BUILDING MINIATURE CITY

Spokane Will Show Herself in Hand-Carved Reproduction at Lewis and Clark Fair.

One of the most novel exhibits at the Lewis and Clark Exposition will be the city of Spokane, Wash. The city is to be removed to Portland aboard a car, and it will not require a very large car, either. Spokane in miniature is now being built. A civil engineer and an artist are the builders, and the Spokane Chamber of Commerce is the sponsor. The miniature city, a beautiful reproduction, with a stream of real water to represent Spokane Falls, will occupy a room in the balcony above the mining exhibit in the Washington state building at the fair, and Spokane people will proudly point out the places of interest in their city without finding it necessary to take the tourist thither. It is the expectation, however, that the tourist who sees the reduced face-simile of Spokane will be so charmed that he will go up and see the actual city. The plan is to reproduce the city in detail from Jefferson street to Division street, between Mallon avenue and the Northern Pacific railroad. To the sightseer the city will appear as if seen from an elevation over the river at Jefferson street, and he will be looking away to the north, the east and the south. The foundation of the city, which will include the streets, curbs and sidewalks, will be of cement from two inches to six inches thick. The district to be represented will be made on an absolute scale of 30 feet to the inch, which will make the exhibit 10x12 feet. The cement foundation will be divided into 10 sections, weighing 120 pounds each, so that it can be safely moved. The buildings will be hand-carved from pine. Each city block will be made separately, and will be fastened upon the cement foundations by dowels. That will permit the whole thing to be taken apart for shipment. After the details of all the business buildings are carved they will be painted in actual colors of the structures. The bridges will be reproduced of wood and wire. The out-lying portions of the city will be painted upon canvas and adroitly joined to the little city so as to appear in actual perspective.

General VanOrsdel Promoted. Governor Brooks, of Wyoming, has appointed Attorney-General J. A. VanOrsdel to be a member of the Supreme Court of that state, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Chief Justice Knight. Mr. VanOrsdel went to Wyoming in 1891, and was appointed Attorney-General in 1898. He has filled the office continuously since the last-named year, and is a very popular official. He is a brother of Ex-Sheriff J. G. VanOrsdel, of this city. Many Dallas people who had the pleasure of meeting him on the occasion of his visit here three years ago will be pleased to learn of his promotion. The Dooty & Simpson saw mill is not yet running its full capacity but is turning out about 20,000 feet of lumber a day.—Enterprise.

GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. John B. Smith Died at Her Home Near Bridgeport, Saturday.

Mrs. Maggie Smith, wife of John B. Smith, died at the family home near Bridgeport, Saturday, April 22, 1905, aged 37 years. She had been in failing health for several years.

Mrs. Smith was a daughter of L. C. Hill, of Bridgeport, and was born in Knox county, Tenn., December 27, 1867. She came with the family to Oregon in 1884, and was married to John B. Smith on the 8th of September, 1886. She leaves a husband and four children, the oldest being aged 17 years and the youngest two years. She is also survived by her father and two sisters, Mrs. I. F. Yoakum and Miss Nellie Hill. Mrs. Smith joined the United Evangelical Church in 1898, and was a faithful and consistent member to the end of her life.

The funeral services were held in the Bridgeport church Monday morning, and were largely attended by sorrowing neighbors and friends of the family. The services were conducted by Presiding Elder M. J. Ballantyne and Rev. D. M. Metzger, of Dallas. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. One of the largest funeral processions ever seen in Polk county following the remains to their last resting place in the Odd-fellows' cemetery, south of Dallas.

Mrs. Smith was a woman of noble qualities, and was universally beloved by her acquaintances. Her pleasant disposition and charming manners made her a social favorite in her community, and her influence was also for the very best in church and Sunday school work. Her death will be deeply mourned, and the bereaved family have the sympathy of all in their sad loss.

WOODMEN ELECT OFFICERS

Boak Wins Out for Head Consul and Snodgrass for Head Banker.

The Pacific division of the Woodmen of the World has elected officers for the ensuing term. I. I. Boak, of Denver, was chosen head consul; P. E. Snodgrass, of Eugene, Oregon, head banker; F. P. Bertschey, Denver, head auditor; Dr. T. A. Hughes, Denver, head physician.

There were but three head managers to elect, Messrs. A. D. Stillman, of Pendleton, Or., and C. V. Benson, of Loveland, Colo., holding over. The following were elected: T. M. Robinson, of Oakland, Cal.; W. C. Hawley, of Salem, Or., and Dr. James Stenhouse, of Denver.

Elmer F. Conner, of Seattle, Wash., was elected as head escort, while the election for head watchman resulted in the selection of A. Arglat, of Everett, Wash., and that of head sentry fell to Charles O'Conner, of Salt Lake.

Perfect Easter.

Easter Sunday was appropriately observed by the various churches in Dallas. The day was perfect, and the places of worship were all well filled. The floral decorations were the most beautiful ever seen in the Dallas churches. The weather was delightfully warm, and the pretty hats worn by the feminine portion of each congregation made the interior of the churches resemble veritable flower gardens. After the close of the services, hundreds of people strolled about the city, enjoying the welcome sunshine. In the afternoon, the thermometer climbed up to 84 degrees, and the usual Sunday calm once more prevailed, the weather being too warm for comfort on the street. The weather statistics disclose the fact that Sunday was one of the hottest April days ever experienced in Oregon.

Throat Coughs

A tickling in the throat; hoarseness at times; a deep breath irritates it;—these are features of a throat cough. They're very deceptive and a cough mixture won't cure them. You want something that will heal the inflamed membranes, enrich the blood and tone up the system . . . . .

