Dallas Gets Bible Institute.
The delegates from Dallas College to the Y. M. C. A. convention for the states of Oregon and Idaho returned from Salem, Monday, and report an interesting and profitable session. One hundred and seventy-five dele- gates, representing various college and city associations, were in attend- ance, and were royally entertained. Prominent Y. M. C. A. workers from all over the Northwest were present and participated in the program. The Dallas delegation succeeded in getting the Bible Study Institute for this city, and the session will be held on January 14 and 15, at which time a large number of delegates, represent- ing all the colleges in the valley, will be present.

CELEBRATE WOODEN WEDDING
Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Cherrington En- tertain Friends at Their Home in This City.
Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Cherrington celebrated the fifth anniversary of their wedding day at their beautiful home in this city Tuesday evening. About fifty invited friends were present to participate in the pleasures of the happy occasion. The parlors and dining room were decorated with a profusion of rare carnations and chrysanthemums, ferns in Indian baskets, and mistletoe. The stocks of Portland florists were heavily drawn upon for these decorations, and the re- sult was a display of surprising beauty. The evening was merrily spent in whist, hearts, and other games, and the enjoyment was heightened by vocal and instrumental music. This being a "wooden wedding," the dainty lunch was served on wide cedar shingles, to which the favors for each guest were fastened by a bow of ribbon. The favors were chrysanthemums for the women and carnations for the men. Mr. and Mrs. Cherrington received many handsome presents in wood, among them being an elegant Morris chair, Mission furniture, parlor and dining room ornaments in burnt wood. The guest departed at a late hour, wishing their host and hostess many more happy anniversaries of their wedding day.
The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bryan, Dr. and Mrs. Mark Hayter, Mr. and Mrs. Will Tatom, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Belt, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Toney, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hayter, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chapman; Misses Bertha Collins, Hallie Reynolds, Rose Bronken, May Shelton, Persephone Butler, Ella Butler, May Pollock, Ollie Smith, Pearl Walker, Minnie Roy; Messrs. R. E. Williams, Wesley Vaughn, Aure Ford, Floyd Daly, T. J. Cherrington, Moss Walker, J. C. Hayter, Will Weaver, C. L. Starr, Charles Black and Tracy Staats.

PARALYSIS CAUSES DEATH
Milton B. Jones Passes Away at His Home in West Salem After One Week's Illness.
Milton B. Jones, an old and respected citizen of Polk county, died at his home in West Salem, Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, aged 68 years. His death was caused by paralysis. During his illness of one week, he suffered three strokes of the disease.
Mr. Jones was born in Fayette, Howard county, Missouri, and moved to Polk county in 1864, crossing the plains with an ox team. He settled near Perrydale and lived there con- tinuously until about one month ago, when he moved to West Salem. He leaves a wife, three brothers and two sisters.
Burial took place in the Bethel cem- etery at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, under the auspices of Amity Lodge, No. 20, A. F. & A. M., of which de- ceased was a member. A large num- ber of sorrowing friends followed the remains to their last resting place.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR DALLAS
Steam Laundry Will Begin Operations January First.
O. L. Hartley, an experienced laundryman, has decided to estab- lish a steam laundry in Dallas, and will order the machinery for the plant at once. Mr. Hartley has made arrangements with W. C. Brown for a new building on the alley south of Shaw's feed stable, where connection with the Mill street sewer can be had, and says it is his intention to conduct a clean, up-to- date laundry. Such a business will doubtless pay well in Dallas, and will be welcomed by the people who are now sending their work to Salem, Corvallis, Portland and other towns.
Was Once Judge of Polk.
Charles E. Moor, a former Judge of Polk county, died at his home north of Corvallis, Tuesday morning, aged 81 years. Judge Moor was a prom- inent Oregon pioneer, former member of the Legislature, superintendent of the Blind School under Governor Moody, and once postmaster at Cor- vallis. He was born in New York, and came to Oregon in 1853, settling in Polk county. A son and daughter survive him.
