WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

Value of Estate of E. C. Keyt, Deceased, is Estimated at $75,000.

The will of the late E. C. Keyt, of Perrydale, was filed for probate in the County Clerk's office, Friday. The instrument is brief, covering only three pages of ordinary legal paper. The will was executed by Mr. Keyt on November 2, 1901, and provides as follows: After all debts, funeral expenses, etc., are paid, Miss Frances Keyt is to be paid the sum of $2000, and the balance is to go to the widow, Mrs. Amanda Keyt, to her use and benefit as long as she remains the widow of the testator. Upon the death of Mrs. Keyt, the residue of the property is to be divided among the seven children, share and share alike.

Mrs. W. I. Reynolds was called to Salem this week by the serious illness of her daughter, Mrs. Bert Dennis.

County Clerk, Loughary issued license to wed to J. J. Hastings and Lela A. Hardy, J. T. Hughes and Rosa Cruzan, this week.

A little son of Oliver Dennis fell and broke his arm while playing with the boys at the public school a few days ago.

Rev. J. M. Green, of the Baptist church, will administer the ordinance of baptism next Sunday at 3:30 p. m. on Main street just above the bridge.

Normal Regent Dead.

The funeral of the late Judge Lawrence F. Flinn in Albany, Sunday, was largely attended, representative men from all parts of the state being present. Judge Flinn had long been one of Linn county's leading business men, and had enjoyed the universal respect and esteem of his fellow citizens. He came to Oregon in 1865, and spent the first winter in Linn county. For the next three years he taught in the schools of Linn and Polk counties with success. During this time he had continued his legal studies and had been admitted to the bar. Practice was continued through the years alone and with various associates, including the late J. C. Powell and George E. Chamberlain, the present governor of Oregon. Mr. Flinn was honored by the republican party of Linn county in being elected county judge of Linn county from 1880 to 1884. He was a regent of the Oregon State Normal school at Monmouth and a trustee of Albany college, and had served in other places of public interest with distinction.

PREPARING SEWER ESTIMATE

Work on System Will Begin As Soon As Plans and Estimates Are Completed.

The business portion of Dallas will be provided with sewerage during the coming Spring months. This action was decided upon by the city council at the special meeting Monday evening, and work will begin as soon as the plans and specifications are completed. The question was discussed at length at this meeting, and it was decided to prepare plans and estimates of two sewers, one on Mill street and one on Court street, to be connected in one outlet at the foot of Court street.

The system under consideration by the council at this time is not extensive, and would not cost a great amount of money. The members of the board all agree that it would not be good business policy for the city to attempt the construction of a system covering a large district this year. The plans now under preparation contemplate sewerage for the business portion of the city only, together with such private residence property as may be within easy reach of the main sewers.

It is argued, and with good reason, too, that the first step necessary in making Dallas a clean town is to sewer the main business blocks. After this is accomplished, the system will be extended to the residence district as rapidly as a majority of property owners petition for the improvement on their respective blocks or streets. In the great amount of preliminary work and investigation as to the best plans for a sewer system, the council has been aided by the advice and counsel of H. V. Gates, who is spending the greater part of his time in Dallas superintending the construction of the water works. Mr. Gates has attended all the meetings of the council, and, while not engaged in the business of putting in sewer systems, is thoroughly familiar with the work and has given the council much valuable information. When the question of employing a civil engineer to prepare plans and estimates of cost came up for consideration Monday evening, Mr. Gates kindly volunteered to do the work free of charge to the city. He stated that he was interested in Dallas' future growth and prosperity, and that he was glad of the opportunity to join with his fellow business men in Dallas in the work of promoting the important improvement under consideration by the council. It is needless to say that this generous offer was gratefully accepted, as it means a saving of several hundred dollars to the city.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS

J. T. Hughes and Miss Rose Cruzan Made Husband and Wife.

J. T. Hughes, of Dallas, and Miss Rosa Cruzan, of Dexter, Lane county, were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hughes, Tuesday, March 15, at 11 o'clock a. m.

The ceremony was witnessed by a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. J. M. Green, pastor of the Baptist church. Miss Maggie Hughes played a beautiful wedding march. After congratulations and presentation of presents, all repaired to the dining room where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will reside near Falls City.

Dallas College Prohibition Orator.

The local oratorical contest of the Dallas Prohibition Club was held in the college chapel, Tuesday. Chester P. Gates, a junior in the classical course and prominent in athletic and literary work, won first place and the coveted honor of representing Dallas at the state contest to be held at Philomath May 8. Miss Nellie Phillips won second place. The subject of Mr. Gates' oration was "The Rising Tide." The college quartet rendered several selections. The Prohibition Club system of oratorical contest is the most extensive in the United States. The winners of state contests compete in four interstate contests and the winners of the four interstate contests meet in a grand National contest to be held in Minneapolis next June. The cash prizes aggregate hundreds of dollars.