Scott's Emulsion

is just such a remedy. It has wonderful healing and nourishing power. Removes the cause of the cough and the whole system is given new strength and vigor . . . . .

HOPGROWERS FORM POOL

Only Three Thousand Bales in Oregon Are Now Outside the Combine.

Sixty of the leading hopgrowers of Oregon met in Portland, Tuesday, and without a dissenting voice agreed to hold their hops until August 1, unless the price goes up to 30 cents. There are only about 17,000 bales left unsold in Oregon, and as 13,895 bales were withdrawn from sale at this meeting, the success of the movement is assured. It is known that of the holders of the remaining 3000 bales the majority have signified their approval of the pool and will add their names to the agreement as soon as they have an opportunity.

One of the strongest indications of an actual shortage of hops in the United States and England at the present time is found in the action of the short sellers, who, through their attorneys, attempted to prevent the formation of the pool by praying for an injunction by the circuit court restraining the growers from holding their hops. It is claimed that back of this suit, are the brewers, who claim that a pool at the present time, with the supply less than the demand, will ruin them in business. So desperate is the situation for the shorts that they talk of carrying the fight into the Federal court.

The growers are not worried in the least, and declare that if their enemies had laid awake all night trying to think of some way to help the growers, they could not have done a better job. If the suit has had any effect upon growers still holding hops, it has encouraged them to hang on. One heavy holder expresses the views of growers thus: "There were a few who were in doubt about the dealers needing all the remaining hops to fill their contracts, but in bringing this suit the short-sellers have admitted the extremity in which they find themselves. Those who are opposed to the pool acknowledge that they must have hops. This they have been denying heretofore."

"It makes no particular difference whether the courts enjoin the formation of the pool; the growers will hold their hops in any event until the price goes to 30 cents or better. Growers will hold individually, if not by agreement. The courts may enjoin the formation of a pool, but they won't compel the growers to sell their hops."

COMMERCIAL WIRE TO AMITY

Work on Mutual Telephone Company's Long-Distance Line is Under Way.

J. B. Long, manager of the Amity Mutual Telephone exchange, informs the Advance that there has been "something doing" recently toward extension and improvement of the service in this locality, and as a result Amity, Dallas and intervening points will very soon be able to realize the added convenience and advantages to be derived from a commercial line connecting the Amity and Dallas mutual exchanges. The money and labor required to build this line will be contributed by mutual subscribers at Amity, Ballston, South Sheridan and other points which will derive a direct benefit from such extension of the service. Active work on this project was commenced Wednesday when 107 poles were out and peeled for the line and its construction from now on will be pushed to completion with vigor. The new line will be nine miles in length and it is expected that the same will be completed within a month. The success of this project, which is sure to very materially improve and extend the mutual service in this locality, is due in no small degree to the energetic efforts of Mr. Long, and it is expected after the line is completed its supervision and maintenance will devolve on the Amity mutual company.—Amity Advance.

Serious Attack of Heart Disease.

James P. Starr, an old and highly respected citizen of Dallas, suffered a serious attack of congestion of the heart, Sunday morning, and for a short time it was feared that he could not recover. Medical aid was promptly summoned, and treatment such as is usually adopted in an emergency of the kind was resorted to, with the result that the old gentleman was soon resting easy again. The attack left him in a greatly weakened condition, however, and he is still confined to the house.

DALLAS WINS FIRST GAME

College Boys Defeat Salem High School Baseball Team by One Run.

The Dallas College baseball team began the season most auspiciously last Saturday afternoon by defeating the Salem High School nine by a score of 8 to 7. The game was played on the Dallas grounds, and was closely contested from start to finish. The local fans turned out in full force to root for the home team and were furnished plenty of excitement and entertainment. Myer, although a little slow in his delivery, pitched an excellent game for the home team and kept the hits scattered at all critical points. The Salem team led until the sixth inning. Then the Evangelicals put on their batting clothes and began straightening King's curves into two-baggers and triplets in a way that was good to see. Salem's lead was soon overcome, and the game was closed with Dallas one run ahead. Dr. H. L. Toney acted as umpire, and proved a fair and competent official. A return game will be played on the Salem diamond tomorrow afternoon. The next game on the home ground will be with State Normal team one week from tomorrow.

Many Will Go to Portland.

Arrangements have been made with the management of the Lewis and Clark Exposition to admit visitors to the fair grounds in Portland on Sunday, May 7, the date of the conductors' excursion. Entertainment will be provided and the various buildings will be almost entirely in readiness for the opening of the big exposition. In most cases, the exhibits will be in place and can be seen. The Oregon building will be completed and will be thrown open to the visitors, and this will doubtless prove one of the greatest attractions for the crowds that will be in attendance from all parts of the Willamette valley on that day. The conductors will spare no expense or pains to make the excursion attractive and enjoyable, and all who can should arrange to embrace this opportunity to enjoy a Sunday at the Lewis and Clark fair grounds. The fare for the round trip will be only $1.50.

Sold to Portland Men.

The Dallas ice factory was sold under foreclosure of a chattel mortgage to Paul Wessinger and Henry Wagner, trustees, Tuesday, for $2750. The purchasers represent the estate of the late Henry Weinhard, of Portland. The plant has been operated by A. C. Leutgert, of Portland, since passing out of the hands of Fidler & Marks, its original owners. It is reported that the plant will be operated steadily in the future, as it has been in the past. The Dallas ice factory has had a good patronage ever since it was built, and, with proper management, can be made one of the profitable manufacturing institutions of the Willamette valley.
