Science AND INVENTION

A French physician removes most foreign bodies from the ear by sucking them into a soft rubber tube.

"Nieves penitentes," slightly inclined snow columns resembling shrouded figures doing penance, are a peculiar phenomenon of the Andes to which Sir M. Conway has given attention. They are the last remains of drifts or slides which have become hardened in nearly vertical strata of different densities.

A plan recently employed in France for giving a stereoscopic effect to magic-lantern pictures thrown upon a screen is to furnish each spectator with a pair of prisms, set in spectacle frames, through which two pictures, side by side on the screen, are viewed. The angles of the prisms are varied for widely different distances from the screen, but owing to the natural power of accommodation of the eye, the same angle serves at distances not widely variant.

Two coats of hot oil, carefully applied after thorough cleaning of the metal, are recommended by a Canadian artisan as an improvement over any process now in use for preventing rust of structural iron and steel. The oil would fill crevices, cracks and holes where paint cannot enter. It would cover rough places often imperfectly coated in ordinary painting, and it would be a fine preparation for subsequent painting or covering with cement coating.

Some of the giant Sequoias of Southern California are estimated to be from five thousand to eight thousand years old, having perhaps, spanned the entire period of written history. A section in the American Museum of Natural History was cut from one of these trees at a height of twenty feet, is a little more than eighteen feet in diameter, and its concentric rings show that it began its growth in 550 A. D., the tree reaching a diameter of thirteen feet at Columbus landing.

Arsenic, the dreaded poison that Professor Armand Gautier of Paris asserts is essential to life, proves to be disseminated in the primitive rocks, from which sea-water derives its store. The minute quantity taken in the food becomes localized in the skin and its appendages, the thyroid and mammary glands, the brain and the bones, and for the numerous or sensorium and the production, just as phosphorus is the exciting element of the functions of cellular nutrition.

Fresh discoveries are continually adding to the world's known stores of iron. Last summer extensive fields of iron ore were found in northern Norway, on the coast of Sydvaranger Bay, near the Russian border. Analyses at Christiania show that the ore ton, because the presence of titanium which is regarded as a good indication, because the presence of titanium in large quantity retards the melting of ore. It is said there are good harbors near these new iron fields, and surveys have shown that the ore covers a very large territory.

Recent researches by Professor Macfayden have shown that many micro-organisms can be exposed to the temperature of liquid air for a period of six months without any appreciable loss of vitality, although, at such a temperature, the ordinary chemical processes of the living cell must cease. Referring to Professor Macfayden's experiments, Professor James Dewar says that the organisms in the state just described "cannot be said to be either alive or dead, in the ordinary acceptance of these words. It is a new and hitherto unobtainable condition of living matter—a third state."

THE PINKHAMIES

ATTRACTING GREAT ATTENTION AMONG THINKING WOMEN

Mrs. Frances Staff of 243 E. 114th St., N.Y. City, her testimony to the hands of thousands on Mrs. Pink's files.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies were first introduced skeptics all over the country wined upon their curative claimant as year after year has rolled and the little group of women who had been cured by the new remedy have since grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands and skeptics have been swept away as by a mighty flood until to-day the great good of Lydia E. Merit alone could in such fame; wise, therefore, is the woman who for a cure relies upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury. As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Not "Just as Good." Your dealer may tell you that some other brand of peaches and pears and other fruits is as good as or the same as Monopole. Don't you believe such a statement. It isn't so and your dealer wouldn't make it if he would only compare all the other so-called high class brands with Monopole. Monopole fruits are packed to order in special canneries and are packed in a special way. They are, therefore, sweeter, more natural in flavor and more delicious than any other brand.
