

JOLENE GUZMAN/Itemizer-ObsERVER

Fire-hose powered carts — or hydrocarts — made a re-appearance Friday night at Summerfest 2016. The Dallas fire department hosted the event.

The four-day celebration of summer brought a taste of Hawaii to Dallas.

Whether you rocked out to the live music, tasted one of several delicious foods from vendors or took a stroll through Art in the Park, Summerfest proved you don't have to go far to experience Hawaii. For more photos, see www.polkio.com.

LUKAS EGGEN/Itemizer-ObsERVER

The Dallas Rotary Car Show on Sunday gives gearheads a chance to show off unique, restored and beautiful automobiles at Dallas City Park.

EMILY MENTZER/Itemizer-ObsERVER

Willamette Valley Pipes and Drums march in the Summerfest Parade on Saturday, much to the delight of spectators.

LUKAS EGGEN/Itemizer-ObsERVER

Art in the Park features a number of unique items, including bonsai trees.

LUKAS EGGEN/Itemizer-ObsERVER

Breakfast in the Park on Sunday serves up tasty pancakes all morning long at Dallas City Park.

JOLENE GUZMAN/Itemizer-ObsERVER

Koral Jam brings “Hawaii Cool” on Thursday.

EMILY MENTZER/Itemizer-ObsERVER

The Dallas Lions Club's rubber duck race continues one of Summerfest's best traditions.