

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's. "I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." Mrs. WILLIAM G. BARNETT, 14 Olney St., Providence, R. I.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

No Ear for Music.

"How do you like the music, Mr. Judkins?"

"I'm sorry, but I have no ear for music," he answered.

"No," put in Mr. Jasper, "he uses his for a pen rack."

An Old Maid's Philosophy.

We may be better after suffering, and we may be worse, but our conditions must depend upon ourselves, and should never be laid to the nature of our calamities.—From "My Old Maid's Corner," The Century, March, 1903.

The only sorrow worth anything in this world is sorrow for others, and sorrow for others means helping others, not hugging our woes to ourselves.—From "My Old Maid's Corner," The Century, March, 1903.

To me it had seemed that those who occupied centers of affection should be less concerned with what came to them as their due, than with what went out from them due to their obligation; that, like the sun itself, they should be centers of centrifugal forces, radiating, through the very fullness of their joy, light and gladness into other lives.—From "My Old Maid's Corner," The Century, January, 1903.

Had Seen Better Days.

Kind Lady—I suppose you have seen better days?

Tramp—Yes'm. One day last week I got three dinners and 10 beers.—Detroit Free Press.

Piso's Cure is a remedy for coughs, colds and consumption. Try it. Price 25 cents, at druggists.

Might Regret It.

Mistress—Poor, darling little Topsy! I'm afraid she will never recover. Do you know, Bridget, I think the kindest thing would be to have her shot and put out of her misery.

Bridget—'Deed, ma'am, I wouldn't do that. She might get better, after all, an' then ye'd be sorry ye'd had her killed.—Punch.

Chronic Sores Eating Ulcers, A Constant Drain Upon the System

And a source of worry, anxiety and endless trouble to those who are afflicted with them, particularly so when located upon the lower extremities where the circulation is weak and sluggish. A gangrenous eating ulcer upon the leg is a frightful sight, and as the poison burrows deeper and deeper into the tissue beneath and the sore continues to spread, one can almost see the flesh melting away and feel the strength going out with the sickening discharges. Great running sores and deep offensive ulcers often develop from a simple boil, swollen gland, bruise or pimple and are a threatening danger always, because while all such sores are not cancerous, a great many are, and this should make you suspicious of all chronic slow-healing ulcers and sores, particularly if cancer runs in your family. Face sores are common and cause the greatest annoyance because they are so persistent and unsightly and detract from one's appearance.

Middle aged and old people and those whose blood is contaminated and tainted with the germs and poison of malaria or some previous sickness, or excessive use of mercury, are the chief sufferers from chronic sores and ulcers. While the blood remains in this unhealthy, polluted condition healing is simply impossible and the sore will continue to grow and spread in spite of washes and salves or any superficial or surface treatment, for the sore is but the outward sign of some constitutional disorder, a bad condition of the blood and system, which local remedies cannot cure.

S. S. S. reaches these old chronic sores through the blood. It goes to the very root of the trouble and counteracts and removes from the blood all the impurities and poisons, and gradually builds up the entire system and strengthens the sluggish circulation, and when the blood has been purified and the system purged of all morbid, unhealthy matter the healing process begins, and the eating ulcer or chronic sore is soon entirely gone.

S. S. S. contains no mineral or poisonous drugs of any description, but is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy, a blood purifier and tonic combined and a safe and permanent cure for chronic sores and ulcers. If you have a slow-healing sore of any kind, large or small, write us about it, and our physicians will advise you without charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

Groceries.

Monopole Canned Fruits and Vegetables are distinguished from other brands by a beautiful blue label embossed in letters of gold. From an esthetic view point the Monopole label is a work of art, being pronounced by those who have seen it as the finest label ever made for canned fruits and vegetables.

But the quality of Monopole Fruits is fully in keeping with the beauty of the label—are in fact the best that money can buy. Get them from your grocer. Wadhams & Kerr Bros., Portland, Ore.

A Real Baby.

"The Higginsons, up stairs, have a real lovely baby, haven't they?"

"Well," growled the man in the lower flat, "I guess its a good enough ten-acre lot baby, but it's no kind of a flat-building baby. You ought to hear it yell."—Chicago Evening Post.

Generosity.—Father (visiting son at college)—"Pretty good cigars you smoke, my boy; I can't afford cigars like these." Son—"Fill your case, dad; fill your case."—Harvard Lampoon.

Bertie—"Are we any kin to chickens?" Gertie—"Of course not; we're people." Bertie—"Well, Uncle Harry says papa was a mighty bad egg when he was young."—Town and Country.

"What, sir, I ask you, is as deeply profound, as majestically impressive, as the silence of eternity?" "H'm! What about the silence just preceding the curtain lecture?"—Baltimore News.

"Yes, father, when I graduate I am going to follow my literary bent and write for money." "Humph, John! you ought to be successful. That's all you did the four years you spent in college."—The Punch Bowl.

Uncle George—Come, Harry, you ought to get along better than you are. The world owes you a living, you know. Harry—Yes; that's the reason why there's no need of my working for one, you know.—Boston Transcript.

"Loafey tells me he hasn't been so busy for years." "Nonsense! That job he has is a cinch. He never has to work there." "That's just it. He's been fired; and he's chasing around after another job now."—Philadelphia Press.

He—But you didn't object to my holding your hand when we went on hay rides and other foolish excursions this summer. And now that we are alone— She—That's just it! There's not another girl in sight to be jealous of me.—Cincinnati Tribune.

"Herbert calls on me every evening," said the confiding girl. "Don't you think that is a sign he really cares for me?" "I can't be sure," answered Miss Cayenne, "whether it indicates that he is in love, or that coal is scarce at his house."—Washington Star.

Entirely Satisfactory.—The agent for a patent hair restorer received this testimonial: "Dear Sir: A few days ago I accidentally spilled some of your 'hair hatcher' on the straw mattress at my lodgings, and when I returned home I found a hair mattress."—Tit-Bits.

A Cheerful Chap: Maud—Dick proposed to me last night. Ella—What did you tell him? Maud—I said he had better ask mamma, and what do you think the wretch said? Ella—Goodness knows! Maud—He said he had asked her already, and she wouldn't have him.—Tit-Bits.

"And you're really a lord?" said the maiden. "Of course. Do you think I'm an impostor?" "No; oh, no; but papa says one can't be too cautious these days. Would you mind bringing me one of those abstracts of title I hear so much about before I give you my answer?"—Chicago Post.

Mrs. Turtle-dove—I suppose you wouldn't object to mother coming to live with you for a week or two? Mr. Turtle-dove—No, dear, I wouldn't object. I've been waiting for a chance to go in town for a few days. I didn't want to leave you alone, you know. Mrs. T.—Come to think of it, Charles, I don't believe I came to see mother just now.—Boston Transcript.
