The thanks of the Observer fore are tendered to Mrs. R. J. Kinney for a box of delicious strawberries left at this office, Wednesday. The berries were all of large size, some of them measuring nearly five inches in circumference, and were of excellent flavor. Mr. and Mrs. Kinney have marketed several crates of these fine berries this year.

May Go to Independence.

Dr. C. C. Poling is at the head of Dallas college no longer. He has tendered his resignation and though no successor has been chosen the Doctor has resigned in good faith and will not continue as president of the school.

His plans for the future are not fully determined upon, but he is considering the matter of moving to Independence. Anyway, he will have charge of the Evangelical church here and at Rickreall during the summer, and it is quite likely the Doctor will make his home in this city.—Independence Enterprise.

CRUSHED BY LOG

Wallace McDonald Victim of Serious Accident at Johnson Logging Camp.

Wallace McDonald, the youngest son of Charles McDonald, met with an accident Saturday morning, that may result in making him a cripple for life. He was working at the Johnson logging camp on the La Creole river above Dallas and was caught beneath a moving log and badly crushed. As soon as he could be rescued from his perilous position, he was taken to Falls City, where medical aid was summoned. An examination of his injuries did not disclose any broken bones, but it was found that his spine was seriously injured and that he was hurt internally. The young man was brought to Dallas, Wednesday, and is at the home of Mrs. Ollie McCarter.

Later reports from his bedside are to the effect that he may recover, but the doctors express the fear that the injury to his spine will leave him hopelessly paralyzed.

MARRIED.

ADAMS-CAMPBELL—At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Campbell, Wednesday evening, June 20, 1906, at 8 o'clock, Mr. Ralph Adams and Miss Neva Campbell, Rev. G. L. Lobdell officiating.

About thirty guests were present to witness the interesting ceremony that made the popular young couple husband and wife. The parlor where the ceremony was performed was tastefully decorated with pink and white roses and ferns in Indian baskets. The wedding march was played by Prof. William Caldwell. Light refreshments were served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Adams received many beautiful and costly presents as slight tokens of the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends.

The wedding guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Mark Hayter, Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Lobdell, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. M. Oltz, Mrs. Lydia D'Lashmutt, Mrs. Mary Graham, Misses Pearl Percival, Veva Morrison, Mabel Guy, Florence Palmer, Lulu Dempsey, Frankie Hayter, Sadie Sielefarth, Lydia Muscott, Bessie Clanfield, Pauline Ghorke, Edna Holmes, Messrs. Harry Gaynor, Lew Muscott, Henry Williams, William Caldwell, Roy Black, Carl Percival and Chauncey Crider.

Pleasing Exercises.

Children's Day exercises at the Presbyterians, Sunday evening, were largely attended and highly appreciated by those present. The decorations, consisting of potted plants and beautiful flowers, were designed and arranged by the Superintendent, L. A. Mathews, assisted by the young people of the Sunday school. Much credit is due Mrs. J. H. Flower, superintendent of the Primary Department; Miss Ruth VanOrsdel, assistant superintendent, and Miss Georgia Martin, organist, for their efforts in training the participants to such a degree of efficiency. Among the most pleasing features of the evening was the song, "Rock of Ages," by the pastor, Julian Becker, assisted by Miss Pauline Coad. The Sunday school is in a highly prosperous condition, and is constantly growing.

John Mulkey, son of President B. F. Mulkey, of the Ashland State Normal School, died Thursday at his father's home in Ashland, of pulmonary tuberculosis, aged 17 years, 2 months and 16 days.

John Newton Mulkey was born at Bethel, Oregon, April, 1889. His parents removed to Dallas when he was three years of age and here he began his school work. From Dallas the family removed to Monmouth, and from the latter place to Ashland in 1902. John entered the Normal school in the Fall of 1903, and was this year a member of the junior class. He was a favorite among his schoolmates, because of his free-hearted, sunny disposition. On the 10th of last February he was attacked with a hemorrhage of the lungs and he was hastened to Southern California in the hope that a change of climate would benefit him.

Finding no relief, however, and unable to stay the progress of the insidious disease, he returned home the latter part of May. During the progress of meetings in the Christian church at Redlands, Cal., he was convalescent and died in the faith.

A short funeral service was conducted by the faculty and students of the Normal school Friday afternoon at the Normal building. Saturday morning on the early train the family departed with the remains for interment in the family cemetery at the old home at Pleasant Hill, Lane county.—Ashland Tidings.
