

Shoeing the Horse.
The owner should supervise the shoeing of his horse, and in addition to the use of shoes of proper weight and form the following points should be attended to: The frog is to be left untouched by knife or other instrument; only that portion of the sole which is dead and loose is to be removed; the bars are to be left alone; the heels are not to be "opened" by a couple of deep notches; the outer surface of the walls is not to be rasped, with the exception of a slight depression under each nail point to allow of proper clinching; the shoe is to be fitted to the foot and not the foot to the shoe; the shoe is not to be applied to the sole when red hot unless a light touch is necessary to show where the horn must be rasped away to furnish a proper seat for the shoe; the rasp is always to be used in preference to the knife or buttress; shoes should be reset or replaced once a month; nails should be of the best quality, not too large and not driven too high or too close to the sensitive structures within the horny box of the foot; the feet are to be kept as truly level as possible, and while keeping the toes comparatively short, the heels are not to be unnaturally lowered.—A. S. Alexander, Dane County, Wis.

The happiest mother in the little town of Ava, Mo., is Mrs. S. Rippee. She writes: "One year ago my son was down with such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him; when, by our druggist's advice I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. He has worked steadily since at carpenter work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life." Always Keeps Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in His House.
"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. "That is just what every family should do. When kept on hand for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. Horns Again.
Recently a cattle salesman in the stockyards showed us a load of steers and said: "I had to take 25 cents per hundredweight less than that load of cattle is worth simply because they have horns. I have tried every buyer on the market, and all of them bid below their value on account of the horns. You can't put it too strong when you urge feeders to deborn their cattle or feed hornless ones." The load mentioned weighed over 20,000 pounds, so it seems that it cost this particular feeder over $50 for his failure to have the horns taken off. The discrimination may not be so great as this in all cases, but it will be on a bad market, and in any case it is sufficient to pay very well for deborning.—National Stockman and Farmer.

Given Up to Die.
R. Spiegel, 1904 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good. I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Why not let it help you? Belt & Cherrington, Dallas; M. L. Soft Roasters.
The soft roaster is becoming quite an attractive feature with the best growers. Thousands of these roasters are grown throughout New England, fatted, dressed and sent to market about the same time that the capons are in demand. Some claim that some of the best finished Brahma cockerels, dressed capon fashion, as it is called—that is, leaving the neck feathers and the feathers around the shanks—will sell for as much as the capons.

Union will probably have one of the largest sawmills in eastern Oregon before long.
In 1897 I had a stomach disease. Some physicians said Dyspepsia, some Consumption. One said I would not live until Spring. For four years I existed on boiled milk, soda biscuits, and doctors' prescriptions. I could not digest anything I ate; then I picked up one of your almanacs and it happened to be my life-saver. I bought a fifty-cent bottle of KOHLER and the benefit I received from that bottle all the gold in Georgia could not buy. In two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. May you live long and prosper."
