DRAMA AT FALLS CITY
 Dallas Players Will Present "The Great Catastrophe" at Wagner's Hall Tonight.
 The comedy, "The Great Catastrophe," given for the benefit of the library last week, was such a success here that the management has decided to take the production to Falls City tonight. A special train will be run from Dallas, leaving at 6:30 o'clock this evening, and returning after the play.
 The players will be the same as appeared here, except that Mrs. Louisa Gerlinger, Jr., who was originally cast for the leading part, will appear at Falls City as Violet Drew, instead of Miss Georgia Martin, who played the part here.
 George Bennett will give his monologues, songs and magic stunts, and some excellent music will be furnished by a young ladies' quartette from Dallas.
 The young people give an enjoyable entertainment, and the amusement-loving folk of our neighbor town will not miss it when they buy their tickets for "The Great Catastrophe." The play, as presented by these amateurs, is far more entertaining than the performances usually given by the professional companies that visit the valley towns, and the people of Falls City may rest assured that no effort will be spared to give them a pleasant evening.
Pleasant Graduating Exercises.
 Enjoyable graduating exercises were held in Ballston last Friday night, when eight bright boys and girls received their diplomas, certifying that they had satisfactorily completed the six grades in the public school course. The Woodman Hall, which had been handsomely decorated for the occasion, was crowded by the relatives and friends of the class. The graduating essays were of a high order of excellence, and showed the careful training the young people had received at the hands of the teachers, Mrs. H. B. Blough and Miss Olive Williams. The members of the class were Zalma Butler, Gladys Chandler, Eunice Ottinger, Mattie Garrett, Hilda Clark and Richard Ottinger. The address to the class was delivered by Professor H. B. Blough, a former principal of the school. Splendid work has been done by the teachers and pupils this year, as is eloquently attested by the fact that the graduating class received the highest grades in the county in the eighth grade examinations. The people of Ballston have good reason to be proud of their public school.
