Coad and Mrs. C. Crider, in this city. J. D. Smith, secretary of the Polk County Pioneer Association, is attending the reunion of the Oregon Pioneer Association in Portland. Osteopathic treatment has brought relief and cure to thousands of sufferers from chronic disease. Why not investigate? Free examination. Dr. BARTLETT. Mrs. M. M. Jameason, of Sioux City, Ia., is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. R. J. Kinney. She is enjoying her stay in Oregon, and says that many people from her section of the country will visit the Lewis and Clark Fair this summer. Percy Bignold, of Waukegan, Illinois, is visiting his brother, Walter C. Bignold, foreman of the OBSERVER. He is bookkeeper in the office of the agent of the First National bank building in Chicago, and is taking his summer vacation. The brothers, accompanied by Mrs. W. Bignold, will go to Newport today a few days outing. Bob Roy Parrish, of Independence, the author of a new song, "Land of Oregon," a copy of which has found its way to our desk. The words are poetic, and the music is inspiring. The title page is attractively printed, and a spray of Oregon grape beautifully done in colors. The musical arrangement is by Prof. C. W. Kantner, formerly of Dallas College.

Ask your grocer for Stolz pure apple cider and vinegar. The OBSERVER office wants the printing you are particular about. Walter Roy and family are attending the Lewis and Clark Fair. Go to R. Jacobson & Co. and learn how to go to the World's Fair, free. Mrs. M. G. Flynn, of Philomath, visited friends in Dallas this week. Mrs. Ethel Woods is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. J. Rhodes, in Tacoma. Walter Williams was a passenger to Portland on Wednesday's morning train. Roanoke coffee—the best value in town for the money. Loughary & Ellis are agents. Have you seen the Insurance gasoline stoves? The kind that's absolutely safe. At Guy Bros. Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Hoberg, who have been visiting at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Metzger, returned to McMinnville, Monday. Miss Elizabeth Parrott, of Roseburg, and Miss Mary Ritner, of Pendleton, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Casey. Hon. T. J. Hayter, J. M. Campbell and Dr. T. V. B. Embree are attending the annual encampment of the Oregon Indian War Veterans in Portland. The "Lewis and Clark Centennial March" and other late instrumental and vocal successes in Phonograph records at Daniel's wall-paper store. Dr. H. L. Toney, dentist; graduate of Ann Arbor, Michigan. Office upstairs Uglow building. Hours 8 to 12 and 1 to 5. Examinations free. Phone 45. Misses Maria and Katie Hunt, of San Francisco, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Gildner. The young ladies are cousins of Mrs. Gildner. J. H. Nies went to Portland, Sunday, to visit his granddaughter, Clytie Cosper, who has been in poor health for several months. The little girl is much better at present, and has bright prospects for speedy restoration to health. Governor Chamberlain has appointed William Tatom, of this city, and J. M. Stark, of Independence, as delegates-at-large to the Good Roads convention to be held in Portland, June 21-24. Mr. and Mrs. William Toney, honored pioneers of Yamhill county, visited at the home of their son, Dr. H. L. Toney, and attended the Pioneer Reunion, Saturday. They are enjoying good health, and spent a pleasant day with their old-time friends. Among diseases I have successfully treated in this vicinity, will mention, consumption, nervous prostration, paralysis, heart disease, constipation, dyspepsia, appendicitis, goitre, chronic headache and female disorders. Examination free. Dr. BARTLETT, Osteopathic.

Van Orsdel, in Cheyenne, Wyoming. Claude Dempsey returned to Portland, Sunday, after a two weeks' visit with his mother, Mrs. Alice Dempsey. He is in the employ of the Pacific Coast Syrup Company, and will work in the branch factory in Seattle during the summer. U. S. Grant, the well-known Angora goat breeder, shipped two yearling bucks to M. H. Davis, at East Auburn, California, this week; also, one yearling buck to M. L. Jaques, at Riddles, Oregon. Mr. Grant has an order from Texas for 35 yearlings. Every owner of a Stereoscope who will send the name and address of a friend or neighbor residing in Dallas who does not own one, will be presented absolutely free of charge with one of the latest original Stereoscopic views. Address: L. A. MATHEWS, Dallas, Oregon. Mrs. H. B. Cosper, of this city, is the proud possessor of a costly lodge jewel, presented to her by the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon at the annual meeting in Portland last week. Mrs. Cosper was re-elected to the responsible position of Secretary by a unanimous vote, and the jewel was presented to her as a slight token of the esteem in which she is held by the members of the order in this state. Dallas citizens in attendance at the meeting of the Willamette Valley Development League in Independence, Monday, were: County Judge Ed F. Coad, County Clerk E. M. Smith, Sheriff J. T. Ford, Hon. George L. Hawkins, County Assessor C. S. Graves, Deputy Sheriff M. A. Ford, R. C. Craven, Clarence Shultz, W. G. Vassall, R. E. Williams and J. C. Hayter.