Death of Oregon Pioneer.

Mrs. Mariah Whiteaker Ogden, a Polk County pioneer, died in Glendale, Cal., a few days ago. Mrs. Ogden crossed the plains in 1848 and experienced great difficulties with the Indians. She was a sister of George and Benjamin Whiteaker, of Independence, and of Mrs. E. S. Levens, of Dallas. A husband and two daughters survive her. Deceased was well known in Polk County, having resided for many years on the old Whiteaker farm north of Monmouth.

A Song Story.

"Just one Girl." It makes me feel sad for it reminds me of "My Old Kentucky Home," for "She Was Bred in Old Kentucky." "In the Good Old Summer Time" "On a Sunday Afternoon" "Just as the Sun Went Down." "Where the Cotton Blossoms Grow." "Just Because She Made Those Goo-Goo Eyes," I said "Hello, My Baby," she said "It's Just Because I Love You So" "I'd Leave My Happy Home For You" "Down Where the Mississippi Flows." She is not "The Girl I Loved in Sunny Tennessee" but "My Girl from Dixie" and "Her Name is Rose," for she's "My Little Georgia Rose," and I loved her "When She Was Sweet Sixteen" and "I Haven't Changed My Mind Since Then." "One Night in June" I told her "The Old Story" and "Then I Got Mine" but "My Mother Was a Northern Girl" and I had to get her consent, so I started while the "Leaves Came Drifting Down" for "My Old New Hampshire Home" for "Break the News to Mother," and there I got a "Letter From Ohio" stating that my girl had eloped with "A Little Boy in Blue" and asking me "For Old Time's Sake" to "Go Away Back and Sit Down." When I showed the letter to "My Old Dad" "The Blow Almost Killed Father" and he said "Ain't Dat a Shame?" I decided "I Must Have Been a Dreaming," but "I Ain't a Goin' to Weep no More" "Because I'm Going to Live Anyhow Until I Die."

Entertainment Will be Given at M. E. Church Next Tuesday Evening.

The illustrated moving picture concert given by Messrs. Steel and Freedland at the Taylor-street church last evening, was a pronounced success. For the third time during the past year this entertainment has packed the church to the doors, and as on both former occasions the expressions of appreciation were many and enthusiastic. The moving pictures were even better and more realistic than on the former occasions. "The Trip to the Moon" and the "New York Fire Department in Action" received especial praise. A particularly noticeable feature of the moving pictures was the entire absence of the glimmering and hazy appearance so common with other moving picture machines. The colored stereoscopic views of California, Florida and Columbia River scenery, as well as the views of the cities and cathedrals of Europe were especially pleasing and equal to many months of sight seeing and travel. The vocal solos and duets by C. F. Freedland and F. D. Conter, illustrated by many views, met the approval of the large audience.—Oregonian, Feb. 25th.

This entertainment will be given at the M. E. Church, Tuesday evening, March 22, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. Don't miss it. Admission 15 and 25 cents. Reserved seats, 35 cents. Tickets at the Wilson drugstore.

DALLAS WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

O. A. C. Defeated in Fastest Game Ever Seen in Corvallis on Last Friday.

The Dallas College basket-ball team clinched its hold on the state championship when it defeated the Oregon Agricultural College team, by a score of 17 to 15, in Corvallis, last Friday night. The game was closely contested throughout, and it was the sensational goal thrown by Wilson, three minutes before the final whistle blew, that dashed O. A. C.'s hopes to the ground and gave Dallas the victory. The Dallas boys, although somewhat bewildered on the large court, played splendid ball, and were cheered to the echo by over one hundred loyal rooters who had chartered a special train in order to attend the game.

The Corvallis team has been beaten only twice on its own floor; the victory both times being won by the Dallas team. The game Friday evening settles beyond question the state championship for this season, and also helps to lessen the glory of Seattle's victory in Dallas, as the Corvallis team was the only team in Oregon that was successful in winning a game from the husky Washington lads last winter.

The game in Corvallis, Friday night, was clear and remarkably free from wrangling or disputes. Referee VanOrsdel called fouls on both teams with equal impartiality, and the decisions of the Corvallis umpire were just in every instance.

