Mines and Mining.

The Lead Trust Bugaboo.

AN EXPLODED ABSURDITY.

Portland People are Waking up.

The new mining journal just started at Portland also gets onto the Oregonians lead trust Bugaboo. Here is what it says;

"During the last week The Pacific Miner has interviewed numerous gentlemen engaged in mining, and interested in that industry, relative to the statement in the Oregonian of May 27th to the effect that a brother of Senator Clark, of Montana, had been in Portland looking over smelter conditions here, and had stated that the enterprise would not pay here, because the American Smelting and Refining Company controlled the market for lead, and would not purchase that commodity for smelters outside of its combine.

In the first place, it is not true that Senator Clark's brother was here for any such purpose. Mr Clark has purchased a home in Portland and, has been arranging for changes and improvements in the residence and other buildings. He has had no smelter project in view, other than, The Pacific Miner is informed the discouragement of such undertaking because the family owns large blocks of stocks in the smelter trust.

All those interviewed expressed amazement that a journal, usually so well informed, should give public utterance to such an absurdity as that contained in the Oregonian of last Monday.

"There is not a sinetilla of fact in the statement that our lead could not be sold at the regular market value," Mr Chase of the Montana Metallurgical Works, remarked. "It is as stable an article of commerce as gold or silver, almost, and I cannot understand why any other statement should be made. The incentive is beyond my ken."

Without an exception the mining men of the city, spoken to on the subject, expressed themselves in like terms, and mining journals reaching The Pacific Miner's exchange table contain articles of similar report."

Saved His Leg.

P A Dauforth, of LaGrange, Ga., suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For Ulcers, Wounds, Piles it's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. Sold by J P Currin.

The Sumpter Miner has the following pointed reply to the Oregonian's slap at a Portland Smelter. Mining men should read it and then give Scott a few hundred dollars to advertise their mining districts.

"In its issue Monday the Oregonian states that a brother of Senator Clark, of Montana, had been in Portland investigating the feasibility of erecting a smelter there, but that he had learned that the smelter trust would oppose and probably defeat the enterprise. The local story is in text, a characteristic Oregonian editorial. Both writers show ignorance of the subject treated that is really amusing. The idea that a Montana mining man would go to Portland to study the business side of a smelter proposition—other than local conditions—and there stumble onto the fact that there is a smelter trust, to which an independent plant would be objectionable, strikes the average reader as somewhat ridiculous.

Professionals vs Business Men.

A FINE DECORATION GAME

A HOT ONE—On Decoration Day, an immense crowd witnessed an amusing game of base ball between the business men of this city and the professional men. The game was an interesting one from the fact that regular ball players were not allowed in the game. Andy Nelson the popular druggist twirled the sphere for the business men and Prof Briggs did the curving act for the professionals. But five innings were played and judging from the unsprightly movements of the players, for the next few days after the game, that was enough for all parties. The business men were up against it this time however and were never in the game although they created enough amusement to make up for deficient playing. Wm Johnson of the firm of Baker & Johnson was the star for the business men, easily making two hits (hit the ground) while several others only scored one, they were hard ones however, if they were not so gracefully done. Prof Briggs surprised himself and every one else by making a genuine double play. It was not on the program but it counted just the same. D Bristow and R W Newland also covered themselves with glory and perspiration in vain attempts to stop the ball at critical moments, while Jas Ostrander and Dr Petrie played well, Jim missed the ball by a close shave and the game was over to extract a few scores from the plate. John Holland got on to one of the Profs. curves with his full 250 lbs, and now he says the flies at the Hotel are not in it with the one he knocked out to centerfield. Attorney's Knox and Johnson filed a few "bribe" hits against Nelson and were in evidence most of the time. By the way Knox has a way of his own in jumping over all opposition. The following was the lineup.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 5.—David Brewer, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, was married to Miss Emma Minor Mott, of Washington, this evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev G G Atkins, of the First Congregational Church, at the home of Mrs J L Hall, who is a niece of Mrs Brewer. No announcements or invitations had been given out, and only members of the families were present.

The 4th of July celebration seems to be a question of put up.

BOEN.

Gowdy.—Thursday, May 30 to the wife of J W Gowdy, a fine girl.

Crop Bulletin.

The past week has been cool, unusually cloudy, and with deficient rainfall, except that well distributed showers occurred in the northeast portion of the State on Saturday. Light frosts occurred Thursday morning in many sections of the State, but no damage resulted from them. The soil is sufficiently moist in all sections of the State, except in Jackson county, where more rain is needed.

There has been a marked improvement in the condition of all kinds of grain during the week. The hessian fly in Washington county is not doing as much damage as was expected, and there are practically no complaints this week of injury by the grain aphid. Some few fields of fall wheat on low land have turned yellow, but the bulk of the crop is in excellent condition and that the farthest advanced is heading nicely. Spring grain is everywhere growing well and promises to be an excellent crop.

Hops, potatoes and gardens have made good advancement, but corn continues somewhat backward on account of the prevailing cool nights.

Some early alfalfa and clover have been cut, and haying will generally begin in a week or ten days, with the prospects favorable for an extra heavy crop being harvested.

Strawberries are abundant, and the prospects are also favorable for a large crop of blackberries. Tree fruit continues dropping in some sections, but complaints of this character are diminishing. Prunes are very uneven, owing to the frosts, some correspondents report that the trees have all the fruit they can carry, while others near by report the crop a total failure. The peach crop will undoubtedly be short. Apples continue promising.

Portland Dispatch.—On the very day that President McKinley in Southern California regaled his hearers with his usual twaddle about the great prosperity of the country, stocks in the New York market shrunk over $700,000,000 in value, carrying ruin to hundreds of thousands, and on the day after the launching of the battle ship Ohio, where the President again talked about the country's great prosperity, and particularly congratulated the employees of the company that built the ship, 3,700 out of 4,000 of them went out on a strike along with 50,000 other machinists all over the land.
