President Will Call One Early in November.

MUST HAVE RECIPROCITY WITH CUBA

Advices Received in Washington Indicate that Roosevelt Will Insist Upon Treaty with New Republic.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Advices received here indicate that President Roosevelt will call the senate in extraordinary session early in November, since it became evident that nothing would be accomplished as to reciprocity with Cuba at the recent session. Rumors of a more or less definite nature have been in circulation since the president would call an extra session either of the entire congress or of the Cuban reciprocity legislation, or the senate to ratify, if possible a reciprocity treaty with Cuba.

Treaty with Cuba practically has been prepared. It only requires the signing touches and the signatures of either Quesada and Secretary of State Hay to make it ready for presentation to the senate. The president, it is said, hopes to have the reciprocity cleared away entirely before the regular session of congress.

I have said it once, but because I will repeat many times. The president has no legal right to increase the sentence of the court-martial. I have advised the president and will continue to advise him. Under such circumstances my friends can do no less, for they are more vitally interested than I. Many of them are now imporing me to begin action at once."

"There will not only be the bridge across the Columbia river, but also one across the Willamette, to give us a proper entrance to Portland. It will also be necessary to tunnel through the backbone of the peninsula between the two rivers. Our surveys have just been completed and we are going ahead carefully with the other arrangements. It will take about $3,000,000 to bring our trains into Portland from Vancouver, and we will not undertake such a large work without the most careful consideration. We cannot bridge the Willamette river until congress gives the right to do so. But the Columbia bridge need not wait for that, and its construction will go forward at once."

Olympia, Wash., Aug. 15.—The question has been raised in connection with the Tracy reward of the legality of an offer of more than $1,000 for the capture of a criminal, and the matter has been referred to the attorney general by Governor McBride. The section of the statutes that throws a shadow of doubt on the legality of the governor's action in offering $2,500 provides that the governor "may offer rewards not exceeding $1,000 in each case, payable out of the state treasury, for the apprehension of any person convicted of a felony, that has escaped from the state prison, or of any person who has committed or is charged with the commission of a felony."

The robbers made good their escape. A general roundup was made by the police, who have 80 suspects under arrest.

THE NEW TAX LAW.

County Court Has Not Now Any Jurisdiction to Extend Time for Payment.

Salem, Or., Aug. 15.—Under the new law for the collection of delinquent taxes, unpaid taxes become delinquent after the first Monday in October. The county courts have absolutely jurisdiction in the premises and do have the right to extend for a day time for the collection of any delinquent taxes. Under the old law they became delinquent after April, but the county court had the authority to make such extension of time in which to make the collections was deemed proper. But under the new law the taxes will absolutely be delinquent after the first Monday in October.

Section 14 of the law now in operation prescribes the times of payment, the amount of penalty and interest for delinquencies, etc.

Section 19 of the same act prescribes when and in what manner shall be made. It is as follows:

If any of the taxes mentioned in the roll shall remain unpaid, the sheriff shall be unable to collect the same, he shall immediately on the first Monday of October extend the amount of the tax on each several parcel of real property, and upon the personal property assessed to each individual, in a column provided for such purpose on the tax roll, headed delinquent, and shall return such roll, together with a statement compiled thereon, and entered thereon showing the total amount of double assessments, and other errors, etc.

Subsequent sections of the act provide that after the examination by the county clerk of the roll, and when the proper credits have been made for errors, etc., then the roll shall be returned to the sheriff with a warrant commanding him to sell the property upon which the tax was levied.

So it will be seen that the county court has no voice in the matter. The time when the unpaid taxes become delinquent, as well as the time of their collection now being regulated entirely by statute, and there will be no extension of time.

The entire outpost rushed to the relief of the sentinels, but they were too late, and the Moros escaped, although possibly a few were wounded.

SEVERAL WOUNDED

Riot at Wilkesbarre During Which Deputies Flee On Strikers.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 16.—A riot occurred at the Warnock washery at Duryea during the afternoon. Trouble had been brewing since early morning. Before 7 o'clock women and boys crowded about the place and started to interfere with those who wanted to go to work. Sheriff Jacobs and a number of deputies were on the ground, and they held the crowd back. The works were started, but remained in operation only a short time. The crowd on the outside threw stones over the stockade at the deputies who were on guard inside. Several times the deputies were tempted to fire. Rather than have any trouble work was suspended for the time being.

The deputy sheriffs returned to Wilkesbarre early in the evening, reporting all quiet at the washery when they left. They had hardly reached Wilkesbarre, however, when the deputies on guard were attacked. Several men in the mob also attempted to climb over the barricade. The deputies warned them to go back, and when they did not, a volley was fired. Half a dozen men were wounded, but none of them, so far as is known, seriously. Warrants have been sworn out before the burgeses charging the deputies with rioting and felonious wounding. The constables went to the washery and placed 25 men under arrest. They were held in $300 bail each. They could not furnish the bonds and were brought to the county jail here.

As a number of lodges throughout the country have already made arrangements for fairs or carnivals, to take place in the next few months, the law will not go into effect until January 1. The debate over the question was spirited, but the feeling of the members of the lodge that such fairs and carnivals were not in accord with the fundamental principles of the order was evidently very strong, and the committee's recommendation was overwhelmingly adopted.
