Married at the residence of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Piper, by Justice J. W. Baker, Mr. Andrew Nelson and Miss Nola C. Piper. It was a very pretty, quiet wedding and no invited guests. An elegant supper was served and the fair bride did not forget to send some superb wedding cake to THE LEADER office. The happy young couple comprise our best young people, and have the best wishes of THE LEADER and a host of sincere friends. Mr. Nelson is one of our prominent young business men and is doing a good business with the electric lights he is running for Cottage Grove and Lemati. May he and his fair young bride always be happy and prosperous.

An exchange tells its readers how to mind their own p's in the following paragraph: "Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, for pecuniary prospects of the press have a peculiar power in pushing forward public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly and his pocket book kept plenteous by prompt paying patrons, he puts his pen to his paper in peace, his paragraphs are more pointed, he paints pictures of passing events in more pleasing colors and the pursuit of his paper is a pleasure to the reader. Place this piece of proverbial philosophy in some place where all persons can see it."

A jolly time and bushels of fun.

Rural Northwest: It is very evident that some varieties of fruit are much less affected by cold, rainy springs than others. Some varieties of pears are well loaded with fruit while others have lost not only their fruit but most of their foliage. Sour cherries and even sweet cherry seedlings are well loaded while the standard varieties will as a rule give a very light crop. If fruit growers will send in reports as to good varieties of fruit which will yield well this year where other varieties are a failure it will greatly aid in arriving at correct inferences in this matter.

One thing is very noticeable to the bunch-grassers who visit the Willamette valley and Puget sound, says a writer in the Walla Walla Gazette. The complexion of the men and women there is very clear, and their skin is soft and smooth. This is due to their cloudy weather and to their humid atmosphere. The dry, dusty weather of the Inland Empire with its abundance of sunshine produces an opposite effect upon the bunch-grasser. The contrast is striking. A barber in Olympia says that if he were blindfolded he could tell every subject from the interior who should sit in his chair by the dryness and harshness of his hair.

Most of the capital in this country is in the east and the good mines are in the west. While some portion of this capital is continually being invested in mining, the amount is not as great as the needs of the mining districts demand, or as the opportunities for profitable investment warrant. There are indications that the eastern public has begun to appreciate this fact and reliable information from the mines is being sought for in many quarters where, a short time ago, little or no interest existed. The more largely the merits of our American gold fields are advertised and the greater the amount of capital and business ability interested in their development, the better it will be for the future financial prosperity of the country.—Mining Industry.

Send THE LEADER to some one as a present.

One swallow does not make Spring, but one swallow of One Minute Cough Cure brings relief. J. P. Currin druggist; Joe Lyons, Drain.

Slander is a conjugation of evils, the source of infinite mischief. It undermines peace, saps the foundation of friendship, destroys families, rends in pieces the very heart and vitals of charity, and makes an evil man at the same moment, the accuser, witness, judge and executioner of the innocent. Man may practice it, the world listen to it, the devil favor it, but God will judge and fearfully punish it.

Ezeema is a frightful affliction, but like all other skin diseases it can be permanently cured by applications of De Witt's Hazel Salve. It never fails to cure Piles, J. P. Currin druggist; Joe Lyons, Drain.

Shun a tattler. If you do not wish to speak ill of any do not delight to hear ill of them. Give no countenance to busybodies, and those that love to talk of other men's faults or if you cannot decently reprove them direct the discourse some other way, and if you cannot do that then show your disapproval of the mischief maker and his tattler.

In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of—De Witt's Little Early Risers, for they always cleanse the liver, purify the blood, and invigorate the system. J. P. Currin druggist; Joe Lyons, Drain.

A well known gentleman of Eugene while out walking with a couple of ladies a few evenings since espied an object on the sidewalk, which appeared to be a well-filled pocket book. His disappointment can be imagined when on picking it up he found it was a big fat toad. The echoes of the ladies' screams have scarcely died away at this writing.

Rural Northwest: Mr. J. R. Shepard, of Zena, reports that his Bing cherry trees promise a full crop. We would like to have reports from others who may have Bing cherry trees that are at least seven years old. Bing trees younger than that are generally shy bearers even in favorable seasons. If the Bing in such a season as this will give a good crop of fruit the fact ought to be generally known. It appears probable that the Bing will ultimately be found the most valuable of all the new fruits originated by the late Seth Lewelling.

Rural Northwest: The experience of this season will probably convince a good many fruit growers that it is a good thing to combine some other branch of farming with fruit growing. A few specialists may find it profitable to confine themselves to fruit alone, but such persons must have capital enough to carry them over years of failure. What to carry on in connection with fruit is a question largely of circumstances.

Mrs. N. Meyette, the Genesee county treasurer of the W. C. T. U. and a very influential worker in the cause of women, says: "I have used Parks' Tea and find it the best remedy I have ever tried for constipation. It requires smaller doses and is more thorough.
