The work of laying ties on the extension of the Dallas and Falls City railroad has begun, and rapid progress is being made. The steel gang is following close behind, and trains will soon be running into the big timber a mile west of Falls City.

Hop vines are making a rapid growth, and in many yards have reached the top of the poles. A hail storm in the McBee neighborhood one day last week did considerable damage to the tender vines, but luckily the storm was confined to a small area.

O. A. Dearing, traveling representative of the American Type Founders' Company, was in Dallas in the interest of the firm, Monday. Mr. Dearing is an experienced newspaper man, and has an extensive acquaintance among the printers of the Pacific coast. His last journalistic venture was at Corvallis, where he published the Gazette for several months.

Owners of prune orchards around Dallas express fear that the fruit was damaged by the excessively hot weather of Sunday and Monday. Some of the growers declare that their orchards will not yield more than half the usual crop. Others believe the injury to be much less serious. It is too early to ascertain the exact extent of the damage, and further reports from the orchards will be anxiously awaited.

W. P. Flynn, a brother of M. G. Flynn, has arrived in Oregon from Ottawa, Ont., and entered the employ of the Southern Pacific Company as roadmaster. He is stationed at Roseburg. He was formerly roadmaster for the Canadian Pacific, and was in Oregon only six days before going on duty. His brother, Mike, met him at Vancouver, B. C., and accompanied him to Oregon. A pleasing and yet pathetic incident occurred in connection with the services at the United Evangelical Church, Monday night, when a valuable Bible for the blind was presented to Mrs. A. A. Launer, of this city. Mrs. Launer is a blind woman of exceptionally high attainments, and has long been a faithful and efficient worker in the church. She was greatly affected by the presentation remarks of her pastor, Rev. D. M. Metzger, but regained her composure sufficiently to express her gratitude in most appropriate terms. Although tears of thankfulness coursed down her cheeks as she spoke, her talk was a marvel of beauty and Christian resignation, and there was scarcely a dry eye in the large audience when the good lady took her seat.

Hon. J. M. Stark, of Independence, has disposed of his interest in his Falls City store to his partner, Gideon Sowers. The transfer took place Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Stark's daughter, Miss Lola, who has been looking after her father's interest in the business, will assist Mr. Sowers in the store for a few weeks.

County Commissioner Riddell and M. M. Ellis went to Falls City, Wednesday afternoon, and made arrangements with Mrs. F. A. Wolfe to continue the work of collecting the Polk county exhibit for the Lewis and Clark Fair. The time for beginning the installation of the exhibit is rapidly approaching, and the work will be actively prosecuted from this time on.

The new city council will hold its first meeting next Monday night. The retiring board will hold a short session for the purpose of disposing of unfinished business, and will then step down and out and permit the new officers to take up the regular order of routine business. This being the first meeting of the new council, the Mayor's annual message will be the principal feature of interest, as it will doubtless outline the plan of work of the new administration.

The Polk county petitions to invoke the referendum on the general appropriation bill are in the hands of County Clerk E. M. Smith for official inspection and approval. The signature of each voter must be compared with his signature on the registration books, and the names of all electors who have not signed according to law must be stricken out before the petitions can be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The task of comparing these signatures is slow and tedious, and the work will occupy several days. About 400 names were secured on the petitions in this county.

HIGH GRADE CLOTHING AT POPULAR PRICES

Most Clothiers sell clothing on its "looks." If the pattern's pretty and the cloth fair, the Suit is marked at a big profit. If the cloth looks good enough for a $15 Suit, no matter how much it costs or how it will wear—$15 the Suit is marked.

Our Clothing is sold on its tailoring, on its fit, on the wear of the fit, as well as on its looks. Tailoring isn't watched closely by most Clothiers because it isn't seen.—Then you must watch the Clothier.

What isn't seen in Our Clothing you needn't bother your head about. It's Right.

Dallas Woodmen Hold Impressive Memorial Services in Honor of Late Head Consul.

The Woodmen of the World held memorial services in the M. E. Church, Sunday morning, in honor of the late Head Consul, F. A. Falkenburg. The large church building was crowded to the doors, the members of the Camp and Circle marching from their hall in a body to attend the services. Consul Commander W. A. Ayres presided over the meeting.

The services were opened by a prayer by Presiding Elder W. B. Hollingshead, of the M. E. Church, following which Hon. George L. Hawkins read an extract from the Woodman ritual written by the late Head Consul. Rev. James Moore, pastor of the church, then preached one of the most beautiful and impressive sermons ever listened to by a Dallas audience. The central idea in his discourse was that all work that accomplishes good is Christian work. Any organization that alleviates suffering or distress, that seeks to draw men away from evil associations and lift their thoughts into higher channels, and that labors to promote the good of mankind, is doing the Master's work. In closing, the speaker paid a touching tribute to the memory of F. A. Falkenburg, classing him as one of the great benefactors of the age. The masterful discourse made a deep impression upon the audience, and was gratefully appreciated by the members of Woodcraft, who mourn the death of their Head Consul as a personal loss. Appropriate music was rendered by the church choir.

Example of Civic Pride.

Thomas Hollowell has just completed a neat rock and cement wall in front of his residence property. The wall is mounted by small ornamental wire fencing and is very attractive. Mr. Hollowell will erect an arch at the foot of the steps leading up the hill, which, when completed, will add much to the appearance of this much traveled footway. He has constructed a hothouse on his premises and has many different kinds of vegetable and flowering plants in a healthy and advanced condition. Mr. Hollowell takes pride in fixing up his property, and is always endeavoring to improve it in some way.—Falls City Logger.

Pleasant Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party was tendered to Mrs. Polly Robinson, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Parilla Elder, Monday afternoon, it being the occasion of the 83d anniversary of her birth. Fifteen old ladies, all neighbors and intimate friends of Grandma Robinson, had been invited by Mrs. Elder to call and spend the afternoon, and when they arrived at the house the aged woman's surprise was complete. A good, old-fashioned social visit was enjoyed, and the afternoon was one of great pleasure to all. Many nice presents were received by Grandma Robinson during the afternoon from her many friends in the city. Mrs. Elder was assisted in planning and carrying out the party by her sister, Mrs. A. A. Kellogg, widow of the late Captain Kellogg, of Portland.
