

BOOK TABLE.

[Under this head we will be pleased to give editorial reviews of all books and tracts of interest that may be sent to this office.]

JEWISH ARTISAN LIFE, in the time of Jesus, by Frank Delitzsch.—Prof Delitzsch has a world-wide reputation as one of the ablest scholars in Biblical science. He has opened a new field in the department of New Testament contemporaneous history. He throws a new light upon the country in which Jesus lived and upon the people among whom he moved. He sketches the public business and the private home life of the Jews in the time of Christ, in such a charming style, that one is so fascinated he can scarcely lay down the book until through. In chapter IV., "A June day in Jerusalem during the last decade before Christ," the author fairly makes one feel as if in the midst of the scenes he describes. Published in FUNK & WAGNALL'S "STANDARD LIBRARY." Price, 15 cents.

The "Golden Bloom of Youth" may be retained by using Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," a specific for "female complaints." By druggists.

MARRIED.

At Albany, Linn Co., Oregon, Sept. 4, 1883, by D. M. Doty, Mr. R. R. Crosby and Miss C. A. Cowan, at the residence of the bride's father, in Albany.

The newly married pair started on the noon train to spend a few days in Portland. Sister Clara is one of the noble Christian young ladies of Linn Co. May success and happiness attend them through life.

A Great Gain.

A patient writes: "My cough is almost gone, and the pain under my left shoulder-blade is better. I can sit up straight with ease and draw deep breaths, and can walk without having palpitation of the heart. I could not do any of these before using Compound Oxygen." Our treatise on Compound Oxygen, its nature, action and results, with reports of cases and full information, sent free. DRs. STARKY & PALEN, 1109 and 1111 Girard St. Philadelphia, Pa.

All orders for the Compound Oxygen Home Treatment directed to H. E. Mathews, 606 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, will be filled on the same terms as if sent directly to us in Philadelphia.

There is no accomplishment which is so fascinating as the power of reading well; it is a pleasing, although much neglected accomplishment. No music has such a charm as good reading; and where one person will be charmed by music, twenty will be fascinated by good reading; and where one person can be a good musician, twenty can be good readers. It seems to bring back the old authors, and to cause us to imagine ourselves sitting down and talking familiarly with them. There is no accomplishment which causes so much pleasure in the family or social circle.—Ex.

Manners are not morals. But manners and morals are never far apart.

An Enterprising Woman.

One of the thoroughly enterprising women of New York, is Mrs. Ottendorfer, wife of the editor of the Staats Zeitung. And she is not only enterprising but generous. It is only a few years since Mrs. Ottendorfer built and endowed with her own money an asylum for aged German women under the name of the Isabella Home. It is located in Astoria, and the outlay upon it amounted to over $100,000. Mrs. Ottendorfer has just carried out another benevolent project which entitles her to a great deal of credit. She lately purchased two buildings on Second avenue, and a few days ago she made them over to the German hospital. Her outlay in this case was about $65,000. The property is within a stone's throw of the Historical Society building and St. Mark's church. It was from the little graveyard surrounding the latter, and in which the dust of old Peter Stuyvesant lies, that the body of millionaire Stewart was stolen. Mrs. Ottendorfer's money all comes from her husband's paper, which is one of the most valuable newspaper properties in New York. She has had a good deal to do with making it valuable herself. I know (says a correspondent) that as far back as five and twenty years ago, when the Staats-Zeitung was but feeling its way, she was a regular daily visitor at the office, and always with one eye to the business. She looked over the books, took in money at the advertising and subscription desks, and saw that no one employed in the office shirked his duty. Much of the business success of the paper is undoubtedly due to her. Few women in New York know better how to make money or how to use it.—Southern Herald.

The celebrated MRS. DR. AUGUSTA SMITH, of Springfield, Mo., who is curing so many sick, all over the country, is a niece of Ex-president Filmore. She is the great "woman doctor" of the age. Many of her cures, are simply wonderful. Write for her pamphlet, list, etc. If you can be cured at all, she can cure you.

Mrs. Alexander Campbell, commends Mrs. Dr. Smith of Springfield, Mo. Write for pamphlet, etc.

A good memory is the best monument. Others are subject to casualty or time, and we know that the Pyramids themselves, rotting with age, have forgotten the names of their founders.—Fuller.

For coughs and colds there is no remedy equal to Ammen's Cough Syrup.

OREGON CITY, Or., April 25th 1882.—We can build up a large sale for Ammen's Cough Syrup, as it sells well. CHARMAN BROS.

ASHLAND, Or., April 27th, 1882.—Ammen's Cough Syrup sells well and gives good satisfaction.

INGLOW & WIMES BROS.

PHOENIX, (Or.), May 14, 1882.—* * * I have had calls for Ammen's Cough Syrup. I recommend it in my practice. JOHN A. CHRISTIAN, M. D.

The very instant you perceive yourself in a passion shut your mouth, and keep it shut till your blood cools. This advice, if always followed, would save many a life of bitterness, and deep, incurable anguish.