Go to R. Jacobson & Co. and learn how to go to the World's Fair, free. Machine and castor oil at 20 and 30 cents per gallon at Crider's Grocery. Misses Lydia and Neva Campbell are attending the Lewis and Clark Fair. Mrs. Viola Cornelius, of Turner, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morris. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Collins and D. B. Richardson went to Portland yesterday morning to attend the Pioneer reunion. Robert Gaynor has returned to his home in Heppner, after a brief visit at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. C. Gaynor, in this city. Mrs. George Dickinson, of Portland, and Miss Vena Goff, of Independence, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hawkins. Nothing quite as good for the money. Always uniform in quality. A trial will convince you. Loughary & Ellis are exclusive agents. Dr. E. J. Thompsett will preach in the Presbyterian church in Dallas next Sunday. It is desirable that as many of the congregation as possible shall be present. J. Crowther, who is assisting Bridge Foreman Barnes in the extensive improvements at the Jefferson street depot in Portland, spent Sunday at his home in Dallas. We carry Folger's famous Golden Gate teas, coffees, spices, baking powder and extracts—guaranteed absolutely fine and high grade. A trial will convince you of their superiority. LOUGHARY & ELLIS. Born, May 29, 1905, to Dr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Butler, of Washington, D. C., a son. Dr. Butler is a son of Frank Butler, of Falls City, and holds a prominent position in the Civil Service department at the National capitol. Bridwell and Craven have sold their grocery store in Monmouth to Nathan Needham, of Albany, and A. B. Moreland, of Monmouth. The former proprietors will devote their attention to their hardware and implement business. Mrs. J. J. Williams has received news of the death of her brother, Rev. G. M. Larned, which occurred at his home in Hazelton, Pennsylvania, June 1. Rev. Larned visited his sister in Dallas two years ago, and made many friends during his short stay here. He was a native of Pennsylvania, and was about 72 years old. One of our farmer readers rids his place of yellow-jackets by poisoning them. He cuts a hole in a piece of meat, fills it with Paris green, and then hangs the meat in a tree, out of the reach of dogs and cats. The yellow-jackets feed on the meat, and are put out of business in short order. The method is effectual, and not expensive. Milo Woods went to Salem one day this week and submitted to an operation for the removal of a growth over his right eye. The eye had been troubling him for several years, and he was gradually losing his sight, but the surgeon assures him that his vision will be as clear as ever when he recovers from the effects of the operation. Mr. Woods returned to Falls City, Tuesday, and will resume his work with the railroad company. Members of the Masonic lodge from Dallas in attendance upon the sessions of the Grand Lodge in Portland this week were: C. F. Belt, W. V. Fuller, Dr. Mark Hayter, Ed. Biddle, Oscar Hayter, R. E. Williams, Edgar J. Bryan, L. L. Shreve and Walter Williams. Ladies attending the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star were: Past Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Alice E. Townsend, Mrs. Ella J. Metzger, Mrs. Almada Fuller, Mrs. Alice E. Kozar, Mrs. Josephine Biddle, Mrs. Maud Bryan, Mrs. Maggie Hayter and Mrs. Emma Belt. Mrs. Kozar and Mrs. Fuller were delegates from Naomi Chapter. Gail Laughlin, the woman attorney of New York, who is touring the Northwest in behalf of the National Equal Suffrage Association, spoke to a fair-sized audience in the Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening. Her subject was "The Professional Woman." Miss Laughlin—we take it for granted that she is unmarried, for a Mr. Laughlin seems quite impossible—is a bright woman, and there is no denying the fact that she puts up a mighty warm argument in favor of the enfranchisement of her sex. She is a lawyer of ability, and knows how to state a fact in a clear and concise manner. The lecture was entertaining, and those who failed to hear it missed an intellectual treat. T. J. Cherrington, the Dallas photographer, will send his collection of pioneer photographs to the Fair next Monday morning. The collection includes the pictures of 100 pioneer men and women of Polk county, with the name and age of each. The pictures are artistically furnished, and are enclosed in a neat frame, about 4 by 6 feet in size. A card at the bottom of the frame bears this inscription: "One Hundred Polk County Pioneers; all are over 70; some are over 90. This is what sparkling mountain water and pure air does for us in Polk county." The collection of photographs is valued at $200, and will be the most costly individual display in the Polk county section. The pictures will be sure to attract much attention, and Mr. Cherrington is entitled to great praise for his enterprise in preparing such a fine exhibit.

MILL STREET DALLAS, OREGON

Mrs. W. H. McCoy, of Reardan, Wash., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Holman. Mrs. McCoy is a daughter of the late James Crawford and a niece of Mrs. Holman. The attendance at the Teachers' picnic at Rickreall tomorrow promises to be large. Interesting school exercises will be held, and addresses will be made by State Superintendent J. H. Ackerman and Hon. B. F. Mulkey. Baseball and other games will be played in the afternoon, and the young people will give a dance at night. T. A. Riggs arrived home the first of the week from Auburn, Wash., where he visited his uncle, David Hughes, who is very low with consumption. He says his uncle is rapidly growing weaker, and that no hopes are entertained of his recovery. A Children's Day service will be held in the Evangelical church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. An interesting program is being prepared for the occasion. Prof. Metzger will preach a sermon to the young people in the morning. All are cordially invited to both services. License to wed was granted Wednesday to Jay F. Powell and Miss Augusta Mulkey. Mr. Powell is a son of Hon. and Mrs. F. M. Powell, honored pioneers of Polk county, and his bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mulkey. Both were born and raised near Monmouth, and are classed among Polk county's most worthy young people. Planquette's opera, "Bells of Corneville," will be given by the students of the Normal School in the chapel in Monmouth tomorrow evening. Great preparation has been made for the event, and a smooth and finished production is promised. Mrs. May Babbitt will occupy the conductor's chair, and a large number of students will take part in the choruses. The costumes are bright and appropriate, and the opera will be beautifully staged. Many Dallas people are talking of attending the performance, which is to open the commencement week exercises at the Normal School. Rev. Lobdell and F. A. Stiles went on a fishing trip up the LaCreole river, Wednesday, taking their wives along to cook the fish. After trudging up and down the banks of the river in the hot sun all day, and patiently whipping every foot of the stream for five miles, they returned to camp with two small fish and sat down to a supper of fried bacon, bread and coffee, which their thoughtful wives had prepared for them. (We got this item from Rev. Lobdell, and are therefore willing to vouch for its truthfulness. If Frank had reported it, he would have told that they caught at least two hundred trout, and that none of them were less than a foot long.) All report an enjoyable day's outing.
