 W. D. Sappington, Sheriff of Clarke County, Washington, was a business visitor in Dallas, Saturday. He was the guest of Sheriff J. M. Grant while here. This was Sheriff Sappington's first visit to Dallas in twenty-three years, and it is hardly necessary to add that he found few old landmarks. He says Dallas is one of the liveliest business towns of its size in the Northwest.
 John Eakin left for his home in Cairo, Illinois, yesterday morning, after a two months' visit at the home of his brother, H. C. Eakin. When he came to Dallas he expected to spend a year's vacation in Oregon for the benefit of his health, but important business matters called him home and it was with great regret that he found it necessary to cut his stay short. Mr. Eakin has made three trips to Oregon in the last fifteen years, and has never failed to find health and strength in the cool, bracing air of the Willamette Valley. He returns home this time much stronger than when he came, and the only regret he expressed when leaving was that he was not able to remain longer.

MONEY ROLLING IN
 Dallas' Live Business Men Give Liberally to Fourth of July Fund
 The committee appointed to solicit funds for the annual Pioneer Reunion and the big Fourth of July celebration, to be held in Dallas, July 3 and 4, is meeting with excellent success. About one-half of the business district has been canvassed and nearly $500 has been subscribed. It now looks as if the Observer was close to the mark when it predicted that the total fund would reach $1,000.
 With this amount of money in hand, Dallas will be able to give the people of Polk county the greatest two days' celebration they have ever enjoyed. As soon as the work of the finance committee is completed, the various committees will be called together and plans for the big event will be outlined.
 Many patriotic citizens have expressed a desire to contribute to the Fourth of July fund, and as it will be impossible for the committee to call on everybody, the OBSERVER will gladly receive and receipt for all donations of $2.50 or less. Who will be the first to contribute one dollar to a fund of $50 to be turned over to the committee for celebration purposes?
Fancy Skating.
 George Brown will give an exhibition of fancy and expert skating in the Colosseum rink on Thursday evening of this week. George has no superiors in the state as a fancy skater and will perform many feats entirely new to a Dallas audience. Don't fail to see the incomparable young wizard on Thursday evening.
Tabernacle Meeting.
 The members of the First Christian Church of Dallas are planning to erect a tabernacle on their lot adjoining the church to accommodate the people who will want to hear Dr. Martin, of Seattle, one of the most successful evangelists of modern times.  For carelessly throwing a heavy bundle of papers out of his car and knocking Glenn Holman to the ground, F. H. Whitney, express messenger on the Portland passenger train was arrested Saturday evening and taken before Police Judge Brown, who fined him $5 for assault and battery. While the offense was doubtless unintentional, the arrest and fine will serve as a warning to the messengers to be more careful in throwing heavy packages of papers into a crowd and endangering life and limb.
