The New Year was ushered in with the ringing of bells, blowing of whistles, and explosion of fireworks. The streets of Dallas, silent and deserted late Sunday evening, were soon filled with people, and good-cheer and merrymaking ruled the hour. Watch parties were held in numerous homes in the city, and appropriate exercises were held in various churches. The large number of steam whistles added to the noise at midnight forcibly called attention to the fact that Dallas has many live manufacturing institutions in the beginning of the year 1906.

Son of Dryads, Take Notice!

The Sons of Dryads will meet in the Woodman Hall next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A large class awaits initiation into the mysteries of this most mysterious order, and it is the duty of every loyal Son to be present and see that these innocent and confiding candidates get all that is coming to them. This will be the first meeting of the order since late last winter. The lodge has not been dead, however; neither has it been sleeping. It just let go a little while, in order to get a better hold. Each Son is requested to come and bring his battle-axe.

By order of the Mighty Sycamore.

Married.

VAUGHN-UGLOW—At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abel Uglow, in Dallas, Wednesday, January 3, Mr. Wesley Vaughn and Miss Lorene Uglow, Rev. D. Julian Becker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating.

The wedding was a quiet home affair, only the members of the family being present to witness the happy ceremony. Immediately after luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn were driven to Salem, where they took the evening train for Southern Oregon on their way to Klamath Falls, where Mr. Vaughn has some large plumbing contracts. Mr. Vaughn is the senior partner of the hardware firm of Vaughn & Weaver, and is one of the rising young business men of Dallas. His bride was born and raised here, and is a most estimable young woman. They will return to make their permanent home in Dallas some time in the spring.

SMITH-SMITH: SMITH-SMITH—At the Presbyterian parsonage in Independence, December 29, at 2:30 p. m., Mr. N. H. Smith and Miss Bertha G. Smith; also, Mr. F. E. Smith and Miss Mary E. Smith, Rev. E. J. Thompson, officiating.

The wedding was a very happy one, and quite unique in some respects. Mr. N. H. Smith and Miss Mary E. Smith are brother and sister, as are also Mr. F. E. Smith and Miss Bertha G. Smith. Each couple acted as witnesses for the other, and no names were changed. The young people are residents of Dallas, and reside on farms a short distance south of town. They will receive the congratulations of many friends.

MILNE-CAMPBELL—At the residence of Kenneth Campbell, on

"Lone Fir Farm," south of Monmouth, on Wednesday, January 3, at high twelve, Mr. Fred Milne and Miss Minnie Campbell, Rev. E. J. Thompson, of Independence, officiating.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of the family and a few invited friends. The parlors of the home were beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the bride was charmingly attired. An elaborate wedding dinner was served. Mr. Milne is a man of excellent character, and his bride a most charming young lady. They left at once on their wedding trip to California, where they will remain several months.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lawton have moved into one of Dr. Hayter's cottages on Levens street.