The only cause of regret among the Dallas people who visited the game is the rough and ungentlemanly treatment to which they were subjected as the train was leaving Corvallis. Not content with stealing the signal lanterns on the train, cutting the bell cord and piling cordwood under the car wheels, a band of hoodlums lined up along the track, and as the train began to move, threw mud upon the passengers by the handful. Several persons standing on the platforms were struck by rocks, and many suits and overcoats were ruined by the volley of mud that was thrown. At every street crossing from the depot to the north end of town this disgraceful performance was repeated, and when the train reached the suburbs many of the passengers who had been unable to crowd into the coaches were plastered with mud from head to foot. The excursionists were so surprised and astonished at such a display of ruffianism in a town where they had gone as friendly visitors that they could scarcely realize what had happened. This surprise gave way to indignation when it was recalled by many passengers that among the rowdies making the cowardly assault were a large number of young men wearing the caps and uniform of the college.

No blame is attached to the good people of Corvallis, to the college team, or to the college faculty for the disgraceful conduct of this band of young toughs, and the Observer has but one word of suggestion to the managers of the school. Polk county pays annually something over $700 in taxes for the support of the Agricultural College, and we would advise that a part or all of this money be spent in training a number of the students to be gentlemen. Such a course of study is badly needed in the O. A. C. curriculum, and the people of Polk County, especially those whose clothing was ruined by mud and whose arms and bodies were bruised by flying stones and missiles, will cheerfully pay their part of the expense.

Revivals at Independence

Special revival services began at the United Evangelical Church in Independence last Sunday evening. Dr. C. C. Poling, presiding elder; Rev. A. A. Winter, of Dallas, and Rev. H. A. Deek, of Corvallis, are in charge of the meeting. Rev. Edmondson, of the Methodist Church, will begin a series of sermons on the subject, "Christianity's Great Words and Themes," for the month of March, on Sunday evenings. The subjects are as follows: 13th, "Lost;" 20th, "Saviour;" 27th, "Repentance."

A Popular Company.

Miss Clara Mathis and her big company will open a week's engagement in Dallas, starting Monday evening, March 21, and present their repertoire of this seasons dramatic successes, with high-class vaudeville between acts. The engagement will open with a big production of Arthur Aiston's comedy-drama of the West, "Tennessee's Partner." Prices for the engagement, 15, 25, and 35 cents.

The Dallas College basket-ball team has been royally entertained in the homes of Dallas during the last week. Last Thursday evening, Henry Williams gave the team a chicken supper at Stevens' restaurant, and on Tuesday evening they were entertained at dinner by Chester and Rebecca Gates.

Dark Outlook For Prunes.

Outlook for the unsold portion of the prune crop of 1903 continues poor, and fears are entertained that the sale of the 1904 crop will be seriously affected.

According to some dealers, there are about 800 carloads of dried prunes still in the hands of the producers of the Northwest, and the demand has dropped very materially since the Winter has passed. "The prunegrowers of Oregon can only blame the leaping spirits of their associations for the present state of affairs," said one wholesale dealer today. "Last Fall, when prunes would have brought enough to allow of a fair margin, the officials of the various prunegrowers' associations advised the producers to hold on. The time to sell dried prunes is in October and November, as the fruit is consumed during the cold Winter months. The result of this poor advice on the part of the association officers has been to leave a vast amount of dried prunes in the hands of the first growers, with prices ranging from 1 1/2 cents a pound as a basis. The outlook for an advance is very poor at this time."—Portland Telegram.

Advertised Letters.

On March 14, 1904, there were advertised letters in the Dallas postoffice for Mrs. K. R. Kennedy, Gordon Bowman, S. B. Burroughs, Elie Daniels, K. M. Ham, Loyd Jones, Rev. F. L. Moore, Clayton G. Smith (2) and Felix Wagner. C. G. Coak, Postmaster.

FELL FROM STREET CAR

Former Dallas Man Sustains Injuries From Which He May Not Recover.

Willard C. Siefarth, a yard foreman in the employ of the Inman-Poulson Lumber company, was thrown from a City & Suburban street car at the curve in the Sunnyside and Mount Tabor branch at East Thirtieth and Belmont streets at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning and received injuries from which he may die. He was removed immediately to his home, corner of Thirty-fifth and Belmont streets, but was soon after taken to the Good Samaritan hospital, where Dr. A. C. Panton attended him.

In the fall Mr. Siefarth was thrown violently to the ground, his head striking first. He suffered a severe concussion of the brain, and his recovery is deemed doubtful. From the time of the accident until late Tuesday afternoon the injured man was unconscious.

George Biehle, conductor, and H. Crawford, motorman, were in charge of the car, and in their reports to the company say that Mr. Siefarth was standing on the rear platform, together with several other passengers, when the car turned the curve. He lost his balance and fell headlong. The car men say the car was not running very rapidly.

Mr. Siefarth was going to work at the time of the accident. He has been employed at the Inman-Poulson mill for three months, and was previously a Pullman conductor on the O. R. & N. between Portland and Green River, Wyoming.

