Another Pioneer Gone.

Aunt Mary beloved wife of J W Cole died at the residence of her daughter Mrs J B Stewart May 11, 1902 of paralysis. Mary Cox was born May 9, 1830, in Fulton County, Illinois, married to J W Cole January 22, 1852 emigrated to Oregon the same year. To them were born eight children only one survives them Mrs J B Stewart. The deceased lived with the Christian church quite young. She leaves an aged husband besides many relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

A precious one from us is gone
 A voice we loved is still,
 A place is vacant in our home
 Which never can be filled.

God in his wisdom has recalled
 The boon his love had given
 And through the body moulders here
 The soul is safe in heaven.

Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding
 O'er the spoils that death has won
 We would at this solemn meeting
 Calmly say thy will be done.

Though cast down, we're not forsaken

Though afflicted, not alone
 Thou didst give and Thou has taken
 Blessed Lord thy will be done.

Will not back the dear departed
 Anchored safe where storms are
 On the border land we left them
 Soon to meet and part no more,
 When we leave this world of changes
 We shall find the missing loved ones
 In our Father's mansion fair.

A FRIEND.

The Church Can Endorse.

"Too Rich To Marry" is a polite comedy that the pastor of a Church can advise his congregation to go and see.

Edwin Owings Towne, the author has in his possession letters from scores of ministers all highly praising his comedy and giving it the stamp of their approval. And still "Too Rich to Marry" is not so called a Sunday School Dram, but it is recommended by Pastors everywhere, because it is a true picture of real life.

The lives of a family of peaceful, law abiding, God fearing Dunkards, with an American heir make up the principal characters in the piece with an artist and a mine owner and others to complete the picture of real life. The comedy will be at the Martin Opera House Friday May 23.
