The heavy rain of last night was welcomed by the farmers.

If Kraber had bigger boxes, he would put more berries in them.

R. E. Williams is attending the Scottish Rite Masonic reunion in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Eakin and son, Jack, were visitors in Portland last week.

Money of private parties to loan at 6 per cent on well-improved farms. SMILEY & EAKIN.

I have on display a nice assortment of "Spalding's" sporting goods. All guaranteed. W. R. ELLIS.

The new Krya-Tol glass at Howe's is selling fast. Come in and see it before the fine pieces are gone.

The neatest Ice Cream parlors in town and good service guaranteed. Give us a trial. Ellis' Confectionery.

L. Gerlinger, Jr., went to Seaside Saturday in the hope of gaining relief from a troublesome attack of hay fever.

Orders given on any store in town engaged in other lines of business, in exchange for farm produce, at Dougherty's grocery store.

Dr. R. E. Steiner and Judge H. L. Benson drove over from Salem Saturday afternoon and spent a few hours visiting friends.

D. H. Cox and Alice L. King were married in the Courthouse this afternoon, Judge Ed. F. Coad officiating. Both are residents of Black Rock.

Mrs. Eugene Hayter, accompanied by her daughter, Frankie, and son, Charles, left today for a three weeks' visit in Lane and Douglas counties.

The Ballston Woodmen will give a picnic in Van Sears' grove, Saturday. A fine program has been prepared. Baseball and dancing will be among the principal amusements. The choppers are preparing for a big time.

Conductor J. W. Crocker returned home from Memphis, Tenn., Thursday, and is again on his regular run. He says the meeting of the conductors was highly successful, but the weather in sunny Tennessee was too warm for comfort. All of the conductors who attended the Grand Division in Portland three years ago assured Mr. Crocker of their kindly remembrance of Oregon and its people, and many of them declared it the most pleasant meeting ever held by the order. Mr. Crocker was one of the grand officers, but declined re-election, as he has attended every meeting for the last half dozen years.

W. R. Ellis, agent for Daily Oregonian and Evening Telegram. Have a daily paper delivered at your house by the week, month or year. No extra charge for delivery.

J. A. Gibson, of Willamina, was a Dallas visitor yesterday. He says the crops are badly in need of rain. The hay crop has suffered most, and many farmers will not have enough for their own stock.

Messrs. Oscar Hayter, North Cherrington and Conrad Stafrin are attending the reunion of the Scottish Rite Masons in Portland. Several members of the rite will go down Saturday and attend the banquet of the Mystic Shriners.

Miss Maude Robertson arrived home this week from the Jamestown Exposition, where she went as a guest of the Portland Telegram. She greatly enjoyed her trip through the Eastern states, but likes Oregon best of all.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Martin, of Oregon, Missouri, are visiting at the home of their brother, A. J. Martin. This is their first trip to Oregon, and they are greatly enjoying their visit. Mr. Martin is a retired farmer, and owns a fine farm near his home town.

Some of the finest strawberries coming into the local market this year are from the farm of John Diehm below town. One extra fine box presented to our office force yesterday morning contained several berries measuring from three to four inches in circumference.

The Gospel Mission people held open-air services at the corner of Mill and Main streets Sunday evening. A tabernacle meeting is advertised to be held in Dallas in the near future, to be participated in by some of the noted "Gift of Tongues" speakers of the Northwest.

KNIGHTS ELECT OFFICERS

Pleasant Social Session Follows Regular Business Meeting of Lodge.

Marmion Lodge, No. 96, Knights of Pythias, held its semi-annual election of officers last night, followed by a chicken-pie supper in the banquet hall. L. B. Stinson, Grand Keeper of the Records and Seal, was present and gave a highly enjoyable and instructive address.

Officers were elected as follows: W. H. Roy, chancellor commander; C. C. Coad, vice chancellor; Dr. L. A. Bohman, prelate; Arthur Starr, master of work; C. D. Choppin, master at arms; Ed Bricker, inside guard; Clifford Johnson, outside guard.

At the conclusion of the lodge ceremonies, the members and their wives and invited guests adjourned to the banquet hall, where a fine chicken-pie supper, prepared by the women of the Christian Church, was enjoyed. A pleasant hour was spent at the table, and the hour was nearing midnight when one of the most pleasant social meetings ever given by the lodge came to an end.

HONOR THEIR DEAD

Dallas Woodmen Hold Appropriate Memorial Exercises.

Dallas Camp, Woodmen of the World, and Mistletoe Circle, Women of Woodcraft, observed the annual memorial of their orders Sunday by decorating the graves of deceased neighbors in the morning and in the afternoon held a meeting in the Woodman Hall, where an interesting and impressive program was rendered.

Consul Commander B. M. Guy acted as master of ceremonies. The invocation was delivered by Rev. D. J. Becker. A brief statement of the objects and aims of the order was given, followed by a duet by Mrs. Georgia Jennings and Miss Rebecca Gates. The poem, "Why should the spirit of mortal be proud," was read by Miss May Shelton, after which the speaker of the day, Hon. Walter L. Tooze, of Falls City, was introduced. Mr. Tooze is a pleasing orator and was completely at home addressing a crowd in a Woodman hall. He spoke of the splendid growth of the order during the past seventeen years and paid a glowing tribute to its founders, F. A. Falkenburg and J. C. Root. With another duet by Mrs. Jennings and Miss Gates, and a solo by Miss Georgia Martin, the exercises closed with singing "America."

Life.

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.
