The Oregonian seems to have all Oregon at its feet. Moral: Don't go into the newspaper business unless the Oregonian backs you.

If this is gospel, we hereby petition the Oregonian for permission to go into business at Dallas. Our opinion in the matter is that the News lacked editorial ability, more than any backing from the Oregonian. So far as the Observer has had a chance to observe, the Oregonian shows a disposition to let the Almighty regulate the fate of newspapers, as well as every thing else.

Dallas Council Notes. The city council met Monday evening in the council rooms with a full attendance of members, presided over by President Butler. After the reading of the minutes, the council proceeded to consideration of matters of city improvement, among which was the direction to the city marshal to repair defective sidewalks and to procure two street lamps After this busifiess, the council proceeded to the discussion of the matter of water Follows the use of Syrup of Fige, as it acts works for the city.
