OUTING ABOVE THE CLOUDS

Rev. W. T. Wardle Arrives Home From Trip to Summit of Mount Shasta.

Rev. W. T. Wardle, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, arrived home from his trip to Mount Shasta, Friday afternoon. He greatly enjoyed his outing in the mountains of Northern California, and while tanned by exposure to the winds that sweep across the lofty summit of Mount Shasta, presents a perfect picture of health and strength.

Reverend Wardle left Portland with the Mazama party two weeks ago, and was one of the fortunate few that reached the top of California's famous mountain peak. The ten-mile trip from the railroad station at Sisson to the timber line was made by team over a wild and picturesque mountain road, and after this part of the journey had been completed the party spent several days in camp, resting and preparing for the steep and dangerous climb to the summit.

While camping at the timber line, five miles below the summit, the party was enlarged by the arrival of several hardy mountain-climbers from Southern Oregon and California.
The ascent of the mountain was begun at 4 o'clock in the morning, and exactly eleven hours later Rev. Wardle and eight other climbers reached the summit. Forest fires in Southern Oregon had filled the air so thickly with smoke that little of the country north of the mountain could be seen.
But the view to the south was grand beyond description and amply repaid the members of the party for the many difficulties and dangers encountered in making the ascent. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the party remained on the summit only thirty minutes, and, after recording their names in a register provided for the purpose, started down the mountain for camp. In this first crowd, there were no members of the Mazama Club. Later in the afternoon, two or three Mazamas reached the summit, but the greater number of the people from Portland abandoned the attempt when there was still an hour of hard climbing before them.

The descent of the camp was made in three hours, although Rev. Wardle, stopping to eat supper at the camp of a naturalist from the University of California, did not get in until 10 o'clock.

Although greatly exhausted from the hard day's work, the members of the party were all in the best of spirits, and when they left for Sisson the next day not one of them was sorry that he had undertaken the toilsome climb.
The trip was pleasant throughout, no accidents occurred, and none but pleasant memories will remain of the hazardous journey to the snowy crest of Northern California's most lofty mountain peak.

Enjoying Pleasant Outing.

The writer, in company with Mr. and Mrs. John C. Uglov, enjoyed the open-handed hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Ellis at their pleasant camp on the Luckiamute river above Falls City last Sunday. The camp is located in a shady nook near the Watkins planing mill, and is provided with all the conveniences of home. In this quiet, restful retreat, where the only sounds heard are the rippling of waters and singing of birds, it is easy to imagine one's self far removed from the busy haunts of men, and yet it is only five minutes walk from the camp to the postoffice in Falls City, and less than one hundred yards to the Watkins mill office, where telephone connection can be had with every town and city on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Ellis is thus enabled to keep in close touch with his business interests in Dallas while taking a much-needed rest from the active affairs of life. It is needless to add that his health, which has not been rugged of late, is steadily improving, and he is enjoying every minute of his vacation. Camping with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis are Mrs. Lydia D'Lashmatt, Mrs. Jennie Smith, Miss Mabel Guy and Everett Gwinn.

Dallas, are in Albany for a short business visit. They expect to purchase a good farm near Albany, when they will locate here.—Albany Herald.

in Newberg two or three days the last of the week in the interest of Dallas College, with which he is connected along with his pastoral work.—New-berg Graphic.

PLEASANT SUNDAY OUTING

Excursion Train From Dallas to Falls City Carries Large Number of People.

The excursion to Falls City last Sunday was well patronized, considering the fact that a large portion of Dallas' population is just now scattered far and wide among the mountain and seaside resorts of Western Oregon. Two coaches were filled with Dallas people, and many excursionists boarded the train at way stations. The roadbed has been placed in excellent condition since last Winter, and the run to Falls City was quickly made. The comfort of the passengers was well looked after by Conductor John Woods and Vice-President George T. Gerlinger, and the ride was one of the enjoyable features of the day.

Arriving in Falls City at 9:30 o'clock, the excursionists scattered through the town, some going to spend the day with friends, while others took their lunch baskets and sought some cool spot on the banks of the Luckiamute river away from the heat and dust.

A large crowd witnessed the baseball game between the Falls City and Sheridan teams at Butler Park in the afternoon. The grounds were in fine condition, and the cool, shady grandstand was greatly appreciated by the spectators. The game was closely contested from start to finish, and was won by the home team by a score of 6 to 5. Falls City's aggregation of ball tossers put up an exhibition of the National game that is well worth seeing, but the boys were not in as good form as they were earlier in the season when they had more practice.
Harry Belt, the plucky little one-armed pitcher of the Sheridan team, played a safe and conscientious game, while his brother Paul did great work behind the bat. The boys received wretched support, however, and were unable to overcome the careless and indifferent playing of the outfielders.
Leland Murphy, of Falls City, officiated as umpire, and the conduct of both teams was quiet and gentlemanly throughout the game.

The train left Falls City at 6 o'clock in the evening and arrived in Dallas half an hour later.

Hump Back

SCOTT'S EMULSION won't make a
