

Reception

The young people of Cottage Grove gave an informal reception in honor of the visit of the Roseburg High school foot ball team, last night after the entertainment was over. The party was a large one and a splendid social time was had by the young folks. The evening was passed away in playing social games and at a late hour lunch was served. Many of our young folks remained up until the overland arrived and accompanied the visitors to the depot. To all appearances the gentlemanly young men from our sister city were made to feel at ease and we hope they enjoyed the evening for their manly conduct while here won the respect of all and made them a host of friends.

THE MORMON TEMPLE.

The Mormon temple at Salt Lake City is no doubt the most substantial and well constructed religious edifice in the United States, if not in the world. Corner stone laid April 6, 1853, cap stone April 6, 1892 and dedicated April 6, 1893, over forty years of constant labor being consumed in its construction. This magnificent structure 200 feet long, 100 feet wide is built entirely of Utah white granite, beautifully carved, symbolic of the Mormon faith, surmounted by six towers, the highest being 230 feet from the ground, supporting a bronze statue of the angel Moroni. The cost of this building is about $8,000,000. There are many other attractions at Salt Lake City, of interest to the traveler or tourist, where a day can be well spent. The Rio Grande is the only Trans continental route passing directly through Salt Lake City, where a stop over is allowed on all classes of tickets. The service of the Rio Grande lines is unexcelled. Three trains daily between Ogden and Denver, carrying all classes of modern equipment. If you are contemplating a trip to the East, write the undersigned for information regarding rates via the "scenic line of the world." NO PLACE FOR BOYS.

What can a boy do, and where can a boy stay, if he is always told to get out of the way? He cannot sit here, and he must not stand there. The cushions that cover that fine rocking chair were put there, of course, to be seen and admired. A boy has no business to ever be tired. The beautiful roses and flowers that bloom on the floor of the darkened and delicate room are not made to walk on—at least, not by boys. The house is no place, anyway, for their noise. Yet boys must walk somewhere; and what if their feet, sent out of our houses, sent into the street, should step round the corner and pause at the door. Where other boys' feet have paused often before. Should pass through the gateway of glittering light, where jokes that are merry and songs that are bright ring out a warm welcome with flattering voice, and temptingly say: "Here's a place for the boys!" Ah, what if they should? What if your boy or mine should cross o'er the threshold which marks out the line 'twixt virtue and vice, 'twixt pureness and sin, and leave all his innocent boyhood within? Oh, what if they should, because you and I, while the days and the months and the years hurry by, are too busy with cares and with life's fleeting joys to make round our hearthstone a place for the boys? There's a place for the boys. They will find it somewhere; and if our own homes are too faintly fair for the touch of their fingers, the tread of their feet, they'll find it, and find it, alas! in the street. 'Mid the glidings of sin and the glitter of vice; and with heartaches and longings we pay a dear price for the getting of gain that our lifetime employs. If we fail in providing a place for the boys. A place for the boys—dear mother, I pray, as cars settle down round our short earthly way. Don't let us forget, by our kind, loving deeds, to show we remember their pleasures and needs; though our souls may be vexed with problems of life, and worn with besetments and toiling and strife, our hearts will keep younger—your tired heart and mine— if we give them a place in their innermost shrine; and to life's latest hour 'twill be one of our joys that we kept a small corner—a place for the boys.
