Note: Freshman Nicholas Lyngheim died in a car accident last week. Lyngheim, 18, of Gresham, was an offensive lineman.

"As a hard-working young man, Nicholas immediately became a member of our family with his approach and demeanor," WOU coach Arne Ferguson said. "Just starting his collegiate academic career, his loss is a tragedy and our thoughts go out to his family and to everyone involved. He will be missed."

Dallas: Dragons seek consistency

"We're getting there," Jones said. "The thing we're looking for is, we've got a bunch of seniors so we are looking for someone to step up and lead — someone to say it's not OK to have that drop off on the field. It has to be from there. We need players to step up and notice a drop off in play and communicates that to one another in a positive way. I think the ups and downs are because we still have a program that is a losing program. I think sometimes we start to get that mentality, we forget to play, and things fall a part."

Players believe they are close to making a breakthrough — and a big reason why is consistency on the coaching staff.

"Having Jones back is definitely good," Walker said. "To have someone that sticks with us, knows us and doesn't give up on us and leave is really good. We know what he expects and he knows what we're capable of and can push us."

Dallas played Parkrose Tuesday after press time. The Dragons travel to face Sandy Thursday at 6:30 p.m. before hosting Milwaukie Tuesday at 4 p.m.

The matches are the team's final ones before the start of Mid-Willamette Conference play.

"Consistency is definitely key," Walker said. "We've got the skills, but if we can't keep it up for 80 minutes, we have nothing."
