LOADED WITH KNIVES—Wednesday morning Marshal Mc Farland arrested a tramp who had been endeavoring to dispose of some cutlery around town that looked suspiciously new. Upon search being made some 15 or 20 brand new pocket knives and several new dirk knives were found upon him. The fellow was held for 24 hours but no one claiming such a loss the fellow was permitted to go. The marshal however bought the fellow's wares and now has them on exhibition.

RATTLESNAKE—R W Veatch the veteran snake fiend, killed a large rattler last week near the Cal Wallace place and the stuffed monster was on exhibition at the new Era Drug store, a day or so, attracting considerable attention. Mr Veatch killed its mate at the same spot last year and knowing their habits went back this time with the intention of capturing the rattler alive which he succeeded in doing all right and started for town with it but it was little to strong to carry safely and he was compelled to let it out of the sack and kill it. A number of rattler eggs were taken from the snake and were also a curiosity.

MARRIED.

MARRIED—Harney Valley Items, March 16: The wedding of Mr Sol Davidson and Miss Marv McQueen was solemnized at the Presbyterian parsonage in Burns last Friday evening, March 8, 1901, Rev A J Irwin officiating. Both the contracting parties are new residents of Burns, though Mr Davidson has been here for some months past, located at Welcome's drug store where he has followed his profession as watchmaker and jeweler. Mrs Davidson arrived here last week from her home in Lane county.

Social.

SCOTT—AWBREY.—Mrs L D Scott and Mrs D T Awbrey entertained quite a number of their friends, Friday evening, at the public reading rooms in honor of home talent who so cheerfully assisted in the Library fund entertainment at Martins Hall Saturday week. Nearly all who were on the program on that occasion were present and enjoyed the evenings social until a late hour. After spending some time in social games a lunch was served that would tempt the most fastidious epicurean, which proved the good ladies, not only shine as entertainers, but are also adepts in satisfying the hungry feeling which so often creeps into the sterner sex and thereby makes him forget his gallantry. Viva La Mesdames.

FAREWELL PARTY—Quite a number of Mr and Mrs Frank Golden's friends gathered at the residence of Mr and Mrs Thos Allen Monday evening to pay their respects to Mr Golden before his departure for his home in Eastern Oregon. The evening was pleasantly spent in an old fashioned fire-side chat, interspersed with instrumental and vocal music and climaxed with one those superb lunch's for which Mr and Mrs Allens hospitality is noted. It is needless to say that loaded down with the good thing abounding in Mr Allens larder, the party could not break away from their environments until after the midnight hour and even then the slumbers of those present were doubtless disturbed by visions of mince pies, creams, cakes, nuts, candies, popcorn and oranges.

Those present were: Mr and Mrs Frank Golden, Mr and Mrs John Nokes, Mr and Mrs U S Martin, Mr and Mrs John Allen, Mr and Mrs J C Wallace, Mesdames, Ella Benham, Lucinda Veaten, Mrs Pearson, Miss Winecoff, Ben Pearson, Mr Thos Allen and wife, L F Wooley and wife.
