As no discussion of an ordinance is permitted in the council until it has been passed to its second reading, the measure was ordered to lie on the table until the next regular meeting of the board on Monday evening, September 17. Considerable opposition to the measure has developed among property-owners, who think it too radical in its provisions, and a remonstrance against its passage is being circulated for signatures.

The controversy between the council and the mill-race company was compromised at the meeting Monday evening, the race owners agreeing to construct the cribbing on each side of the race at the Main Street crossing, and the city to put on the cover. The Street Commissioner was ordered to make the improvement according to the terms of the agreement.

The hearing of objections to the construction of new sidewalks was continued until Monday, September 17, at 7:30 p. m.

Councilman Sibley reported that the Willamette Valley Lumber Company has offered to bring Main street to grade where it crosses their pond, and to furnish rock for the top dressing if the city will load it on the cars.

A bid for the construction of the Oak Street sewer was ordered returned to the bidder unopened, pending the readjustment of the sewer grade, Recital at Falls City.

Miss Hallie Morrison's music pupils in Falls City finished their summer's work by giving a recital at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Hinshaw, Thursday evening. The program was highly ereditable, both to the pupils and the teacher, all of the performers displaying great proficiency. Games were played on the lawn, and delicious refreshments were served at a late hour. Miss Morrison will teach in the Falls City public school again next year, and will also continue her musical work.

Manager Gerlinger Makes Large Purchase for Dallas & Falls City Railroad.

L. Gerlinger, Jr., general manager of the Dallas & Falls City railroad, accompanied by Mrs. Gerlinger, arrived home Sunday from a three weeks' visit to the Middle West. During his absence from home, he visited Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, St. Louis and other large cities, while Mrs. Gerlinger visited friends in Minneapolis. Both enjoyed the trip, but were glad to get away from the extreme heat of the Mississippi Valley. The object of Mr. Gerlinger's trip was to buy additional equipment for his road, and he reports the purchase of 24 flat-cars of the latest improved make from the American Car & In all parts of Polk county, bright Foundry Company. J. M. Haggard Dies of Appendicitis at Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland.

James M. Haggard, well and favorably known as a citizen of Polk county, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland on Friday of last week. He had been in failing health for several months. About three weeks ago he went to Portland for treatment, devote his time to literary pursuits. and shortly after arriving at the hospital, submitted to an operation for appendicitis. Little hope was entertained for his recovery at first, but in a few days he rallied and his condition appeared favorable until a short time before the final collapse came last Friday.

Mr. Haggard was born in Yamhill county, Oregon, January 4, 1856. He was married to Mrs. Emma Ward in November, 1893. His absence, not only in the home but in the church, will be deeply felt. He was a progressive citizen whose interest in the public welfare was felt and appre-PROPERTY OWNERS OBJECT ciated. As a Christian, he was active, consistent and influential.
