By falling from the porch while visiting at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hubbard, Mrs. D. A. Critchlow had her left arm broken just above the wrist. Physicians were summoned at once and although exceedingly painful, the fracture will doubtless be fully healed in a few weeks.

The dates for the Oregon State Fair this year are September 16-21, a week later than last year. The time has been changed in order to accommodate the thousands of people who will be in the hop fields before this time, and who will want to take in the greatest fair in the history of the Northwest. The chances of fair weather are also considered better at this time.—Salem Statesman.

Under its new management, the Dallas flour mill has had many valuable improvements added to it within the last two months. Wednesday, Mr. Sweeney received from Portland a new dust collector, which will be installed at once. The dust will be collected and deposited in bins, thus obviating the danger of combustion and explosion, which threatens in mills where the air is always laden with particles of dust.

Preston Richards, of Independence, was examined before Doctors Butler and Parrish, Tuesday, and declared to be insane. Sheriff J. M. Grant was preparing to take him to the State Insane Asylum, when his daughter, Mrs. Bennet, a widow residing in Independence, petitioned to have him given into her care, without expense to the state. Her request was granted, and Mr. Richards was accordingly allowed to remain in Independence.
