CLOSED FOR SUMMER

Colosseum Rink Will Open Again When Hop Picking Begins.

The Colosseum skating rink closed a highly successful season with two sessions of skating, Saturday night. No pains had been spared to place the floor in perfect condition for the closing night, and all of the skaters had been cleaned and oiled to run as smoothly as possible. More than 200 pairs of skates were out, and all the devotees of the rollers seemed anxious to enjoy the last session to the fullest extent.

The rink will be re-opened in hop picking time, with several hundred pairs of new skates and plenty of music. Messrs. Kerslake & White wish to thank the people of Dallas and the surrounding country for the liberal patronage of the past season, and promise to do all in their power to make the next season more enjoyable, if possible, than the one just ended.

A Sustaining Diet.

These are the enervating days, when, as somebody has said, men drop by the sunstroke as if the Day of Fire had dawned. They are fraught with danger to people whose systems are poorly sustained; and this leads us to say, in the interest of the less robust of our readers, that the full effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla is such as to suggest the propriety of calling this medicine something besides a blood purifier and tonic, say, a sustaining diet. It makes it much easier to bear the heat, assures refreshing sleep, and will without any doubt avert much sickness at this time of year.
