A SAD ACCIDENT—Mr Thomas Williams met with a very sad accident last Wednesday which will probably cost him his life while working on the gang edger in Perkins & Bledsoes saw mill at Leona Douglas Co had the sharp end of a board driven into his breast to the depth of nine inches. It entered his left breast just below the collar bone passing just over the heart and on through the right lung stopping against the ribs on the right side.

Dr Wade of Drain was at once summoned and with help removed the piece of timber which was about one inch square it requiring the strength of two men to pull it out after being cut around by the doctor. The accident happened by a wide inch board becoming cramped between the saws and the machine kicked it back with a force like a cannon ball. He is resting easy at present but his chances of recovery is not one in ten thousand.
