

Obituary.

Died, near Lewisville, June 6, 1882, Mrs. Anna R. Critchlow, aged 24 years, 4 months and 10 days. She professed religion Oct. 1, 1875, and was a member of the South Methodist church at the time of her death. C.

Died, June 3, 1882, Thos. M. Cochran, after a lingering illness, at the residence of his son-in-law, H. B. Tingle, Amity, Yamhill county, Oregon. Mr. Cochran was born near Lewistown, Misslin county, Pa., Oct. 13, 1811. November 10, 1836, he married Miss Nancy Clark, who survives him, as well as five children, two daughters and three sons. In 1852 he emigrated for Oregon; and in 1857 his family came to share with him, the joys and sorrows of a pioneer life. Most of the last thirty years he has spent in and near Amity. His health had been declining for about six years, but since November last, he has been confined to his room and bed most of the time till his death.

His son, James Cochran, came from his home in Eastern Washington to Amity, and was permitted with his devoted wife and relatives, to perform the last sad duty to a loved husband and father. Well did they anticipate his wants and tenderly guarded and relieved his 2nd childhood, as he did when first their fleet commenced threading the mazes of this mortal life. In his death the church has lost a worthy member, and the community a valuable citizen.

May 29, 1882, the Reaper gathered into the heavenly garner the spirit of Mrs. Caroline Walker, wife of Henry A. Walker, and eldest daughter of W. and Mary Thurman, of Amity, Yamhill county, Oregon, after a brief, but severe illness, aged 27 years and 4 months. She died at the residence of J. W. Martin. She was and had been a member of the Christian church for fifteen years. She was the life and light of her home circle, and in her social sphere was loving and lovable. Her piety, pleasant and refined manners endeared her to a large circle of friends; and by which she still lives in the hearts of those she has left behind. She was the mother of four children, who with husband, father and mother, brothers, sisters, relatives and friends deeply feel their loss, and yet from this sad bereavement comes the comforting thought and fact that she was prepared to pass in triumph, from the trials and sorrows of earth, to the paradise of God at last. Without a struggle, she sank quietly and pleasantly to sleep.

"Yes asleep in Jesus, Oh how sweet, To be for such a slumber meet, For hope looks beyond the bounds of time, When what we now deplore, Shall rise in full immortal bloom, To live and fede no more."

Happy Friends.

Rev. F. M. Winburne, pastor M. E. church, Mexia, Texas, writes as follows: Several months since I received a supply of St. Jacobs Oil. Retaining two bottles, I distributed the rest among friends. It is a most excellent remedy for pains and aches of various kinds, especially neuralgia and rheumatic affections.—Jackson Daily Patriot.

James Butler, Esq., clerk of the Roxbury Carpet Co., Boston, Mass., employing eight hundred hands, in a late communication concerning the admirable working of an article introduced into the factory, says: The famous Old German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil, has effected several cures among our men, who have been badly hurt in working in the factory, and they pronounce it a success every time.

GREEN'S "LIFE OF GARFIELD."

The publishers are glad to announce that this long-expected work by F. M. Green is now ready. The publishers believe that in many of its features this "Life of Garfield" is superior to any similar work published. Its author was well acquainted with Mr. Garfield for nearly twenty-eight years—a time covering the entire period of his public life. He writes, therefore, from the standpoint of one who knew him as student, educator, teacher, soldier, statesman, and Christian. There are eighteen chapters. These chapters discuss in logical order the various phases of the royal life which they represent. The following are the titles of the successive chapters:

The Western Reserve.—The Foundation.—Birth and Boyhood.—The Period of Change.—The Canal and the Sea.—The Young Student.—The Hiram Teacher and Principal.—True Manhood.—Home and Family Life.—The Brightness of his Rising.—A Chapter Thrown In.—From Sun-Rising until Noon.—The Pillar of a People's Hope.—The Shot that was Heard Round the World.—From Elberon to the Grave.—The World's Sympathy and Sorrow.—The Present Estimate and the Final Conclusion.—A Tribute of Friendship.

While these chapters present the history in logical outline, yet each chapter is complete in itself. For instance, the student life of Garfield is discussed in one chapter, and not in parts of several chapters. So of his educational life and work. So of his religious faith and standing, etc., etc.