Grangers Elect Delegates.

The Polk County Grange met in Monmouth, Friday, and elected F. M. Smith and C. E. Staats delegates to the State Grange Convention to be held at Corvallis. A resolution asking for delivery of mail on Sunday and legal holidays by rural carriers was adopted. The meeting was largely attended, delegates being present from nearly all the Granges in the county.

Restaurant Changes Hands.

S. G. Stevens sold his restaurant in this city to Sing Wah, Monday. The new Chinese proprietor has moved the business across the street to the building one door south of Knox & Murrell's meat market. He has employed white help in the dining room, and has fitted up a neat restaurant.

The Young Women's Christian Association of Dallas College gave a social afternoon and tea at the home of Mrs. J. G. VanOrsdel, Monday. Members of the Ladies' Professorship and other ladies were invited to meet Miss Shields, traveling secretary of the association. The afternoon passed most pleasantly to all.

SOME DON'T WANT IT

Primary Election Law — Taxpayers Say It Would Be too Expensive.

Many taxpayers are open in their expressions of objection to the proposed primary election law. They say that if it is adopted it will cost practically the same as it does now to hold a general election. They add that the latter costs enough without increasing it by holding two instead of one election, every election year.

In the proposed law, there are provisions for printed ballots, for poll books, for blanks for returns, for judges and clerks, for canvassing officers, in fact for everything practically that is now involved in the regular election. All this expensive machinery, they say, is to be substituted for the present system of primaries and conventions which cost the taxpayers nothing. It is estimated that under it, the ordinary primaries in Polk county, which cost nothing now, would under the proposed plan cost at least $700, if not more.

It is said that in some of the older states where the plan has been tried it has been abandoned.

The proposed law will doubtless be thoroughly explained in the state press between now and the June election, and the people will be enabled to vote upon it intelligently. If it will have the effect of doing away with political bossism and the disgraceful fights carried on in some counties before the primaries it should be adopted. The Observer is inclined to believe that it is like the registration law in one respect, and that is, that it will be of no practical benefit outside the large cities.

Denies He is a Candidate.

PERRYDALE, Or., March 15.—(To the Editor.)—Having noticed by the press of Polk county, also by correspondents to outside papers that I am a probable candidate for State Senator, would ask you to kindly state in your next issue that I am not a candidate for the place.

D. L. KEET.

Announces His Candidacy.

U. S. Loughary, the present County Clerk, requests us to announce his candidacy for Senator of Polk County. He asks the support of all the Republicans who think he is worthy of this honor, and who are not already pledged to other candidates.

Growers Get Left.

When Tommy Whitehorn left Corvallis to join his family in California, he was not quite certain where he would find them, a situation brought about by irregular mails at that time. Letters received from him give the information that all is well with him. Tommy is interested in the prune business to some extent here. He stepped into a grocery store at Golden Gate Park and inquired the price of some good looking 40-50 Italian prunes on display. "They are worth 15 cents a pound," said the groceryman. Whitehorn was surprised that they were so high and affected a decision not to buy on that account. The groceryman said the prunes cost him ten cents a pound, but if Whitehorn would take a 20-pound box he could have them at 12 1/2 cents. Then Tommy said to the groceryman: "You are paying too much for your prunes. I should like to deliver a carload of better fruit at your door at six cents." The incident serves to illustrate the rapidly with which the price of prunes goes up after leaving the hands of the producer.—Corvallis Times.

Worry

And Overwork Caused Nervous Prostration—Completely Worn Out. Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure Me.

Dr. Miles' Nerve will cure nervous prostration. It will bring sweet sleep and rest; it will relieve the mind of the tendency to worry; it will make the nerves strong and the patient well. It has cured thousands. It will cure you. Try it today.

"Some years ago I was stricken with nervous prostration caused by overwork and worry. I was in such a weakened, exhausted, run down condition that I was unable to do my household work. I felt too weak and tired to even make calls on my neighbors. Frequently when out driving I would become so exhausted that it seemed that I would die before I reached home. I was also troubled with sinking spells at night which left me so weak that I thought I could not live until morning. I was in this deplorable condition when one day Dr. Miles' Nerve was brought to my notice. I had little faith in proprietary remedies but determined to give the Nerve a trial. After the second dose of the Restorative Nerve I was able to sit at the table and eat a meal, something I had been unable to do for many days. I have since taken a number of bottles of Nerve. I cannot say I am cured. I am doing my own work and give Dr. Miles' Nerve credit for my general good health. My object in writing this is to recommend your medicine but I cannot write as strongly as I feel."—Miss ANDER, VARRE, 455 E. Marion St., Guthrie, Oklahoma.
