INDIA.—What Can It Teach Us? by Max Muller.—No. 92. Standard Library Price 25 cents.—Max Muller stands in the front rank of the noblest geniuses and best scholars of our age. It is not necessary to speak of his wonderful abilities and profound learning. Had any proof of the above estimate of him been wanting, this book "India: What Can It Teach Us?" would have abundantly supplied it. The subjects of the book was first discussed in a series of lectures which he was invited to deliver before the students of the University of Cambridge, England, by the Authorities of that venerable seat of learning. They were then put together in a book, and we now have the pleasure of giving them in this cheap form to our American readers. The American edition has been greatly improved by Prof. Alexander Wilder, who has written an able introduction and introduced some notes for our readers on this side of the Atlantic. The book will be found to contain a world of information, teaching new and most invaluable facts and lessons, yet apart from this it would be a most profitable task to read it once every month if only to cultivate the author's inimitable style. Few readers will receive all Max Muller's teaching. Every intelligent reader, conversant with English literature, will know this from his other writings. We exhort every one who may be lacking in tolerance, before reading the book, to read his "Dedication" to it. Nothing in the English language which we ever read breathes a nobler, more simple, more childlike and tolerant spirit, while at the same time it is manly and fearless. Read it by all means. Funk & Wagnalls, Publishers, New York.

OBITUARY.

NORTH YAMHILL, OR.,
June 22, 1883.

Editor Christian Herald:

Brother Aaron Payne, just before his death wished a notice of his death sent to you with a request for you to publish in full the 19th chapter of Job as an expression of his dying sentiments and the last Scripture he asked to be read to him, and he further admonishes all to obey God and keep his commandments, and to follow his written word and not the commandments of men. Brother Payne was in his sound mind when he made these requests, and did not wish anything further said about him than just this simple notice: Aaron Payne, born in Somerset county, Penn., Dec. 30, 1788, died at North Yamhill, Oregon, May 19, 1883.

Answer This.

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

My mother says Hop Bitters is the only thing that will keep her from severe attacks of paralysis and headache. Ed. Oswego Sun.

My little sickly, puny baby, was changed into a great bouncing boy, and I was raised from a sick bed by using Hop Bitters a short time. A YOUNG MOTHER.

No use to worry about any Liver, Kidney or Urinary Trouble, especially Bright's Disease or Diabetes as Hop Bitters never fails of a cure where a cure is possible.

I had severe attacks of gravel and Kidney trouble; was unable to get any medicine or doctor to cure me until I used Hop Bitters. They cured me in a short time. T. R. ATTY.

Unhealthy or inactive kidneys cause gravel, Bright's disease, rheumatism, and a horde of other serious and fatal diseases which can be prevented with Hop Bitters if taken in time.

Ludington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1879. I have sold Hop Bitters for four years, and there is no medicine that surpasses them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

Monroe, Mich., Sept. 25, 1875. SIRS—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation of kidneys and bladder, it has done for me what four doctors failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS—Your Hop Bitters have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STORTZEL, 638 Fulton st., Chicago, Ill.
