

MARKET THE FEATHERS.

Some Facts About a Much Neglected Source of Revenue.

The prices paid for hen feathers vary considerably, according to the market, says Dr. P. T. Woods in Reliable Poultry Journal. Hen feathers range from 3 1/2 to 7 cents a pound, with an average price of about 5 cents for the best quality. Solid white feathers bring higher prices than mixed or dark colored feathers. Duck feathers bring from 25 to 30 cents a pound, the white bringing the highest price. White duck feathers would sell for as high a price as goose feathers were it not for the fact that they have an odor that cannot be removed by any known method. Best white goose feathers bring from 45 to 55 cents a pound, while mixed and colored goose feathers are quoted at from 35 to 45 cents. Goose feathers can usually be depended upon to average about 35 cents a pound the year round. Turkey feathers, for the ordinary body feathers, bring from 3 to 10 cents a pound, while the stiff feathers from the wings and tails bring from 8 to 10 cents a pound when clean and dry. Clear turkey tail feathers, clean and dry, sometimes bring as high as 17 cents a pound, while mixed turkey feathers containing wing, tail and pointers will usually average about 6 cents a pound.

To secure a market for his feathers the poultryman should ascertain the names of the bedding manufacturers in his nearest large city and write to them for quotations. All feathers should be dry picked and should be kept free from blood. Tail and wing feathers should be kept separate from the body feathers. It is not necessary to dry or bake the feathers; in fact, if this is done they will not be salable. They may, however, be spread out thin on the floor of a clean, dry, airy loft and turned over occasionally for a few days to get rid of any excess of moisture. Feathers should be packed as tightly as possible into clean cotton or burlap bags, and shipments should be of not less than 100 pounds at a time in order to save freight or express charges.

Increase in Average Egg Yield.

Twenty-five years ago the census of the country showed the egg yield of the country to be thirty-five eggs to each hen per year, the last census seventy eggs for each hen per year. It is now thought that that average has been increased to between eighty and eighty-five eggs for each hen per year. The number of hens has wonderfully increased. Instead of $115,000,000 worth of poultry products of twenty years ago $500,000,000 worth of poultry and egg products is credited to the country, and yet poultry and eggs never sold higher than they have within the last twelve months.

Grip Quickly Knocked Out.

Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of a gripe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Eggleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the same with a double dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the gripe." Rest is the great restorer. We tire our muscles by exercise and then rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomach. As a usual thing, no part of our bodies is so generally overworked as our digestive organs. A tired and overworked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last Dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning, and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. KODOL is a most thorough stomach relief. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assists in restoring it to its normal activity and usefulness. KODOL is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by all druggists.
