Transient attempts to elude authorities

Itemizer-Observer staff report

MONMOUTH — Lonnie Leon Larson, 26, a transient, was arrested on Thursday after a chase that started in Monmouth and ended in Salem.

At 7:16 p.m. on Thursday, a Monmouth Police officer stopped a Honda Civic on Pacific Highway North near mile post 61, according to a press release from MPD. Once the officer stepped out of his patrol vehicle, the Honda, driven by Larson, sped off north on Highway 99W, through Rickreall on Rickreall Road, and onto Highway 22. Larson threw a black bag onto the highway at mile post 25, which was later recovered and found to contain syringes and methamphetamine.

Larson continued into Salem and ultimately crashed into a curb in a parking lot at Bush's Pasture Park, in the 800 block of Mission Street Southeast. He fled on foot and was located by Salem Police at the Salem Hospital, where he was arrested without incident.

Larson had another bag in his possession that contained almost $2,000 in cash.

Larson was transported to Polk County Jail where he was lodged on the following charges: attempt to elude felony (in car) and misdemeanor (on foot), driving under the influence of intoxicants, failure to perform the duties of a driver, reckless driving, possession of methamphetamine, delivery of methamphetamine and a warrant for parole violation.

MPD was assisted by the Polk County Sheriff's Office, Salem Police Department and Oregon State Police.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Birding tour offered Sept. 24

POLK COUNTY — The Luckiamute Watershed Council invites the public to take a birding tour with local bird expert and Audubon ornithologist Joel Geier on Sept. 24.

Registration is due Saturday. Participation will be limited to 15 people.

The four-hour event begins at 8 a.m. at the Luckiamute State Natural Area's North Unit trailhead parking lot.

September is a good time to encounter south-migrating songbirds, such as warblers, vireos, swallows, flycatchers and tanagers, as well as sparrows arriving for winter. The native shrubs and trees along the trail provide bird habitat and fall colors on the way through the gallery forest.

Cost is $10 and includes a light lunch. To register: www.luckiamutewc.org, call 503-831-0237 or email info@luckiamuteLWC.org.

Dallas PD has new business hours

DALLAS — New hours at the Dallas Police Department's business office began last week.

The new hours of operation are Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. The office will be closed for lunch from noon to 1 p.m.

The new office hours are for routine business transactions, such as non-emergency calls for service, requests for police reports, property and evidence matters, dog licenses and sex offender registrations.

Dallas officers remain available 24 hours a day for emergency assistance by calling 911.

There are no changes to weekend hours, holiday hours, or anytime when Dallas City Hall is closed for business.

Museum to host Lt. Col Rickey

RICKREALL — The Polk County History Museum will host speaker Lt. Col (retired) Stanton Rickey, of Dallas, on Saturday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Rickey was a B17 pilot during World War II who was shot down over Germany in July 1944.

He made it nearly to Switzerland before being captured and spending the rest of the war in the prisoner of war camp, Stalag Luft I in Northeastern Germany.

Graven joins cancer summit

DALLAS — Kay Graven joined more than 700 cancer patients, survivors and volunteers from all 50 states and nearly every congressional district in Washington, D.C., for the annual American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network Leadership Summit and Lobby Day.

During the event, Graven and advocates asked Congress to take specific steps to make cancer a national priority and help and the disease.

Graven hoped to ask Oregon's members of Congress to co-sponsor legislation to improve cancer patients' quality of life and to support a bill that would make colonoscopies for senior citizens more affordable and accessible.

OBITUARIES

Jeanne Shelton

Nov. 25, 1929 – Aug. 19, 2016
Jeanne Shelton, 86, of Dallas, died on Aug. 19 in Dallas.

She was born in Pedee to Katherine (Lacey) and James Siddall.

Jeanne lived in Dallas, Hood River, Springfield, Pratum and Salem. She liked apartment living at Hidden Lakes and Orchard Heights during the last years of her life.

Jeanne graduated from Dallas High School in 1947, where her baton-twirling skills were put to good use. She worked as a bookkeeper in a number of locations, her first in the family business of the Dallas Music Shop with then husband, Harvey Bartel. In 1958, she was the Dallas Junior First Citizen. She was an early female member of Local 883 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters: Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America in Hood River.

She enjoyed fishing, hunting and photographing wild flowers. She traveled widely.

She pursued her family heritage through genealogy research on the Siddall, Lacey, Hambilton, Castor, Bilyeau and Shelton families. Membership in historical and genealogical societies created a national network of friendships, with her Ohio affiliations being particularly special. She was a life member of the Polk County Historical Society.

She is survived by daughters, Sheri Bartel (Jeff) Tonn and Lavon (David) Bartel; stepdaughter, Sharon Shelton (Ron) Linnertz; four step-grandchildren; many step-great-grandchildren; sister, Violet Faye Starks Fetters; and extended family.

Sisters, Helen Dart, Lois Miller and Emma Sanders; and stepson, Wayne Shelton, died before her, as well her infant son. Her second husband, Howard Shelton died in 1992.

Celebration of life will be on Nov. 20 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at the Polk County Historical Museum. Send remembrances to Willamette Valley Hospice, The Polk County Historical Society or Shriners Hospital for Children, Portland.
