close of the games, concluding a very pleasant evening. Those present besides the genial host and hostess and family were: Mr. and Mrs. P. Hohl, Mr. and Mrs. Sim Brant and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rosenberg and Mrs. Hogue who is visiting here from Vancouver, Washington.

"The Two Little Waifs."

This play is one of the most successful ever written and staged by Lincoln J. Carter and will be seen at the opera house on Monday Jan. 9th. It is without doubt one of the most stirring plays that will be seen in this city this season. The story itself is full of strong heart interest. The villain, in order to win the love of another man's wife, breaks up the home and kidnaps one of the children. The mother is reduced to abject poverty, but in her direst need, refuses aid from the man who brought trouble to the door of her home by his base plotting. The piece is full of pathos and tears but is not without some good comedy.

MODERN WOODMAN
INSTALL OFFICERS

Followed by Banquet in Conjunction With the Royal Neighbors.

On last Tuesday evening the Modern Woodman of America held initiation ceremonies which were followed by installation of officers, and later the Royal Neighbors, the ladies auxiliary of the order, joined them when a banquet and social session was enjoyed.

George Comer acted as installing officer while W. F. Shanafelt officiated in the capacity of Chief Forester. Officers were installed as follows: Lee Roy Woods, Venerable Consul; George Ewen, Advisor; William Johnson, Banker; C. W. Wallace, Clerk; E. R. Lackey, Esq.; Roy Shreeves, Watchman; Curtis Veatch, Manager; Joseph Cornick, Sentry.

A charming evening was spent by all attending and the social session is said to have been one of the most enjoyable occasions ever experienced by the order.

H. T. B.'s Will Play Albany.

The H. T. B. basket ball team will leave Saturday afternoon for Albany where a game has been arranged with the team of Albany College for that evening. The home team expects a hard game as the Albany team is composed of older and stronger players. However that may be the H. T. B. girls will make them feel that they have had a game before the play is over.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
for children safe, sure. No opiates

NO MORE STOMACH TROUBLES.

All stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Erskine, of Albion, Mich., says "I suffered heartburn and stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold by The Modern Pharmacy.

The Original

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mildly laxative, it contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. J. S. Benson Pharmacy.

The Latham Machine Shops

are prepared to do all kinds of machine and general repair work, metal turning, fitting and adjusting of machine parts. All orders will be given prompt and careful attention.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach and expose the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Kodol Digests What You Eat Make the Stomach Sweet. Bottles only. Regular size, $1.50, holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50 cents. Prepared by E. C. DeWITT & CO., Chicago, Ill. For Sale by the Modern Pharmacy

An analysis will show that the flour made by the COTTAGE GROVE FLOUR MILLS is far better than any other flour made in the Valley. Therefore, may it please the court, I ask, that the jury may be compelled to eat a barrel of this flour, before deciding upon this case, in which case they will unquestionably have some brain material in their stomachs, even if they have none in their heads.
