Last Monday night some fellow broke into the Cox residence near Latham and stole a pipe, some change, and other little trinkets of value. Word was soon brought to town when Marshal Underwood soon got his peepers on the gentleman. The fellow saw the marshal was after him and started to run but took a second thought and stopped when he was arrested and thrown in the jug. Later marshal Underwood went back where the fellow was arrested and found the pipe and some small change where he had dropped them over the fence.

A Successful Operation.

Last week Dr E T Anderson, accompanied Miss Len Swain, who was injured on the celebrated Owl train wreck in Nevada Dec 31, to the Hospital at Portland and there successfully performed a surgical operation upon the lady's head by trephining the skull and removing a blood clot from the brain. The lady suffered a contusion in the wreck and was in a critical condition which induced violent spasms. But at this writing she is thought to be out of danger and getting along nicely. She was a nurse in the red cross hospital corps in the Philippines while the Oregon Regiment was in Manila. The lady was on her road to Cottage Grove from the east and expected to meet relatives at this place when the wreck occurred in which she received her injuries.

The Stetson Company.

A big feature, and a taking one with pretty nearly all classes of theater goers is the old plantation songs and pastimes by genuine negroes, such as existed in the old South on the big plantations in ante bellum times. 'Twas in the evening when the day's work in cottonfields was done and massa had gone to bed-in the darkened days of slavery, that the dusky toilers were wont to gather around their humble huts and there hold high carnival under the pale light of the moon. Almost true to nature and tradition is the plantation scene presented by Manager Washburn of the Stetson Company in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" which is booked to appear at the Opera House on Saturday evening Jan 24. All the old melodies are sung in that rich, plantation voice so peculiar to the Southern darkey. Songs that our daddies sang when they went to war, and songs that our mothers hummed as they rocked the babies to sleep.

The cast of white artists with the company is said to be the strongest artistically ever seen in the production, while the parade and its many novel features, we are assured, a revelation in outside display for a company playing in Opera houses.

The DeMoss Family are billed for a high class musical entertainment at Martin's Hall under the auspices of the Christian Church. Next Tuesday evening. This troupe of superb musicians have been on the road for nearly 20 years and are said to be among the best of the kind traveling. Tickets 25cts.
