DALLAS, OREGON, MARCH 12, 1937

The way to build up Dallas is to patronize Dallas people.

ANNUAL CITY ELECTION.

The importance of choosing capable men to take charge of the city's affairs for the next two years should not be underestimated by the voters of Dallas. Indifference to the management of the municipal government and failure to select competent officers at the annual election to be held two weeks from next Monday would be the most serious obstacle that could be placed in the way of Dallas' growth and development at this time.

The management of municipal affairs is of as much importance to the people living within the corporate limits of Dallas as is the management of the county government itself. Indeed, it is of more importance, if the matter of taxation can be taken as a criterion. The city levy this year is higher than the entire levy for all county purposes. Notwithstanding the fact that the revenue from licenses is greater than ever before, the city levy this year is the highest of any year since Dallas became an incorporated town.

It is for the people to say whether they are satisfied with the present administration of affairs. It is for them to decide whether they are getting value received for the money they have been paying over the tax collector's counter in the last four weeks. It is for them to decide whether the city is being improved as it should be improved, and whether the business institutions over which the city has control and regulation are being managed in a way conducive to the best interests of the town. These are the things that must be decided by the voters, and upon their decision will depend the growth and prosperity of the town for the next two years. How important it is, then, that the decision should be wisely made!

The matter of street improvement is one of supreme importance in Dallas at the present time, and the people will again be asked to vote upon the question of purchasing a rock-crusher and building permanent thoroughfares. Despite the expense connected with the proposed improvement, the purchase will probably be authorized. The "better streets" platform will be the popular platform this year. The people realize that Dallas must provide better streets for a steadily increasing traffic, and that the desired improvement cannot be made with the material at hand. But for the very reason that the movement is popular, no incapable or unfit candidate should be permitted to slip into office on this popularity. The purchase of a rock-crusher and the building of good streets will cost a large sum of money, and none but the most prudent and capable business men should be chosen to handle this money. If the money is carefully spent and the work wisely managed, the result will be for the everlasting good of the town. If, on the other hand, incapable men are chosen to carry out the improvement, the result will be failure and financial disaster.

Let our citizens ponder deeply these matters and then take such action as to them seems best. Above all else, let men be chosen who will at all times labor earnestly and faithfully for the upbuilding of the town; men who will work first, last and all the time for a Greater Dallas; men who are their own masters and have no private or corporate interests to serve; men who will firmly and righteously guard the public morals without being swayed by Puritanism or fanaticism. Men such as these, and no others, are needed. If such are chosen, the beautiful and thriving city of Dallas will continue unimpededly its onward march to greatness and prosperity.

Dallas will celebrate the Glorious Fourth this year in a manner befitting her importance as a live and growing town. It is not too early to begin to make preparations for the big celebration, and the city council and business men should make their plans in plenty of time to secure a successful day's entertainment.

SUFFERING BUTTE.

The value of the newspaper in the community is being vividly impressed upon the minds of the people of Butte, Mont., where a strike of the printers and pressmen has tied up all the papers in that city for over three weeks, says the Pendleton East Oregonian.

Traveling men from Butte say that business has actually fallen off from 25 to 40 per cent in many lines. The city is lifeless. There is actual business depression. Merchants cannot advertise their business, the public is prevented from learning anything of the affairs or happenings of the city, and public sentiment is wrought up to a high tension.

It is said that the suspension of no other business in the city would have caused one-half the depression and inconvenience that has been caused by the suspension of the newspapers.

The lawmakers of Oregon had their say on the free pass subject, and now it begins to look as if the railroads will have their inning by refusing point-blank to observe the provisions of the compulsory pass law. A prominent official of the Harriman lines says: "We intend to obey the Chapin railroad commission law to the letter, and refuse all gratuitous transportation; but so far as the compulsory-pass bill is concerned, it makes no difference to us whether the labor commissioner or any other official has been overlooked, no state or county official will be given passes. The railroads today pay more taxes in Oregon than any other interests, and if the state wants its officials to travel, let their salaries be raised or these expenses provided for."

WORE TOO MANY TROUSERS

Thomas Williams Found Guilty of Larceny from Dallas Clothing House.

Thomas Williams was arrested by City Marshal Palmer on a charge of stealing a pair of pants from Uglow's clothing store, Saturday, and upon being given a hearing in Justice Holman's court was adjudged guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $25. The fine was promptly paid and the prisoner was released. Williams has a wife and child, and has been employed in a logging camp west of Falls City.

Williams and a companion went into the store together, and while Mr. Uglow was fitting the companion with a new suit, Williams deftly concealed a pair of trousers inside the old suit and had the bundle wrapped up by clerk Dunn. Shortly after the men had left the store, Mr. Uglow missed the trousers and at once started in search of the strangers, thinking possibly they had taken the goods by mistake. He soon found the men, and, telling them of his loss, asked them to open the bundle of old clothes. They readily complied with his request, but an examination of the package failed to reveal the presence of the missing trousers.

When the bundle was first handed to Mr. Uglow, he noticed that it was not tied like bundles are tied in the store and he at once surmised that it had been opened and the trousers taken out. Failing to find the trousers and believing that one of the men was wearing them, he immediately notified Marshal Palmer of his loss. Williams was overtaken at the depot and arrested just as he was preparing to board the afternoon train for Portland. A search of his person revealed the fact that he was wearing the new trousers under the pair he had on when he first entered the store.

Williams is a comparative stranger in Polk county, but his acquaintances informed the court that this was the first time he had been implicated in an affair of this kind and he was accordingly let off with the lowest possible fine.

For Sale or Rent.

Six room house, good outbuildings and four acres, in South Dallas. Inquire of F. M. Jackson.

The Monmouth Normal basketball team made an excellent showing in its game with the strong Willamette team last Friday evening, losing out by the close score of 15 to 13. The Monmouth team developed excellent playing qualities in the last half of the league series and will doubtless be found among the top-notchers another year.

Joshua McDaniel, an Oregon pioneer of 1844 and one of Polk county's wealthiest citizens, came up from Portland last week on business connected with his property interests at Rickreall. Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel are living at the home of their son in East Portland at present, but will spend the summer on their dairy farm near Gresham.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman, who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weakness and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not recover fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement of each of its ingredients as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole system, and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.
