Office upstairs Uglow building. Hours 8 to 12 and 1 to 5. Examinations free. Phone 46. M. M. Ellis and family returned from their outing in the mountains above Falls City, Thursday. Mr. Ellis is greatly improved in health, and enters upon his office work with renewed energy. Marriage is not a failure. It's your own fault if you fail to make your home happy. Comfort and luxury are within your reach: wealth isn't necessary. The greatest Furniture Bargains at Frank Kerslake's. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Paulson, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. P. A. Finseth, for the last four months, left for their home in Porter, Minnesota, Monday. Mrs. Finseth accompanied them as far as Portland. Eugene Hayter returned home from the coast Saturday seriously ill with hemorrhage of the bowels. He was confined to his bed several days, but is able to be out again, although very weak from the effects of the attack. City Marshal D. W. Gibson, of Salem, has sued the publishers of the Capital Journal for $5000 damages for publishing an article accusing him of kicking a dog to death. The Journal printed the complaint in full in Tuesday's paper. The County Court has ordered the courthouse square graded and placed in readiness for seeding to lawn grass, and a force of men is engaged in doing the work, under the direction of County Surveyor John P. VanOrsdel. The surface of the ground is being brought to a uniform grade, and dirt is being placed in the park strip between the cement sidewalk and the gutter. Polk county will have one of the prettiest courthouse lawns in the state when the work is finished.

Miller, a prominent hop raiser of Pelee, was in Dallas, Tuesday. He reports his yards to be looking fine, and expects to harvest an average-sized crop of excellent hops. Any persons having work by which students at the college can earn their board, or earn money for a part of their expenses, will confer a favor by giving notice to Prof. C. T. Whittlesey, north end of Railroad street. T. J. Graves, a prominent hop raiser of McCoy, was a Dallas visitor, Wednesday. He has a good crop of hops this year, and is well pleased with the outlook for a profitable price. He says the grain harvest is about over in his neighborhood. George W. Derrick, traveling organizer of the Order of Lions, is in Dallas this week. He is meeting great success in securing new members, and expects to double the membership of the local lodge before leaving town. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Courter, J. R. Ford, Gilbert Tyson and W. H. Livingston, of Falls City, were among the witnesses for the prosecution in the action of the State of Oregon vs. E. Garrison, in Justice Holman's court last Friday. A fire broke out in the roof of A. Shultz's warehouse west of the public school building at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. A brisk wind was blowing at the time and for a few minutes the building was threatened with destruction. People living close by formed a bucket brigade and succeeded in keeping the fire down until the hose companies arrived on the scene and finished the work of subduing the flames. The damage is nominal. Clarence King, of Portland, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Rich. Mrs. G. N. Cherrington is suffering from a severe attack of muscular rheumatism. Mrs. C. S. Baskett and granddaughter, Miss Katie Fox, of Rickreall, were visitors in Dallas, Saturday. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown died Tuesday morning after an illness lasting only a few hours. Burial took place in the Brown cemetery yesterday. A. H. Boyd, manager of the Portland branch of the Pacific Coast Syrup Company, accompanied by his traveling salesman, was in Dallas visiting the trade yesterday afternoon. The current number of the Oregon Timberman contains an entire column of news items concerning Dallas sawmills and factories; also, interesting descriptive write-ups of the sawmills at Falls City, Polk county. Willis H. Shriver, of Toledo, Ohio, is visiting his cousin, H. P. Shriver, in this city. These two gentlemen, accompanied by R. A. Kirk, of Salem, went on a fishing trip to the little Luckiamute river, Tuesday, and caught a fine lot of mountain trout. Mrs. Jennie Turner and daughter, Pauline, of Livingston, Montana, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Cobb. Miss Turner has been a telephone operator in Livingston for the last five years, and is now enjoying a well-earned vacation. Services at the Christian church Sunday. Subject for morning discourse "The nature and effects of Sin;" evening, "Our years." Special music. There will be services at the Oakdale schoolhouse Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Subject, "Jesus a Saviour." G. L. LOBBELL. I have received my Optical Test Case, and am prepared to examine your eyes. No charge for examination. Nuptials at St. Paul's Episcopal church Thursday evening, September 1st, at 8 o'clock. No cards. Miss Huelat is a niece of Charles F. Belt, of this city. The OBERVEYER office has done more job printing this summer than ever before, having kept two presses running almost constantly during the months of July and August. Just now the orders for hop tickets are keeping the printers busy from morning till night, and there are many large orders for commercial printing on hand. Horatio Morrison is down from Waitsburg, Wash., on a visit. Among former Polk county people now living in and around Waitsburg, he mentions Rev. Barton Z. Riggs and family, Ralph Riggs, Forrest Guthrie and Joseph East and family. He says they are all in good health and prosperous. Mr. Morrison went to Pioneer, Tuesday, to visit his uncle, Barney Morrison, for a few days. A complete list of the patrons of the mutual telephone lines centering in Dallas will be found on the first page of this paper. This form will be put on the press in our job office today and copies of the directory will be printed on cardboard for free distribution. Any person desiring one of these directories can get it by applying to the central office in the Wilson drug store. D. W. Sears, the well-known capitalist of Independence, was in Dallas on a business visit a few hours Wednesday afternoon. Neither he nor his aged mother have been enjoying good health this summer, but both are feeling better than they were a few weeks ago. Mr. Sears says that the wind storm at Independence on Saturday did no serious damage to the hop yards. The strong sea breeze of last Friday afternoon did quite a little damage to the hop yards in the vicinity of Independence. Poles were blown down in the yards of Walker Brothers, Patton & Sloper, John Burton, B. D. Cooper and others, the damage in most cases, however, being slight. The hops were not damaged in the least, and nothing worse than a little trouble and expense of redriving and propping poles resulted. R. E. Bryan, president of the Bryan-Lucas Lumber Company, of Falls City, left Monday on a business trip to Salt Lake City, Denver and other cities in the Rocky Mountain states. He may decide to visit Kansas City and St. Louis before returning home. Mr. Bryan says that the demand for the lumber cut by the mills of his company is constantly increasing, and he thinks the output this year will be fully fifty per cent greater than that of last year. Ray Craven and Elmer Newbill, of Ballston, were business visitors in Dallas, Tuesday. Mr. Craven, who manages the Ballston warehouse for his father, says that harvesting is well advanced in the north end of the county, and that the average yield of wheat will not exceed 15 bushels per acre. The berry is plump, however, and weighs out well. Oats are almost an entire failure, and many farmers will have to buy. Last year the Ballston warehouse took in 25,000 bushels of oats, but so far none have been offered for storage this season.
